NO. 1

GREETING

This issue of the Quarterly marks the beginning of another era in the history of this school. All the State Normal Schools in the Commonwealth at their beginning were the property of stockholders, and to that extent private institutions. On June 29th, 1916, was consummated the transfer of the property to the State of Pennsylvania, represented by the State Board of Education. A higher compliment could hardly have been paid to the Board of Trustees that has managed the institution than was paid when the members of the new Board were all chosen from the body that then terminated its existence. The Alumni are thus assured that the trust was well administered and that no radical change in the policy of the school is to be anticipated. So far as is known no other Board of Trustees has been thus honored.

The first step taken under the new ownership has been a free application, not of whitewash, but of paint, good white lead, to the exterior wood-work and the window caps of all the buildings which has wrought a most pleasing effect. The long porch on the South side of the girls' dormitory has been entirely renewed and fairly shines resplendent in its new coat. The Domestic Science laboratory now occupies the entire north end of the first floor of Science Hall. There is now elbow room for every one that plies the needle. The biological laboratory has been furnished with beautiful cases for specimens in entomology that will greatly promote the acquisition of real knowledge in that subject. One will go far to find a finer equipment in this respect either as to its beauty or its utility. Room M, dear to every student of Pedagogy, has been tastefully renovated.

Cupid and the department of Art may be supposed to have similar aims, but Dan struck a severe blow at this co-adjutor when Miss Virginia McQuiston pierced to the heart, was no more. She is now Mrs. J. R. Morris, of 706 Market St., Wilmington, Del. The school, however, did not lose heart. Miss Lucy M. Shover was engaged, a graduate of the school of Art from which Miss McQuiston came, and will hold up the same high standards.

Filial duty occasioned the resignation of Miss Swartz, to the regret of the friends of the school. In the department of English, her fine preparation, her unflagging fidelity, and high ideals made her a teacher whose work counted for much in the training of her pupils. Her influence outside of the class room was strong in the interests of character building and of evangelical religion. Miss Gladys E. Teele, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, has taken up the work formerly in the hands of Miss Swartz.

French is now again regularly offered as an optional study in place of Latin or German. Prof. G. Edward Elwell, Jr., who taught this language so successfully three years ago, and who had special students when the school did not offer the option, is again a regular member of our teaching corps and already has large classes.

Miss Fiske, after two years of phenomenal success in the department of Expression, having unexpectedly resigned, to pursue special work, has been succeeded by Miss Jean MacDonald, who also is a graduate of Emerson.

Miss Jessie L. Freas who dignified the position of trained nurse by the rare good sense, the fidelity and ability manifested at all times, succumbed to the attacks of Cupid, and is now Mrs. Koons. The really wonderful health of the students last winter when the town had a very wide spread epidemic of measles was due in no small degree to the professional work of Miss Freas. Her mantle has fallen upon Mrs. Theresa Hehl Holmes, a graduate from the training school of the Bloomsburg Hospital.

Mr. Kimber Kuster, 1912, as assistant in Biology has succeeded Mr. Dieffenbach, who has entered the University of Oklahoma.

The school year opened with an attendance a little below that of last year so far as day scholars are concerned, due in part probably to the quarantine, because they have since been coming in freely. The most marked feature in attendance is the large increase in the number of young men.

The students are all now enjoying the annual receptions by the several churches.

PHILO.

The work in Philo continues to advance. The number of active members at the close of the school year in June, nineteen hundred and sixteen, was one hundred forty-five. The society looks forward to a very prosperous year, one hundred eighty active members having been received at the beginning of the school year.

The spirit in general is excellent; competent officers are in charge, each performing his duties creditably. The committees have begun their work zealously. The new members have shown interest in the work by taking active part in the discussions and program work.

An inter-society debate between Philo. and Callie. has been arranged.

A reception was tendered the new members; an excellent program was rendered and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

The annual reunion to be held on Thanksgiving will be the fiftieth anniversary of the society, and is expected to be the best reunion the society has ever had. A most cordial invitation is extended to all. An excellent drama will be presented in the evening by a competent cast picked from the members of the society, ably coached by Miss MacDonald, who is head of the Elocution department.

CALLIE.

The Callie. Society is progressing very nicely. A large number of new members have been taken in this year. Most of the new members have shown that they have the talent, all they need is to be given a chance.

Each Saturday night the Society meets and the members render a program that does credit to them, to the Society, and to the school. Those taking an active part receive much benefit as well as furnish entertainment for the others.

Taking all things into consideration the society looks forward to a most successful year.

Y. M. C. A.

The prospects for this year are very encouraging. Altho we miss those of last year's class we hope that the new fellows will gradually be able to take the places of those who left us. The attendance of the fellows at Prayer Meeting is much larger than usual. This is a good sign.

Last June we sent three delegates to the Northfield Student Conference at Northfield, Massachusetts. We hope that the inspiration which they got may be given to some extent at least to the entire student body.

Last spring we started a class in Teacher Training for the Sunday School. Under the leadership of Prof. Bakeless this class is making excellent progress. Thus we are preparing ourselves not merely to be teachers of school subjects but teachers who know something of the life of the Great Teacher and who are willing to put some of His teaching into ours.

We expect to begin our deputization work before long. We hope to accomplish much this year along this rather new line of activity. We are impressed with the great needs of humanity everywhere. And those of us who do not help to alleviate these needs are not making the most of life.

The new members of the school were most royally and pleasantly welcomed by the reception given in their honor, by the Social Committee. The entertainment provided was such that everyone present was drawn into the fun. So pleasing was the evening that the new students forgot to be homesick and felt just as much at home here as did those who have been here for years.

The school year has certainly opened with pleasing prospects for the work of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Miss Snell, a student volunteer secretary, has given an impetus to the work of the Missionary Committee. The Bible Study Committee by way of a surprise is planning for a farther reaching work among our students than last year. One of the new features of the Social Service work is the Sunday afternoon cottage prayer meetings held among the shut-ins of the town.

The Eaglesmere delegation is planning to give its report in the form of a pantomime; in order that they may make clear to the student body the place that the Young Women's Christian Association holds in the life of the womanhood of the world. They also hope in this way to arouse a greater interest in the Summer Conference.

Athletics

"You never know your luck," is the fetching title of a modern novel. It might well be applied to the teams of schools such as ours where the composition of the athletic teams is strictly made up of those who chance to come to school to fit themselves for their chosen work. It would possibly be better to say choice on the part of the student, chance with respect to the make-up of the team.

Last year's graduating class carried with it the lion's share of the school's athletic material. The glooms said it was all over. The first two foot ball games of the season seemed to confirm the diagnosis. But they ignored the fact that Bucknell University and Muhlenburg College are not in our class and that a good walloping was to be expected. We got it in each case, but our boys gained more knowledge of foot-ball than they could have done by being chased up and down the field for a whole season by inferior teams.

Note the difference when they stepped back into their own class. Susquehanna Reserves were beaten by the score of 21-0, while Millersville Normal School suffered a defeat by the unusual score of 67-0.

The team is fast rounding into shape. Twenty-five or more candidates are in uniform nearly every evening. A good spirit prevails and the team looks very promising indeed. We look for some more well played games and a string of victories.

Captain Hodgson is a live-wire and instills life and spirit into every play. The plays are run off with a snap and dash which is very encouraging to followers of the team, while the interference is as good as we have seen for a long time.

The Millersville Normal School game line-up follows:

Alumni

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

Miss M. C. Sutphen, who was the preceptress at the Normal School for some time, is teaching Latin in the Staten Island Academy and enjoys her work there greatly.

'70, Rupert, Eva, spent the greater part of her summer vacation at her former home in Bloomsburg. She teaches in a school at Albemarle, N. C.

'78, Evans, L. Wallace, is a prosperous merchant of Galveston, Texas. He and his wife were warmly greeted on a recent visit to his old home in Bloomsburg this summer.

'81, Simpson, F. Stoddard, and ex-congressman Arthur R. Rupley have formed a law co-partnership with offices at 204 Calder Building, Harrisburg, Pa., under the firm name of Rupley and Simpson.

Bloom, William E., an attorney at Sunbury, Pa., died at his home in that place September 21st from uremic poisoning following a short illness. He had one of the largest Orphans' Court practices in Northumberland county and was well known. He leaves a widow and two sons, Byron and Herman.

'82, Moore, Dr. E. J., State Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League, with headquarters in Philadelphia, has resigned his position to become assistant general superintendent of the National Organization. Dr. Moore resigned the pastorate of a large church in Northern Ohio to accept the duties of district superintendent of the Ohio State league and devoted fifteen years to the work. His work in Pennsylvania has been very successful. During his administration the league has succeeded in paying all debts and accumulating a balance. His wife Lue M. Crippen, '82, is an efficient helper in his work.

'83, Hutchison (Dillon) Louise, died at her home in Bloomsburg the morning of July 25. A pressure on the brain was the direct cause of her death but this was preceded by hardening of the glands of the neck. Her illness dates back several years. Her husband died in October, 1906, and since then she has managed the extensive greenhouses in Bloomsburg and was considered one of this section's most successful business women. The funeral was largely attended at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Thursday, July 27. The services were conducted by Rev. Frederic O. Musser.

'85, McNiff, M. Katharine. We clip the following from the Harrisburg Patriot, October 18th:

Miss Mary Katharine McNiff, a member of the Central High school faculty, was the recipient of several bouquets of flowers and many messages of congratulation yesterday when she received her master of arts degree from the Columbia University. Miss McNiff is also the possessor of the degrees of M. E. and M. S. which were given her by Bloomsburg Normal school, and the degree of Pr. B. which she received from the University of Chicago.

'85, Hess (Yutzy) Christine C., is a teacher of Latin, English and History in the Normal and Industrial Institute located at Salisbury, N. C.

'91, John, E. Barton, (C. P.) Superintendent of Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with headquarters at Wilmington, recently visited Bloomsburg and spent a few days with his mother and other relatives and friends.

'91, Glick, Reuben J., was married Thursday, August 3rd, to Miss Mazie Gearhart, of Shamokin, by Rev. J. W. Gilland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of that city. Mr. Glick is an attorney-at-law and at present is solicitor of Shamokin.

'93, O'Donnell, John J., is a lawyer in Wilkes-Barre. For nearly two years he has been the county assessor and receives therefor a very comfortable salary. Only three counties in the State have this law, Philadelphia, Allegheny and Luzerne. He successfully managed the campaigns of S. J. Strauss and J. B. Woodward for the offices of Judges of Luzerne county courts.

'94, Thomas, J. J., is principal of school in Hazleton.

'96, Robins (Bear) Selena A. We clip the following from a Harrisburg paper:

Mrs. Selena A. Bear, wife of Charles A. Bear, 217 Peffer street, died at the Keystone hospital after a short illness. Mrs. Bear was graduated from the Harrisburg High school in 1894 and from the Bloomsburg State Normal school in 1896. She then taught school in the Allison building for four years.

Funeral services were held at the home of her mother, Mrs.

C. L. Robins, 2016 Green street, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Rev. B. H. Hart, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, officiating. Mrs. Bear leaves her husband, a daughter, Romayne Selena, her mother and the following brothers and sisters: Edmund St. Clair Robins, C. R. Robins, of this city; C. L. Robins, of New York; Mrs. Marie Thomas, Mrs. Helene Fleming and Miss Anna Robins. Interment was made in East Harrisburg cemetery.

'04, Dollman, Rev. Harry (C. P.) is now stationed at El Paso, Texas, where he went as chaplain of the Fourth Infantry, Third Brigade, when the call came, leaving his parish at Pine Grove and a wife and seven-months-old babe behind.

In a card received here early in August, he wrote that the heat that day was 120 degrees in the shade, with nothing but sand and sage brush in sight, but with the air fine. He was feeling exceptionally well, he stated, and liked the life. At his service the Sunday before, he stated, he had 1,500 men in attendance.

'04, Henrie, H. Claire (C. P.) was married at Bisbee, Arizona, Sept. 22, to Miss Nina L. Halbert. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother. They passed several days in Bloomsburg when on their wedding trip. Mr. Henrie has been engaged for several years as chief chemist and metallurgist for the Copper Queen Mining Company. They are at home at Warren, Arizona.

'05, Beckley (Lewis) Wini-fied (Sp. C.) is the very happy mother of a daughter born recently.

'05. The following notice dated Millville, N. J., Oct. 21, appeared in Philadelphia Inquirer:

The wedding of Professor Warren N. Drum, city superintendent of Millville public schools, to Miss Edith Leonard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Zenas L. Leonard, of Pittsfield, Mass., took place at 5:30 o'clock this evening in St. Ignatius' Church, New York city. A reception followed the wedding at Bretton Hall, New York city, after which Professor and Mrs. Drum left for a wedding trip to Old Point Comfort. They will reside here on their return, on November 1.

'05, Ditzler, Anna A., was married in Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, Pa., Wednesday, June 28th, to William T. Brundick, of Cumberland, Md. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Irvin S. Ditzler, brother of the bride, assisted by another brother, Rev. John A. Ditzler, of Frederick, Md. The wedding was a very elaborate affair. They are at home at No. 2, Altamont Terrace, Cumberland, Md.

'06, Thompson, Marie, died in Hazleton, Pa., September 28, after an illness of two weeks.

Dietrick, Elwell P., was married recently to Miss Mabel Trethaway, of Parsons, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Wilbur, pastor of the Abbott M. E. church in Parsons, at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of only immediate relatives. They will reside at 1515 Vine street, Scranton, where they will be at home after November 15.

'07, Lazarus, Edwin, is an instructor in the Meriden, Conn., high school.

'07, Evans, Elizabeth P., was married at the home of her parents, 1211 Washburn street, Scranton (Hyde Park) Pa., September 19, 1916, to Mr. Walter T. Wilkins, teller at the Dime bank. A large picture of the bride in bridal costume appeared in the Scranton Republican Wednesday, Sept. 20th. Mrs. Wilkins taught for a number of years in the Scranton schools and was very popular with pupils and patrons.

'08, Morgan (Stein) Laura W., lives at Woodbury, N. J. Recently one of her two sons was stricken with infantile paralysis and was seriously ill for some time. At this writing the child has improved wonderfully and the doctors feel confident of ultimate recovery.

'09, Bierman (Somerville) Ethel, is the very proud mother of a son born the first week in September. Mr. and Mrs. Somerville reside in Cumberland, Md.

'09, Mather, Thomas Ray. We clip the following from a local paper: The engagement of Thomas Ray Mather and Miss Grace Evalyn Hutchins, of Boston, Mass., was recently announced. The wedding will take place this winter. Mr. Mather will again teach this winter in the Meadville Theological School, where he has the chair of English and History.

'10, Gulick, Elizabeth, was married September 27th to Mr. Raymond Stele, of Duncannon. The wedding was solemnized on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents in Rush township, Northumberland county. Rev. Geo. Johnson, pastor of the Duncannon Presbyterian church, officiated.

'10, Yost, Lois I., was married August 2, to Rev. H. G. Weston Smith, of Ridgeway Park, N. J., formerly a resident of Bloomsburg and a graduate of the local high school. The wedding took place in the Reformed church of Bloomsburg. Rev. G. R. Smith, father of the groom, of Malvern, Pa., officiated, assisted by Rev. P. H. Hoover, pastor of the church. Mr. Smith is pastor of the Baptist Church at Ridgeway Park, N. J., and the couple will reside in that place.

'10, Laubach, Vivian Z., is teaching stenography and type-writing in the Bloomsburg high school. While a student at the Normal School she was enabled to take stenography and type-writing in addition to the regular studies of the course, and received credit on her Normal certificate.

'11, Ikeler, Donald, begins his work this fall as an instructor in the college at Gettysburg.

'11, Snyder, Irene, was married August 2nd, to Dayton L. Ranck, who is for the present employed by the Berwick Store Company. The wedding took place at the parsonage of the First Methodist church, Chambersburg, Pa. Rev. J. Howard Ake, former pastor of the Berwick M. E. church, officiated. The groom is a graduate, class of 1916, of Bucknell University. They are at home to their friends at 335 East Tenth street, Berwick.

'11, Harrison, Jennie Elizabeth. A remarkably pretty outdoor wedding took place on Thursday, Aug. 3rd, at the home of Prof. T. B. Harrison, of Town Line, when his daughter, Jennie Elizabeth, became the bride of Mr. Karl Elton Keefer, of Wilkes-Barre. The ceremony took place on the spacious lawn of the family residence, amid a bower of evergreens, ground-pine ferns and yellow daisies.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of crepe meteor, combined with white Georgette crepe, finished with iridescent shell-trimming from Ceylon. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary M. Harrison, as maid of honor, and by her little nieces Edith C. Harrison, of Hazleton, and Charlotte E. Chambers, of Ardmore, as flower-girls.

The maid of honor looked charming in a gown of maize-colored crepe de chine and taffeta, trimmed with white Georgette crepe and pearls. The little flower-girls, in hand-embroidered white dresses, carried baskets, filled with "Black-eyed Susans" and ground-pine.

Mr. Keefer was attended by his cousin, Mr. Charles Campbell, of Brooklyn, as best man.

Rev. Thomas Ripple, of Berwick, officiated, assisted by Rev. E. L. Santee, of Scranton, and Rev. F. E. Hartman, of Port Royal.

After the ceremony, which took place at high noon, a wedding breakfast was served to about eighty guests, including friends from Wilkes-Barre, Plymouth, Scranton, Hazleton, Williamsport, New York and Philadelphia. The bride is a daughter of ex-county Supt. Harrison, and is well known to B. S. N. S. students, being a graduate of the class of 1911. Mrs. Keefer taught two years in the country, near her home. The last three years she taught in the public schools at Wayne, near Philadelphia.

The groom is a graduate of Wilkes-Barre High School, and also of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania. He has held a responsible position with the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. for several years.

After a trip, including visits to the "Shore," and mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Keefer will be at home to their friends at 210 Parrish St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

'11, Geddis, Paul M., and Miss Irma Miller, of Montgomery, were wedded at the home of the bride's parents, Saturday, Sept. 2nd.

'11, Rice, Myrtle A., was married Thursday evening, Oct. 19, to Charles Elmer Singley, of Titusville, Pa. The ceremony was solemnized in the parsonage of the Reformed church at Ringtown by the bride's pastor, Rev. C. D. Lerch.

'12, Hess, Esther. The engagement of Miss Hess to E. Austin Pettit, of Salem, N. J., has been announced.

'13, Keiter, Leslie, (Sp. C.) died in Lebanon, Pa., Aug. 4th. He was assisting his father, George H. Keiter, '94, who is a foreman on a big road construction in Lebanon. He was stricken suddenly in the midst of his duties.

'13, Smith, Gertrude Mae, and Dr. Walter G. Parker were married Saturday evening, Sept. 16, in the Waverly Baptist church. The bridesmaids were Misses Eda Miller, '14, Mary Corrigan, '14, Bessie Butler and Mabel Shuman, '13. Mr. Leerea White, '13, was one of the ushers. A reception was held at the home of the bride's father, William Smith, superintendent of the Scranton Lace Company. After an extended bridal tour they will make their home at Clark's Green. Dr. Parker is a veterinarian, a graduate of the veterinary school of University of Penna.

'13, Heacock, Mary E., is teaching near Birdsboro, Bucks county.

'13, O'Donnell, Ray, and Daniel J. Carr, '11, have matriculated as students at the University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind. They are greatly enjoying their work, and are very much interested in the Normal School.

'13, Crossley, Margaret, after three years' teaching in Pennsylvania, has crossed the border into New Jersey and is teaching at Neshanie Station. She says there are ten Bloomsburg graduates teaching in Somerset Co.

'15, Parks, Helen M., after spending the summer with her parents in Bloomsburg has returned to Tuskegee, Alabama, where she will resume her work as a teacher in the Booker T. Washington Normal and Industrial Institute.

'15, Ratchford, Alice M., of Shenandoah, is supervisor of Drawing in the Girardville schools.

'16, Jones, Richard D., secured admission to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. He attributes, in large measure, his success to his training at the Normal School.

'96, Terwilliger, Minnie, married Oct. 21st. From The Morning Press we clip the following:

In a quiet home ceremony, Miss Minnie Terwilliger on Saturday afternoon became the bride of Robert D. Young, formerly of town and now of Harrisburg.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. O. Musser, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. M. Terwilliger, of West Main street, in the presence of only the immediate family of the bride.

The bride, a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School and Bloomsburg State Normal School, has for a number of years been engaged as teacher in the public schools of Bloomsburg, and is one of Bloomsburg's most estimable young ladies. The groom likewise counts his friends by the hundreds and has for years been one of Bloomsburg's best liked men. In his younger days he was a noted Normal athlete and a member of some of the fastest base ball and basket ball teams Normal ever turned out. He was for years employed at the Paul E. Wirt pen factory, but for the last year and a half has been employed in the Department of Labor and Industry, as safety expert for the Department. There, his work has been exceptionally successful and he ranks as one of the best experts on "Safety First" in the Department's service.

'15, Neifert, Grace. Her engagement to Mr. John Giles, of Illinois, was announced July 22nd.

The Hazleton people have a reunion picnic in Hazle Park for the members of the five latest classes annually on the first Saturday in August.

It was attended this year by Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hartline as representatives from the Alma Mater's Faculty. Appreciation of this official recognition of the very happy function was expressed by many and in very cordial terms, as was the hope that others of the Faculty would accept the invitations regularly sent them. The sweet friendliness, the warm affection for the school, the splendid loyalty to her interests were as deeply appreciated by Mr. and Mrs. Hartline.

SCHUYLKILL COUNTY ALUMNI MEETING.

A very informal yet very delightful meeting of the Schuylkill Co. Alumni was held Tuesday, Oct. 17.

Fifty-three teachers were present, and many classes from 1880 down to 1916 were represented. Prof. C. H. Albert of the school faculty met with this jolly crowd of loyal Alumni.

An organization was effected with Rich'd McHale as President and Miss Anna Curtin as Secty-Treas.

It was decided that for the 1917 meeting a formal banquet would be arranged for and the unanimous wish was expressed that a considerable number of the faculty might attend.

Montrose meeting of Alumni Assn., held Oct. 18th, was a most delightful event.

Nov. 2, Thursday evening, Wilkes-Barre.

Week of Nov. 13—Harrisburg, Tunkhannock, Honesdale.

Week of Nov. 22—Lewistown.

Week of Dec. 4—Middlesburg.

Week of Dec. 18—Danville, Sunbury.

The time for the Lackawanna County Alumni Association meeting has not yet been agreed upon.

The attendance of boarders is slightly larger than it was last year at this time, and the school spirit never was better. The chief addition to the library thus far this year has been that of the full sized standard latest edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica in half Morocco. Though involving an expenditure of considerably more than two hundred dollars it was so greatly needed by various departments that the school as well as the library has been enriched thereby.

At a meeting of the Normal School Principals in the latter part of December last, the following changes, to take effect immediately, were made in the course of study.

Students having studied a foreign language four years, and continuing the study of it upon passing successfully the examination in the supplementary work may receive credit for the four years' work without further examination.

Book-keeping is dropped from the course.

Zoology is made a branch of the Second Year, and is therefore no longer a subject of examination by the State Board.

Death of Dr. Hugh A. Curran.

The QUARTERLY chronicles with regret the passing away at the home of his son-in-law, President Morgan of Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., on January 3, 1917, of Dr. Hugh A. Curran, for fifteen years a member of the Faculty of this school, in the 79th year of his age. Professor Curran was a graduate of Dickinson College and was elected to the Chair of Modern Languages and Natural Sciences here in 1877. Eight years afterward, under a reorganization of the departments, he became Professor of Ancient and Modern Languages which position he held at the time of his resignation. For nearly all of his subsequent active life he was connected with Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Md. Professor Curran was of a retiring disposition, a Christian gentleman in all the relations of life. As a scholar he did not belong to the modern type of instructors versed in a single branch of learning. His scholarship was both broad and accurate, as was evinced by the ease with which he privately prepared students in all departments for the Junior Year in the Arts Course in College, yet his modesty well nigh concealed it.

May this school ever continue to have men of the high character and fine scholarship of Dr. Hugh A. Curran. Thru the QUARTERLY the school extends its sympathy to his family.

The Literary Societies

Philo.

Philo is still on the list of the progressives. The larger share of the new students have been taken into its work. The work has been excellent, due to the part taken by the new people along with those better acquainted, in programs, business and committee features.

The distinctive features of last term's work were the exercises of the Reunion, our Fiftieth Anniversary held Thanksgiving Day. The day began with the annual open meeting. There was a fine program, with Dr. Waller making the address. It was the Society's history, showing its origin, purpose and growth, commending the work of the present and telling of the good from its service.

This was followed by the afternoon gathering at the Gym. Many older members were greeted here. Dancing and refreshments were part of this feature.

The evening saw the climax of the effort of the Fall, in the form of the drama. The play, "Mice and Men," was well rendered and showed the hard work done by the cast and the instructor. There was a large and appreciative audience and the rendition was fine, considered in every way a success.

The Society is busy with regular programs which are of high caliber. The preparation of the Inter-Society Debate is of much interest.

Philo extends its greetings to its former members and acquaintances.

Callie.

Callie is in a flourishing condition. The attendance of the members at the weekly meetings is much larger than usual. The new members are taking an active part in the business meetings as well as the private programs. This is a good sign.

A public program was recently given by the Society. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

A series of public debates between

Philo and Callie have been arranged for. Callie's debating team has been selected and is hard at work. Much good is expected to be derived from these debates. Private debates are also being held at the weekly meetings. These debates are of great benefit to those taking part.

The annual Reunion will be held the 24th of February. We expect this to be the best Reunion Society has ever held. A cordial invitation is given to all. "Quality Street," an excellent drama will be given in the evening by a cast selected from members of the Society. Miss MacDonald, who is head of the Department of Elocution is ably coaching the cast. We are confident that this drama will be the best ever given in the Normal Auditorium.

Summing up the events so far this year, the outlook for the remainder of the year is very promising.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is in a prospering condition. The attendance at the prayer meetings is very encouraging.

In November Allen Cromis and John Vavolo were sent as delegates to the Missionary Conference at Princeton. They gave us a very good report of the conference.

We enjoyed cooperating with the Y. W. C. A. in social work at Thanksgiving and at Christmas time. The young men who contributed money, as well as those who carried flour and other provisions or took them on a wheelbarrow to the remote sections of the town, will never forget this privilege, for it is a privilege as well as a duty to help the needy.

With the cooperation of the Y. W. C. A. a fund of one hundred and thirty dollars was raised for the relief of prisoners in Europe.

A joint Mission Study Class composed of members of the Y. W. C. A. and of the Y. M. C. A. has been organized this year. This class is studying "South American Neighbors."

The Deputation Work which was begun last year is progressing very well. The meetings bring inspiration and help to the communities where they are held.

Y. W. C. A.

One of the most encouraging features of the Y. W. C. A. work this year is the little morning watch which has been so well attended by the girls who desire to start each new day in quiet prayer, one with the other. Those in attendance feel the help given to their daily lives in this early morning communion.

The girls of the school were brought into closer touch with the Eagle's Mere spirit by a pageant, given during the fall term. It consisted of Eagle's Mere scenes, various phases of the association work, such as the classes of people reached and the kind of activities in which it engages, and a world's rally showing the countries in which the organization is represented. The pageant closed with a scene representing the spirit of the Association, which brot to the girls the message of love, light and life.

A Christmas Bazaar was held in the gymnasium for the purpose of raising money for the conference fund. Candy, ice cream, fancy work, and notions were sold at the different booths which were arranged to carry out the holiday spirit.

The students at Bloomsburg believe in doing and not dreaming merely, so at Christmas time they entertained as their guests in the gymnasium some of their little friends from the town who would not otherwise have seen Christmas joys. Santa was there in all his glory and gave generously from his pack to each little guest. There was merry making around the Christmas tree, and happy, eager faces gathered about the table when refreshment time came. As the sleds bore them homeward a bit of true Christmas spirit went out from our lives into the homes from which the little ones had come, leaving us with the assurance "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

'70, Burrows, Alvin S., died at Grand Forks, North Dakota, December 21, 1916. He was for many years Superintendent of Schools of Union County, and on a number of occasions served very efficiently as a member of the State Examining Board at the Normal School.

In 1882 he went to North Dakota, then a territory, and in 1886 located at Grand Forks and resided there until his death. He entered actively into civic life and played a prominent part in bringing about many improvements. His interest continued in educational circles and for some time was a member of the local school board. Later he became affiliated with the board of trustees of Wesley College and at the time of his death was vice president of the board. His funeral was held Sunday, December 24, at which an appreciative memorial address was delivered by Dr. E. P. Robertson, president of Wesley College.

Mr. Burrows had impressed himself upon the community in which he resided. "He has gone to his rest leaving behind him the record of a life well lived and a work worthily done."

'75, Evans, Lorena, who for thirty-four years ably filled her position as teacher of Mathematics and German in the Harrisburg High School, voluntarily retired at the close of the year greatly to the regret of the pupils, the teachers and the school authorities. Her present address is 339 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

'75, Millard, Anna, (sp. c.) a widely known resident of Willow Grove, Col. Co., died at her home November 13, after a lengthy illness of tuberculosis. She was a teacher for years of the school above Willow Grove and was prominently identified with the religious and social activities of the community.

'75, Kuhn (Bittenbender) Alveretta, (piano-forte) died in Washington, D. C., Saturday, January 27, following a year's illness of anemia, aged sixty years. She is survived by her husband, J. K. Bittenbender, '74, two sons and a daughter. Interment in Washington.

'76, Wilson, Laura (sp. c.) died in Scranton, Pa., December 14th. The body was brought to Bloomsburg and buried in Rosemont Cemetery. We do not have any particulars of her illness and death.

'77, Bennett, Robert G. (sp. c.) died at his home in West Pittston after a brief illness, Dec. 14, aged 54 years. He was one of the most prominent and highly respected citizens of West Pittston.

'79, Pursel, Georgia, died at her home in Bloomsburg, December 15. For the last three or four years she has been in ill health but it was not until last June that her condition became such that she was unable to follow her work as book-keeper in the store of her brother to which she was devoted. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church for years. The funeral was held Dec. 18, conducted by her pastor, Rev. S. C. Dickson, assisted by Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr. Interment in Rosemont Cemetery.

'84, Wharton, Samuel N. (sp. c.) died in Altoona, November 7, of an affection of the heart after an illness of several months. He had resided in Altoona since 1911, but his health being impaired he did not take up his chosen work, photography. His wife, three sons and one daughter survive.

'85, Miller, (Melick) Annie, has received a fine promotion. She has been made State Secretary of the Woman's Branch of the Pennsylvania Division for National Preparedness. A very comfortable salary accompanies the position. She visited Williamsport, Wednesday, January 24, and addressed the Chapter there.

'89, East (Tressler) Fannie, suffered the loss of her husband, Jacob D. Tressler, November 26th, 1916, at their home in Hazleton. The deceased was one of the most widely known men of the region, due to his interest in his fellow men and his work for the cause of christianity. He was buried in Union Cemetery, Conyngham. Besides his widow one daughter survives him.

'93, Kelly, P. A., former instructor in the Commercial Department of the Bloomsburg High School, has gone to Georgetown, Del., where he will assume a like position in the high school of that city.

'94, Patterson, J. Howard, has entered into a partnership with D. Arthur Magaziner and will conduct a law office in the Bailey Building, 1218 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

'94, Hehl, (Buck) Minnie, is spending the winter in San Francisco.

'95, Shuping, W. A., is in the milling business in Salisbury, N. C. Route 3, Rock Roller Mill. He closes the mill two days in the year—4th of July and Christmas.

'96, Smith, Crawford C., now resides at 733 Wyoming Ave., Dorranceton, Pa.

'99, Maue, Harry, died in Hazleton, Saturday, December 23, aged 45 years. We have no further information as to his illness and death.

'99, Reynolds, Bessie, is residing at 2501 Pacific Avenue, (Apt. 10) Atlantic City, N. J. She has not been teaching for four years, but would be glad to re-enter the profession. She has had eight years experience as a primary teacher.

'00, Snyder, Glenmore N., has left the profession of teaching and become the manager of Ludwig and Company's large piano store and salesroom at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where he is a pronounced success. "The Music Trade Indicator" published in Chicago, has an excellent article accompanied by a half-tone picture of Mr. Snyder in the December number. It starts out by saying: "From school teacher to a successful retail piano manager is the record of G. N. Snyder of Ludwig & Company, and Mr. Snyder's career is an interesting one for the young man in the piano business to follow as it shows how talent for selling and the love for the piano brings success." The QUARTERLY rejoices in his success.

'02, Knelly, Sue, a local paper says, has been bequeathed $1000 by Charles J. Braine, a wealthy New York manufacturer whom she nursed during an illness.

'03, Robison, William (sp. c.) died at the Danville Hospital, Sunday afternoon, November 12. During his school and college life he was widely known as a track and foot-ball star, holding many records. Early last spring he suffered a nervous collapse and was compelled to give up his work. His condition grew steadily worse until the end came. He was aged 33 years.

'04, Mead, Adele (sp. c.) is traveling representative of the Uplift Publishing Co., going from place to place engaging local workers. She recently spent three months in Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Finds it enjoyable work. She is secretary—treasurer of the New York City and vicinity Alumni Association.

'04, Kitchen, Mr. and Mrs. (Mabel Parker) Clark E. I. A very dainty card announces: "Marjory Stadon Kitchen—weight $6\frac{3}{4}$ lbs.—October 8, 1916. Rocky Ford, Colo."

'04, Challis, Ann E. Cards have been received announcing the marriage in the City of New York of Miss Challis to Francis Wray Thompson on the 16th of December.

'07, Brobst, Carolyn, was married on Christmas day at Philadelphia to William Stewart of that city where Mr. Stewart is a prominent business man. Miss Brobst has been a successful teacher in the Kingston schools for a number of years. The couple will reside in Philadelphia.

'07, Westbrook, (F t er) Blanche, lives at Ann Arbor, Mich., 309 N. Division St. Her husband is Secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. They have lived there since their marriage in July, 1913. They have a little daughter Emily Katharine. Mrs. Westbrook is greatly interested in the Normal and news from her.

'08, Eshleman (Kitchen) Emma-line. A local paper of Dec. 18th, says: "A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kitchen, at the Bloomsburg Hospital this morning."

'08, Churm, Stella, after two years successful work in the Plymouth High School was elected to a position in the High School of West Pittston where she has charge of the shorthand and typewriting department. She also instructs in penmanship.

'09, Steiner, Samuel J., has resigned his position as principal of the book-keeping and accountancy department of the Wilkes-Barre Business College and has established himself as an auditor and accountant. While connected with the Business College Mr. Steiner has been regularly consulted by many business firms and corporations. His services were required to such an extent that he decided to specialize in the work.

'09, Mather, Thos. Ray, was married Monday, Nov. 27th, to Miss Ruth Evalyn Hutchins at the home of the bride's mother, 47 Front St., Melrose, Mass. Mr. Mather is a professor in the Meadville Theological Seminary, connected with Allegheny University, Meadville, Pa.

'09, Willits, Margaret, died at the home of her mother at Washington, D. C., November 14. Her death was due to a nervous breakdown and was very sudden. She was teaching near Wellsboro, and only a few days before her death had written to a friend in Catawissa making the remark that she was not feeling well, but not indicating that her condition was at all serious. It is presumed that her brother George who went there from Washington saw her condition and took her home. The body was brought to Catawissa for interment.

'10, Hicks, Bruce (sp. c.) has recently been made one of the firm of the Hazle Drug Co.

'10, Dobbs, Mabel (sp. c.) is secretary to Senator E. E. Beidleman at Harrisburg.

'10, Keeler, Charles. Announcement has been made of the birth of a son to Prof. and Mrs. Charles Keeler, 4 Girard College, Phila.

'10, Corse, Edith C. and Ray C. Tingley of Harford, Susquehanna Co., were quietly married at the home of the bride's uncle, L. L. Burdick at Three Lakes, Thursday, Oct. 19, at high noon. Rev. Johnson, pastor of the Harford Congregational Church, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Tingley has been principal of the Lake View School for several years. They reside at Harford.

'10, Box, Harold C., was married July 22, 1916, to Miss Robinson of South Canaan, Wayne Co., by Rev. P. S. Lehman, pastor of the M. E. Church of South Canaan.

'11, Hartman, Louisa, and Earl H. Cortright, '09, (sp. c.) were married at nine o'clock, Thursday morning, Nov. 16, in St. Paul's P. E. Church, Bloomsburg, Pa., by Rev. F. O. Musser, rector of the church. The bride was unattended and was given away in marriage by her father, Mr. W. E. Hartman. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride. The decorations of the bridal table were in pink and white. The bride and groom left on the 10:41 D. L. & W. train for an extended wedding trip to New York and throughout the East. They are at home at their residence in Shickshinny, Pa. The groom, one of Shickshinny's best known young men, is engaged in the mercantile business in that town.

'11, Sharadin, Abraham J., was unanimously elected supervisor of physical education and municipal play grounds, by the board of education of the City of Altoona, Pa. early in December. Mr. Sharadin is exceptionally well qualified for the position having held the position of physical and athletic director at the California Normal School and a similar position in the city high school of Fairmount, W. Va.

'11, Harrison (Keefer) Jennie, resides at 210 Parrish St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa. She is very eager to hear news from B. S. N. S. and its graduates and gladly welcomes the coming of the QUARTERLY.

'11, Nelson, Elna, is attending

Michigan University at Ann Arbor. He expects to be graduated in June. The Normal School has a numerous representation in the University. In an advanced course in Education there are sixteen students enrolled, four of whom are Bloomsburg Alumni.

'11, Donahoe, Margaret, is teaching in Slate Lick, near Freeport, Pa., and is meeting with success.

'11, Hower, Ethel, was married Saturday, Nov. 4th to Mr. Arthur C. Fairchilds of Berwick. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Bloomsburg, Rev. S. C. Dickson officiating. The groom is employed as district superintendent of the Columbia and Montour Electric Co., and is in charge of the Berwick office. He is a graduate of the electrical engineering department of Bucknell University. They reside in Berwick.

Alumni Associations.

LUZERNE COUNTY.

From the Wilkes-Barre Record of Nov. 3 we take the following:

"Over 200 members of the Luzerne County Alumni Association of Bloomsburg Normal School attended the twenty-seventh annual dinner of the association in Hotel Redington last night. It was the most successful and enjoyable affair held by the alumni in many years.

Under the leadership of Henry Reese, the singing of college and popular songs proved to be a feature of the entertainment program, which included solos by Mr. Reese and David J. Williams; duet by Mrs. Leland Pierson and Mrs. J. Fowler Richardson, and a violin solo by Marion L'Hommedieu. Kroll's orchestra accompanied the diners in the singing of the popular songs and also furnished music for dancing.

Attorney Granville J. Clark was toastmaster. Those who spoke of the present flourishing condition of the school and of many new features that have been added to its educational course were Dr. D. J. Waller, president of the school; J. C. Brown, vice president of the board of trustees; William Sutliff and Prof. George E. Wilbur."

WYOMING COUNTY.

The Sixth Annual Banquet was held at Tunkhannock, Pa., Wednesday, November 15th, and was largely attended. Dr. Charles H. O'Neill was toastmaster at the post prandial. Toasts were responded to by Paul E. Snyder, Judge Garman, members of the Faculty present, and others. It was, all in all, a very delightful occasion. The school was represented by Prof. Foote and Miss Good

DAUPHIN COUNTY.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Association of the Alumni of Dauphin County was held on November 16th last at Menger's Suburban Inn, Camp Hill. The high commendation bestowed by the guests upon the committee of arrangements was well deserved for the perfection of their arrangements, as well prandial as post-prandial. Notwithstanding the absence of some upon whom the Association has leaned heavily for many years, the attendance was large, and was marked by enthusiastic loyalty to the school. It was worthy of the county of the Capital City and was greatly enjoyed.

WAYNE COUNTY.

The annual meeting was held November 16. We clip the following from a Honesdale paper:

"Over thirty members of the Wayne County Association of the Bloomsburg Normal School attended the annual banquet at Dodge's hotel last Thursday evening. Profs. George E. Wilbur and J. G. Cope represented the Normal School faculty. It was a most enjoyable and inspiring occasion. Graduates from the schools who have been associated with professional circles in Wayne county for many years, and members of last year's class, present, indicate in a measure the large influence this school has exerted upon the best uplift movements in the county. Short addresses by a number of these were very much enjoyed. Professors Cope and Wilbur brought to the assembled guests renewed assertions of the deep interest the faculty of the school so splendidly extends to its former students at all times. Harold Box of South Canaan, was re-elected president, and Miss Florence Walters of Dreher high school, secretary and treasurer."

MIFFLIN COUNTY.

The following is taken from a Lewistown paper :

"The seventh annual banquet of the Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Association of Mifflin county was held Wednesday, Nov. 29, at the Crystal Cafe, with a large number of the members present. After a social half hour all were invited to participate in a sumptuous turkey dinner prepared by caterer Nichols, to which every one appeared to do full justice.

Normal was represented by Prof. J. G. Cope and Prof. W. B. Sutliff who brought very encouraging reports of the continued success of B. S. N. S.

A short business session was held at which time the following officers were elected for the ensuing year : President, Prof. J. B. Boyer, principal of Milroy schools ; Vice President, Miss Edith Cole, teacher in the Burnham high school ; Secretary, Prof. H. W. Ramer, principal of Burnham schools."

MONTOUR COUNTY.

Extract from local paper Nov. 20th.

"The Annual Banquet of the Montour County Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Normal School was held last evening at the Montour House, with covers laid for forty.

Normal pennants and the American flag were prominent in the decorations and the place cards were in the Normal colors.

Fred W. Diehl, a member of the Danville High School faculty, presided happily as toastmaster and there were responses by Dr. Byron King and Dr. C. B. Robertson, instructors and guests of honor. Vocal solos by Ted R. Griffiths and Miss Olive Miller and a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Worman added to the pleasure of the evening.

The normal faculty was represented by Prof. Sutliff, Prof. Cope, Prof. Cressman, Miss Shover, Miss McQuiston and Miss Schools.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY.

The Northumberland County Alumni Association of B. S. N. S., held a very pleasant banquet at the Palace of Sweets December 21, with about fifty present. Prof. Foote from the Normal told of the many new improvements that have been added each year. The spirit prevailing thruout the banquet was high for the Alma Mater. Addresses were given by Supt. Mauser of Northd Co., Mr. Thomas Shannon, Principal Myron Geddis of Northumberland, Prof. DeWire of Milton and Ex-County Supt. Apple of Sunbury. The same officers were re-elected. Pres. Ex-Supt. Apple, Secretary, Ruth Nicely.

Again THE QUARTERLY salutes its readers as it marks the progress of the school thru three-quarters of another school year. As the changes have been rung upon "preparedness"—we used to call it prearrangement when the Japanese were our teachers,—upon "team-work"—we used to call it co-operation,—upon "conscription" or "selective service,"—we used to call it drafting,—the school has continued the practice of these principles as you did when you were in the midst of the complex school life here. Furthermore, the H. C. L. has impressed upon us ideas of thrift and economy so that even the contents of the waste paper baskets are made to contribute to the liquidation of debts. Even then, to enable the school to preserve its standards of living it became necessary to add fifty cents per week to the charge for room, boarding, laundry work, light, heat and fuel, or twenty dollars per year, making the annual charge two hundred instead of one hundred and eighty; the change to go into effect in September next.

The Literary Societies

PHILO.

We are glad of this opportunity to tell the "old" Philo of the work which we are doing.

The business meetings are well attended and are enlivened by the active part taken by the members in the discussions that come before the society. Much important business is being taken up at the business meetings.

The society bought a number of books this term that have been placed in the library. The books are very interesting and are being enjoyed by the students.

A mock faculty meeting was held in Philo Hall, March 31. Callie Society attended. Several members of the faculty were also present. The impersonations were enjoyed by all. The impersonation of Prof. Teel by Rose Monaghan was very well done.

A public program is being arranged and will be given in a week or two.

ficers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Hugh Boyle; Vice Pres., Ella Baden; Rec. Sec., Margaret Cox; Cor. Sec., Claire Gift; Asst. Rec. Sec., Rebecca Hill; Treasurer, Harry Derr; Reg., Geo. Bednarek; Marshal, Daniel Bavo-lack; Asst. Marshal, Clarence Hodgeson.

CALLIE.

We are glad to inform the Cal-lepian Alumni of some of the ac-tivities of the Society. Probably most of them are more interested in the reunion than in any other procedure of the Society, so we shall deal with that almost entirely.

The forty-third reunion was held on Saturday, February 24th, and was a success both socially and financially.

A fine program was given in Cal-lie hall at ten o'clock, and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent in the gymnasium. At night in chap-el, under the excellent supervision of Miss McDonald, the drama, "Quality Street," was rendered by a very efficient cast

Our private programs have been very good during the entire year, consisting mostly of well prepared literary and musical numbers.

One of the best achievements of the year was the organization of a male octet, which, under the direc-tion of Miss Rich, has given many selections both in Society and in outside functions.

Everyone is working in harmony, and as we draw toward the close of the year, we can look back upon a year of splendid business and liter-ary achievement.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is in a very prospering condition. At the be-ginning of the spring term the new officers took up their duties and are looking forward to a very success-ful year. The attendance at prayer meeting is larger than usual, which is very encouraging.

The Senior class honors have been awarded and of the three boys who received honors, all are active work-ers of the Y. M. C. A. It pays to serve the Lord.

At the beginning of the term we had a basket ball game between the Faculty and the Y. M. C. A. The Faculty won in a very close and exciting game. The attendance was good.

We expect to send a delegate to the President's Conference at Leb-anon Valley College, Annville, dur-ing the latter part of this month.

During the great world war we realize the needs of humanity every-where, a knowledge of God and peace with Him. To supply these needs we will soon begin our depu-tation work. In John 16: 33 we find these blessed words of encour-agement: These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation : but be of good cheer ; I have overcome the world.

Y. W. C. A.

1. Miss Ruth Lee Pearson, the Pennsylvania State Student Secretary, visited with us from March 2nd to March 5th. A reception was given in her honor on the evening of March 3rd in the Girls' Recreation Room.

2. The new Cabinet for the year of 1917-18 has been elected : Pres., Edwira Wieland ; V. Pres., Florence Hess ; Sec., Mary Powell ; Treas., Freda Snyder ; Ch. of Bible Study Comm., Jessie Creasy ; Ch. of Devotional Comm., Olive Robinson ; Ch. of Mission Study Comm., Rachel Miles ; Ch. of Information Comm., Louise Adams ; Ch. of Social Service Comm., Miss Hinckley ; Ch. of Social Comm., Helen Lord ; Ch. of Music Comm., Criddie Edwards.

3. The Social Service Committee is making plans for making the Red Cross Relief work a part of the Spring Term program. This work will be done in connection with the eight week club work under the supervision of Miss Hinckley and other capable instructors.

4. Plans are being made for sending a large delegation to the conference at Eagles Mere. We had an especially good representation last year, and the girls gave excellent reports of the work seen and done there. Many girls have become enthused with the spirit of the Conference by the pleasant, tactful way in which the delegates have told of Eagles Mere.

This year we hope if it is at all possible, to bring a more brilliant light of Y. W. C. A. knowledge and a deeper, truer spirit of communion with our Maker, from the hill-top.

NORMAL LOST TO SUSQUEHANNA.

Bloomsburg Normal opened its baseball season April 18, and while the team went down to defeat at the hands of Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove by the score of 11-4, the game was a good one after the first inning.

Normal went into the game with little preparation. Before vacation it was too cold for practice and the members of the team were back only a day before they went into the game. Those who saw the game are satisfied that before the season is far along Normal will be giving a good account of herself.

The Susquehanna team is exceptionally fast this year. The game was well umpired and the treatment of the Normal team was fine. The score :

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No 203.

'85, Hess (Yutzy) Christine is a teacher and nurse in the Salisbury, N. C. Normal and Industrial Institute and is greatly pleased with her work. The School goes into a fine new building next year.

'85, Bidleman, H. Howard died recently at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y. of pneumonia. His body was brought to his old home town, Bloomsburg, and interment was made in Rosemount Cemetery Tuesday, April 24. He was a teacher in the schools of Brooklyn. He at one time conducted a book store in Scranton. His immediate survivors are his wife and son Frederic, and several brothers and sisters. After graduation in the Normal Course he took post-graduate work in the school, graduating in the Academic Course in 1888.

'85, Miller (Melick) Annie. A local paper March 5 has the following:

B. S. N. S. QUARTERLY,

OF THE SIXTH DISTRICT,
BLOOMSBURG, PA.

MRS. ELMER E. MELICK GREATLY HONORED.

Sunday's Philadelphia Inquirer had the following to say about Mrs. Elmer Melick, daughter of our townsman, Charles W. Miller:

Mrs. Elmer E. Melick, one of the most prominent clubwomen in this State and the Country, and a leader in the preparedness movement, has assumed charge of new activities. As a result of the extension of the work of the Pennsylvania Women's Division for National Preparedness of the American Red Cross, of which Mrs. Melick is secretary, new fields of labor have been opened to her.

Mrs. Melick also is a leading figure in various organizations which have been taking an active interest in civic affairs. Her home is in Media, Delaware county.

Besides the above article, they had a very good picture of Mrs. Melick. It goes without saying that her many friends in Bloomsburg and vicinity are glad to see that she is being appreciated.

'87, Yetter, Orval H. died of pneumonia at his home in Bloomsburg, February 16, 1917, after a brief illness. He had taught in Mifflin township, Market Street Building in Berwick, and in Catawissa. In 1896 he came to Bloomsburg as instructor in music to which his life work has since been devoted. He was for years leader of the choir in the Methodist Church, and director of the Commandery Quartette, and of Caldwell Consistory Choir, in fact he has been the dominant figure in the musical life of the community. Likewise for years he has been one of the best known instructors in music at the county institutes of the State and it has generally been recognized that in that work there were few his equal. Only the fact that his home ties were here made it possible for the Bloomsburg schools to retain his services. He had repeated offers to go elsewhere at a far larger salary. No other man in the town life has been more closely in touch with the youth of the town than he, for during the last twenty years he has taught all who have passed through the Bloomsburg public schools and knew them by name. The legacy he has left in a cultivated taste for good music and an understanding of it, together with his fine character, is one that is rare indeed.

'93, Kelley, P. A. who for two years was the head of the Commercial department in the Bloomsburg High School, has been elected supervising principal of the schools at Georgetown, Delaware, and is in charge. He likes his work very much.

'94, Patterson, J. Howard, was married, April 14, 1917, to Miss Gabriella Hopkinson of Philadelphia at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was solemnized by Rev. I. M. Patterson, father of the groom. They will be at home after October 1st at 2310 Pine street, where they will reside in newly furnished apartments.

'94, Patten, Frank E. who has been representing the Russel-Miller Milling Co. in Minnesota and South Dakota for the last three years, has been transferred to Wisconsin. His headquarters will be at Oshkosh.

'94, Hosler, Rush N. The Coal Age, the leading Coal Journal, about the middle of February had a very complimentary notice of Rush, beginning: "Supervisor of Coal Mine Schedule Rating. That's the new position that Rush Hosler has been selected to fill; and the State of Pennsylvania has undoubtedly made a happy choice in selecting him for the place," and then follows a lengthy article giving in a very complimentary manner the doings and activities of Rush since his graduation and closing with: He is a member of the Coal Mining Institute of America and the Engineer's Society of Western Pennsylvania. Few young men living and working in the populous coal regions of Pennsylvania and West Virginia have as large an acquaintance in mining circles as Mr. Hosler, and none has more well-wishers."

'96, Lins (Mrs. D. W. Arndt) Florence, whose name appears in the last published list of the Alumni as living at Phoenixville, Pa., now resides at 339 S. Main Street, Lewistown, Pa., where her husband occupies a responsible position in the mills of the Susquehanna Silk Co. She has thereby missed THE QUARTERLY and she says, "I do miss them for there was always something of interest in them tho' there was little about the members of our own class—'the best class that ever graduated from B. S. N. S., of course.' Many changes have taken place since I left the Normal, and I've no doubt the place would not seem the same if I went back, but as long as I see your name and the names of Professors Cope, Albert, Sutliff, Jenkins and Miss Dickerson on the Faculty, tender and pleasant memories will be recalled of days spent in your class rooms."

'97, Wilbur, Harry C. has left the ranks of the professional Journalists and is now located at Fargo, North Dakota, where he is Executive Secretary of the Insurance Federation of North Dakota. The National Underwriter of March 8th speaks very highly of his work before the North Dakota legislature in securing the defeat of obnoxious bills that were presented. His address for the present is L. Box 144, Fargo, N. Dakota.

'98, Tucker, James C. sub-prinprincipal in the English High School, head of the mechanical and architectural drawing department, and in charge of the practical arts department of the evening high school and of the afternoon industrial school for boys, has tendered his resignation to take effect May 1st, when he will become principal of a new State Trade School at South Manchester, Conn. The Daily Evening Item, Lynn, Mass. has an excellent account of Mr. Tucker's work in that city, accompanied by a wood cut of Mr. Tucker

'99, Dennis, Lindley H. The Morning Press of April 23rd has the following:

Lindley H. Dennis and Howard Fetterolf, '10, head of the vocational education department of the Department of Education, together with Mr. Kast, the state architect, will arrive in Bloomsburg tomorrow and from here will go to Benton where they will go over plans for the school building. From there they will go to Millville, where between four and five o'clock in the afternoon they will hold a vocational school conference there, and in the evening will go to Numidia, where the movement has also been agitated, and hold a conference there.

'02, Leighow, Robert B gave the school a very pleasant surprise by placing in its library a copy of his recently issued book on the Chemistry of Materials. Mr. Leighow is now assistant Prof. of Chemistry in the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburg.

We congratulate him upon his success as an author and trust that he will find time to attend his class reunion which occurs June 26th.

'03, Albert, Charles L. The Morning Press of April 27th has the following:

Charles L. Albert, son of Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Albert, one of Bloomsburg's best known young men, and Miss Jeanette Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, of Scranton, were married Thursday in a beautiful home ceremony, regarding which the Scranton Republican has the following:

The home of former Lieutenant of Police and Mrs. John Davis, at 121 North Summer avenue, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Jeanette Davis, a teacher at No. 14, Abraham Lincoln school, and one of the best known and most estimable young ladies of West Scranton, became the bride of Charles Albert, of Wilkes-Barre, superintendent of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company in that city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ebenezer Flack, D. D., pastor of the Washburn Street Presbyterian Church, of which the bride is a devout member, in the presence of many relatives and friends. During the ceremony Theodore Bauer and Miss Helen Bauer rendered music. Mr. and Mrs. Albert left on the 12:40 Lackawanna train for New York and other points on a honeymoon trip. They will make their home at 400 Ridge Avenue, Kingston, Pa.

'07, Aspiazu, Ensebio (Com. C.) THE QUARTERLY notes with pride that one of our Latin-American students, Mr. Aspiazu, who has been secretary to the President of Cuba for a few years, has risen to the even higher distinction of membership in the Advisory Board for the Conduct of the War in that republic.

'08, Brandon (Westfield), Adda M. is now located at Oakmont, W. Va., where her husband is employed as chief electrician of the Abrams' Creek Coal and Coke Co. She anxiously awaits news from "Old Normal" and says, "I can't get along without it. The science of home-keeping keeps me still busier than in Normal days."

'10, Huebner, Florence, was married at Fern Glen, March 24th, to Raymond Buckalew at the home of the bride's parents. William Moyer '07 was best man, the bridesmaid was Hilda Altmiller '10. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Lerch, pastor of the Reformed Church at Nuremburg. Mr. Buckalew is in charge of Moyer Brothers' wholesale business in Wilkes-Barre.

'10, Vetterlein, Alma K. holds a lucrative position with the United Service Co., 700 Scranton Life Building, Scranton, Pa. Miss Vetterlein has been employed in Scranton since her graduation from this school.

'10, Smith (Conroy) Ida M. resides at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. She was recently made happy by the birth of a son.

'11, Clune, Margaret M. was married Monday, February 5th, at St. Michael's Rectory, Jersey City, to Mr. Arthur Jack Jennings.

'12, White, Tacey. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Tacey White to Harry W. Vetter of Belvidere, N. J., was given at a luncheon, April 7, at the home of Miss White's parents in Bloomsburg, Pa.

'12, Vetterlein, Louise W. is a very successful teacher in No. 4 school, Paupack, Pike Co., Pa. This is her fifth year in this school.

'12, Reice, Anna, was married March 7th, in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Bloomsburg, at 7:45 in the morning to Mr. Cyril Trei-velpiece of Berwick. Rev. S. C. Dickson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiated. Immediately after the ceremony they left on the 8:29 train on a bridal tour. They reside in Berwick where the groom is employed at the A. C. & F. Company.

'12, Peters, Dr. Clyde (sp c) died at the home of his parents on E. Eighth street, Bloomsburg, March 8th, following an illness of two years with a complication of diseases which resulted from a breakdown due to over study while a student at the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, from which he graduated in June, 1916. He was buried in the cemetery adjoining the Sloyerville Church about four miles above Nescopeck.

'12, Selway, (Mrs. J. F. Schiefer) Martha, now resides at No. 29 W. High Street, Middletown, Pa. She is always glad to hear from the school and any of her classmates, and eagerly awaits the coming of THE QUARTERLY.

'14, Schobert, Sabilla G. was quietly married last Christmas to Mr. Earl Campbell of Berwick. The news of the event did not leak out until about the middle of April when Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for Akron, O., where, it is said, Mr. Campbell has secured a position in a bank.

'15, Mitchell, Helene V. The last issue of Bright Ideas, a publication of March Bros., Lebanon, Ohio, contains several interesting articles on school work by Helene V. Mitchell, one of the primary teachers in Kingston. Miss Mitchell is having splendid success as a primary teacher, the work she liked so well at the Normal,

'15, Robbins, Shirley James of the class of 1915, from Benton, Pa. is posted upon the Scholarship Honor List for the Winter term of Washington and Lee University.

'16, Cortright, Lydia E. (sp. c.) was married March 20th, at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, to Mr. John Paul Barger, of the firm of Barger, Bains and Munn, proprietors of a hosiery mill in Bloomsburg. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home by Rev. Harter, pastor of the M. E. Church at Shickshinny, in the presence of only the immediate families. The bridal couple left on the 11:15 D. L. & W. train for Washington, D. C. and thence on an extended trip throughout the South, visiting Florida and other places of interest. They reside in their newly furnished home on West Eighth Street, Bloomsburg.

CLASS REUNIONS.

A number of classes are making special arrangements for reunions during Commencement week—occasions when old times are recounted, friendships renewed and the successes, and even failures of life are told. The classes to hold reunions this year are '72, '77, '82, '87, '92, '97, '02, '07, '12 and '15. These reunions will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 26, from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock. Those having in charge the arrangements for the reunions will please communicate with Prof. F. H. Jenkins, the registrar.

The class of 1892 will celebrate its 25th anniversary this year. At their previous meeting which was enthusiastic throughout, it was resolved to meet at this time in full numbers.

The class will be the guests of the school. All who can attend are requested to notify the president, Supt. H. U. Nyhart, Glen Lyon, Luz. Co. Pa.

ALUMNI OF NEW YORK AND VICINITY.

The third annual alumni reunion and banquet of the Bloomsburg State Normal School for those living in New York City or nearby points, was held April 14, in Hotel St. Denis, 11th and Broadway.

About 55 were present, beside a number of invited guests. The friends began to gather about 6:45 and from then until past midnight there was a continual round of good cheer, friendly greetings, and pleasant memories of days spent in "Old Normal." A very considerable number of the graduates, both male and female, have married and many of these were there with their life partners to have them meet the friends of school days.

Mr. Claude Fisher, he of foot ball fame, was toast master, and very modestly and, yet withal, very gracefully did he handle his part of the program. The dinner was most excellent and very nicely served.

Dr. D. J. Waller and Profs. Hartline and Albert were in attendance from the school, and each in turn responded in most appropriate manner to some of the varied activities now in force at the school.

Only royal good cheer prevailed and when time was called, all said good night vowing to be there again and again.

Space will not permit the publication of the participants, but very many of the readers of the QUARTERLY will be pleased to learn of the presence of Dr. and Mrs. Aldinger in fine health and spirits. It is believed that the guests were largely indebted to him for the presence of Professor Robert Stuart Pigott, whose contributions to the program of the evening revealed a musical and literary genius, a taste and art that left nothing to be desired. The spirit and loyalty of the association are worthy of the metropolis of our country.

ADDITIONAL ALUMNI.

'15, Welliver, Charlotte (Coll. Prep.) The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Welliver, of West Main street, Bloomsburg, was the scene of the wedding of their daughter Miss Charlotte Welliver, to Oliver Hayes McFarland, of Lebanon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Z. McFarland, of Watsontown, May 3rd at 6:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. C. Dickson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in the presence of only the immediate families and a few intimate friends. After a bridal tour they will reside in Bloomsburg.

OCTOBER, 1917

LOCALS

The Firmness and beauty of the tiled floor, buff with a maroon border extending from the front door to the diningroom and beyond the staircase on either side, make a most favorable impression upon everyone who enters. It is another witness to the liberality and loyalty of the class of 1916 whose name is inserted at the intersection of the two halls.

The green house, presented by the class of 1917, is gradually taking shape.

The Rubber floor covering laid the length of the library aisle is one of the minor improvements that adds much to the comfort of the students and promotes that welcome silence so enjoyable in all well conducted libraries.

Fifty-five rooms in the dormitory were repainted and papered during the Summer. The halls leading to the chapel upon first and second floors were also brightened by the painters' work upon walls and ceiling throughout.

An electric elevator has been contracted for with the famous Otis Company and is to be installed by them during this month. A fire-proof glass partition extending across the space, occupied by the staircase and elevator will both embellish the hall on each floor, and secure a fireproof elevator shaft for the building.

As the Model School closed the last week in June the cash returns from the children's garden were not large. They would have been larger too if the plants could have been sprayed. The first, second, third, and fourth grades planted cabbage and beans. The beans were sold for twenty cents.

The cabbage has not yet been marketed. The fifth and sixth grades raised potatoes, sold for $1.10. The seventh and eighth raised one bushel of potatoes, yet unsold.

The Literary Societies

PHILO.

The fall of 1917 finds us back in school and also finds our country engaged in a world war.

Many of our members have enlisted to uphold the honor of their country, and to help conquer the German Empire.

In spite of this great trouble we were well blessed with new and active members, and the Philo Society looks forward to a very prosperous year.

Over two hundred and twenty-five new members have been received at the beginning of the school year.

The spirit of the society in general is excellent. The committees have begun their work zealously. The new members have shown interest in the society by taking active part in the discussions and program work.

A reception was tendered the new members, after their entrance into the society and an excellent program was rendered and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

The annual reunion to be held on Thanksgiving day is being looked forward to with great expectations. Already work is being done toward making this coming reunion surpass all others. A committee has been appointed to select a drama which we hope will surpass all others which have been given in the Normal Auditorium. The cast will be selected by Miss Southwick, head of the department of elocution.

Summing up events so far this year, the outlook for the remainder of the year is very promising.

CALLIE.

Callie got a flying start this year with every old Callie hard at it from the word "go." Altho we have fewer new students in school than there were last year, we bettered last year's record by getting a few more new members than the "17s" did. An unusually large percent of these new Callies are talented either musically or historically.

Our business meetings and programs have been of great interest. We had our reception for new members several weeks ago, and it was a splendid success. Both the program and the "eats" were excellent. We have had two special programs, one a "Mock Wedding," and the other a "Patriotic Program," and on the 20th of October we shall present a public program in the Chapel.

Our hall is in fine condition and we're going to improve its appearance by hanging a beautiful American flag above the owl.

A number of last year's Callies have been back to see us, and a large number of Faculty members have visited us. Every one of them was favorably impressed both by our spirit, and the way in which we live up to our motto—"Praestantia Aut Nihil." (It isn't "Nihil" we have.)

Some of our old members are "teaching" in various National Training Camps. Callie is corresponding with them by means of round-robins, which we write during intermission.

But the best I can say to you, dear old Calliepians, is that you come back and see how we're prospering. You'll only have to look at our bulletin board to see how everyone is at work.

The gods are on our side, and we're sure to have a successful year.

Y. M. C. A.

The opening of our present school year finds us in the midst of the great world war. The effects of this war are keenly felt by the Y. M. C. A. We miss those of last year's class, and also those of our number who are now in the service of our country. Our earnest prayer is that they may remain in communion with Him, who is willing and able to save even to the uttermost. Despite this loss in membership the Association is in a very prosperous condition.

Last June we sent five delegates to the Preparatory School Conference at Blairstown. They report having had a fine time, enjoying the fellowship of the delegates and bringing back many helpful suggestions and ideas for the work.

The reception given the new students was a great success as is shown by the results so far achieved.

We began our teacher's training under the leadership of Prof. Bakeless in connection with the Y. W. C. A.

We are going to start a joint Mission study class in a few weeks. The subject will be "Mexico Today."

We hope to begin our Deputation work soon. People are everywhere longing for a better knowledge of Christ in these extraordinary times.

Y. W. C. A.

A teacher training class has started. The aim is to train students in the fundamentals of the Bible so that they will be prepared to teach Sunday school classes. The work is under the leadership of Prof. Bakeless. The class meets every Sunday night and members of the Y. M. C. A. as well as the Y. W. C. A. attend.

The reception for the new students under the combined auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. was a very pleasant affair. Novel entertainment was afforded and a splendid program was given.

A new feature in regard to the collection of dues, has been established. Instead of the old-time canvas from door to door each term, we have adopted a "One Big Pay Day." On one day, which day will be announced three weeks beforehand, we will collect the dues for the three terms. The date of the "big pay day" has not been decided but when it is, the girls will be informed of the fact by means of posters, and will be reminded of it during those three weeks by other suggestive posters.

The social service work thus far, has been in direct accord with the time in which we are living. Under this committee's supervision knitting for the Red Cross has been taken up. All girls who knit are now busy making army supplies in the form of sweaters, mufflers and blanket squares. All the girls who do not know how to knit but wish to work for the Red Cross are divided into groups of five each and are appointed some instructor. Everybody is busy and hoping to make our Red Cross work something worth while.

Athletics

Somewhere in Penna.

The first real offensive movement of the B. S. N. S. foot ball volunteers was made against the formidable line of Keystone Academy on Normal Field Saturday, Sept. 29. Intensive training had been the order of the day for nearly three weeks. So when the command came to, "Go over the top," it was a keenly relished attack and repulse of counter attack which confronted the boys many of whom were wearing war togs for the first time. The final score of B. S. N. S. 27, Keystone Academy 0, shows that all ground gained was consolidated and prepared against further attack. The line up:

NORMAL	ACADEMY
Kahler left guard	Ives
Hodder center	Keen
Henrie right guard	Varcie
Dormack .. right tackle ..	Tingley
Johns right end	Legge
Kirkuff .. quarter back ..	Longaker
Leonard .. left half back ..	Taylor
Hower .. right half back ..	Lewsley
Bavalock full back	Morris

Touchdowns—Kirkuff, 2; Leonard and Kester. Goals from touchdowns—Dormack, 3. Substitutions: Kester for Hower; Davis for Leonard; Leach for Johns; Welliver for Kahler; Miller for Henrie; Stevens for Hodder; Creasy for Varcie; Sutliff for Tingley; Tingley for Legge; Legge for Morris. Referee—McCrea. Umpire—Brown. Head Linesman—Martone. Time of quarters—12 and 10 minutes.

(Passed by the Censor.)

At this date no military advantage to the enemy can be obtained by our remarking that the five leading bat- ters of the 1917 base ball team finished the season with the following credit- able averages. Goff, .400; Sotolongo, .334; Brink, .312; Ramage, .286, and Ikeler, .267.

Leonard had the honor of making the first touchdown of the season.

The line-up looks new but pretty fair—thank you. "Here's hoping."

The advantage of "command of the air," was well illustrated Saturday by Leonard and Capt. Shearer, each of whom intercepted forward passes.

The school or college with a first class veteran foot ball team will hard- ly be placed in the patriotic class this year. Our boys are doing their bit. Read the list of volunteers.

Alumni

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about your- self and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203

'80, Young, Ernest W., was east this summer in attendance upon the 30th reunion of class of '87, Williams Col- lege. His two sons, the younger aged 17, have enlisted in the Navy for the war. The older son graduated this year from college. In his public ad- dresses he puts stress on patriotism. His address is Room 204, P. O. Build- ing, St. Paul, Minn.

'82, Moore, E. J., Ph. D., formerly superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Pennsylvania and now As- sistant General Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America de- livered the annual Commencement Address at the Normal School last June. It was an exceptionally strong address. His subject was "Ultimate Heroism."

'85, Hine, Harry O., The Morning Press, Aug. 18, had the following: Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Hine, of Washington, D. C., were recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holmes. Mr. Hine is a Normal graduate and is now superintendent of the schools of Washington, D. C.

'86, Leckie, A. E. L., was married, Wednesday, Aug. 15th, in Winstead, Conn., to Miss Maud Lewis Norton. They are "at home" 1335 Harvard St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

'86, Hoffa, Mazie E., died Sept. 8th in Lewisburg, Pa., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hattie A. Ruhl, following an illness of several months. She was a member of and an active worker in the Presbyterian Church, Sunday School, Christian Endeavor and all the allied church bodies. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 3:30 o'clock p. m. Interment was made in the Lewisburg cemetery.

'91, Harman John G., is the sole nominee for President Judge in this Judicial District, he having received more than 51 per cent. of the votes. His opponent was Charles C. Evans '76 the present President Judge.

'91, Hess, R. Harry, died at his home in Berwick, Friday July 13. He was stricken Thursday night with what was thought to have been apoplexy. He lapsed into unconsciousness and remained in that condition until he passed away. He taught school for four years in Bloomsburg and for three years in Berwick. A resident of Berwick for the last fifteen years he has been employed in the Berwick Post Office for the last twelve years, during most of that time as carrier but recently as clerk. He had a legion of friends to whom the news of his death came as a great shock. His wife and five children, one girl and four boys, survive him. He was a member of the P. O. S. of A., Treasurer of the State Letter Carriers' Association, president of the Defender Fire Company and a member of the First Methodist Church, of Berwick.

'92, Mausteller, Dr. W. B., lost his son Louis Willard Mausteller by death, June 20th. We have no further particulars. Dr. Mausteller lives at 1422 N. Second St., Harrisburg, Pa.

'93, Eves (Mrs. Dr. J. W. Bruner) Margaret, died at her home on Market street, Bloomsburg, Thursday, July 26, 1917. About a year previous to her death, Mrs. Bruner, apparently in perfect health, was first afflicted with heart trouble; she rallied however and showed a marked improvement until sometime in June when her condition again became extremely grave terminating in her death. Her marriage to Dr. Bruner was solemnized a little more than five years ago and during her residence in Bloomsburg she has endeared herself to a wide circle of friends. She was a graduate of Swarthmore college and for several years preceeding her marriage was a member of the faculty of the Ethical Institute, New York City. She was for years a member of the Society of Friends in which she was brought up from her youth. She was active in the Woman Suffrage work in Columbia county and was one of the county vice presidents. Funeral services were held Saturday, July 28 at 3:00 o'clock, interment in the Millville cemetery.

'95, Patterson, Dr. J. Bruce.—We clip the following from a local paper, Aug. 2: A medical missionary in Korea for the last seven and a half years, Dr. J. Bruce Patterson is home on a year's furlough. Accompanied by his wife and four children he is at present visiting his mother, Mrs. Jane Patterson, at Orangeville. Some time will also be spent at Worcester, Ohio with Mrs. Patterson's parents, for which city they expect to leave in a few days.

'98, Styer, George R., formerly a teacher in the public schools of West Berwick and Bloomsburg, has resigned his position as principal of the schools of Montoursville and has accepted a position as principal of the schools of Oxford, near Philadelphia. Mr. Styer is now taking a course at Columbia University summer school at New York City, where 6,125 students are enrolled.—Morning Press, Aug. 3.

'01, Appleman, Bertha, is now directress of nurses at the State Hospital, Coaldale, Penna.

'02, Williams, Evan J. Jr., is making his first bid for public office and is a candidate for prothonotary on the republican ticket in Luzerne county. He is well qualified for the position and is highly esteemed and respected by all who know him. He has been a successful teacher in the Nanticoke school for fifteen years.

'05, Shambach, Thomas F.—"Mary Shambach, the bright nine year old daughter of Prof. Thomas F. Shambach, principal of the public schools of this place, and wife, died Saturday, June 2, 1917, at 9:45 p. m., of pneumonia. The sad news came all the more as a surprise, for the reason that ten days before, at the school exercises, May 22, she recited in the court house 'The Barefoot Boy,' and took part in a drill by the school children. That night illness developed and in several days, pneumonia resulted and the child gradually grew worse until the summons came. Saturday morning she had a premonition of death and foretold almost the exact time. She was a precocious child and had a brightness and a mental vigor unequalled by children many years her senior. A sweet and brilliant flower has been plucked from the garden of life and planted in the garden of heaven to emit fragrance to those who have gone before and to prepare a welcome for those who are to follow. It is sad indeed for the bereaved relatives to part with such a precious gift, and the entire community extends its sympathy in this hour of their sad affliction. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon; interment in Glendale cemetery, Rev. H. D. Hayes officiating."—Middleburg Post, June 7, 1917.

'06, Andres, Harry (Med. Prep.)—Word has come as we go to press, of the death of Dr. Harry Andres, which occurred in El Paso, Texas, Thursday, Oct. 4th. He was a surgeon in the 125th Field Artillery and was at the border during the Mexican trouble. Particulars of his death have not been received.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

At the Commencement last June Geo. E. Wilbur completed forty years of continuous service at the Normal School. In recognition of this fact the Alumni and friends presented him with a beautiful Verithin Gruen gold watch and a sum of money. It came as a great surprise. He desires hereby to heartily thank all participating in the event and to assure them of his great appreciation of their esteem and favor.

BLOOMSBURG NORMAL SCHOOL.
ROLL OF HONOR.

The authorities of the B. S. N. S. feel a justifiable pride in presenting to its Alumni and friends, the following list of splendid young men who have answered the call of their country and are now either "somewhere in France or England," or in one of the training camps of this country.

We doubt whether any school anywhere can present a more sane, sound or sensible body of young men than those who have gone from the student body of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

QUARTERLY

"Entered as second-class matter July 1, 1909, at the post office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of July 16, 1894"

OCTOBER, 1918

NO. 1

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

The most prominent subject in the minds of students, teachers and all others connected with the institution during October has been the 4th Liberty Loan. The adroit chairman of the loan committee for the school was Miss Helen F. Carpenter. The quota assigned to the school was $3,500. It looked very large to us after the $10,500 raised for the third loan, after all contributions generously made for the winning of the war, and with the knowledge of the calls soon to follow. The prevalence of the influenza too clouded the prospect. A large number had gone home. Many were ill. The town students were excluded from the campus by the board of health. The appeal to remember the sacrifices of boys in France made by Miss Carpenter and her enthusiastic aids, was, however irresistible. Subscriptions poured in without individual solicitation, groups of students, unable individually, united to take bonds, the figures mounted, the burning question hour by hour was, what is the sum now? until after doubling the quota, and then earning a third star and then a fourth, a fifth star was won and a total of $12,300 was fully pledged. The banner certifying this achievement now hangs above the stage in the auditorium.

THE INFLUENZA

The influenza broke upon the school like a Summer thunder storm. The number of patients mounted until thirty-four were down at one time, but the prompt co-operation of the doctors, and the trained nurse of the school, Mrs. Holmes, with her assistants, speedily brought the epidemic under control so that the last case had developed by October 2nd. The soldierly courage of the students was splendid throughout. There was no suspension. One of the first victims attached was Miss Elsie Snyder of the Senior Class. She was unwilling to abandon her work, and when her condition became such that she could resist no longer, she speedily developed symptoms of pneumonia. She was then removed to the Bloomsburg Hospital, where the disease relentlessly progressed to a fatal termination on Sept. 25th. Her body was removed to her parents' home at Trevorton, where burial services were held Sept. 30th. The school was represented by Prof. Brill, a committee of Seniors including the Vice President Mr. Victor J. Rosell, and by a number of students who had gone to their homes in that vicinity. Miss Lyle Poust, of Orangeville, also a Senior was living with friends down town when attacked. She was taken to the Bloomsburg Hospital. Pneumonia developed, notwithstanding the most careful attention. She died and was buried from the home of her parents on Friday Oct. 4th. The school was represented at the service by three members of the Faculty. Miss Mary Stapinski of Glen Lyon, Pa., a Junior, was called home lest she should contract the disease here. It became widely prevalent there, she contracted it and died, Oct. 14th. Two days after the last case had developed in the school and when only twelve cases remained under treatment on Oct. 4th, the local board of health placed a strict quarantine upon the school which has continued ever since. For four weeks the three hundred persons living in the dormitory have been prohibited from the town though not a case of the disease has developed in the school within that period. The town students by the same authority are excluded from the school. During the first week it was made necessary for the teachers living away from the dormitory to move into it, and remain off the streets and away from their homes. For them the ban was removed on the 14th. The disease lingers in the town, from 15 to 20 cases daily continue to be reported.

No quarantine has been imposed upon them.

By action of the Board of Trustees the German language has been dropped from the course of study. Spanish and French are offered.

NO ALUMNI BANQUETS

Owing to conditions arising from the war, it is proposed by the school that no banquets be held this year by the several alumni associations. Where it is found convenient to hold meetings of these organizations the school if notified will gladly send representatives to meet the alumni and report upon the condition of the school.

No S. A. T. C. has yet been authorized here. Application was made, the necessary questionnaire was filled out and submitted, and the scholastic conditions here were approved. The authority to raise a "unit" has been withheld up to the time of going to press.

A MOST APPROPRIATE GIFT

Through the very kind generosity of the Calliepiean Literary Society the school is to be presented with a beautiful SERVICE FLAG. The flag will be about six by eight feet and will be decorated with appropriate emblems indicating at once the branch of service, whether army or navy, in which our boys are enrolled. These emblems will also indicate those of our number who have been killed, wounded, captured or missing, and at the same time also indicate those deccrated for distinguished service.

All of these various classes claim some of the 265 names that appear upon the school's roll of honor.

The school is indebted to the generosity of Mrs. C. P. Pfahler, of Catawissa, Pa., for a large and very handsome palm which, placed in the hall of the boys' dormitory, adds to the beautiful features that already characterize it.

"Speech is the Image of the Mind."

Philo. began its life in the first year of the Bloomsburg Literary Institute, later the State Normal School. This important event occurred in 1866.

The Society was organized with ten charter members, among whom we are proud to number, Dr. D. J. Waller, our present principal and John M. Clark who for years was Secretary of the board of Trustees of the School.

Philo holds its annual reunion on Thanksgiving Day of each year. A public program is given in the morning, reception and dance in the afternoon, and Philo Drama in the evening. All old members come back to renew old acquaintances and to make new ones.

The Society holds its meetings every Saturday evening in Philo. Hall. After business has been transacted we are favored with a profitable and enjoyable program. In our programs we do not lose sight of the fact that our society is a literary society, nor do we have all serious programs. We have just enough of the humorous to balance the serious side, and the result is we have a program that is both helpful and interesting.

We who are now members of Philo cannot fully appreciate the training we are receiving as members of this splendid organization; nor will we realize and appreciate this training until we get out into life.

Philo is a splendid organization. but it can be made more perfect. It has increased in quality, as well as in the quantity of its' membership. We, the present members of Philo, pledge to former and to prospective members, our co-operation in making this the most successful year for Philo.

If the members of Philo take this pledge each succeeding year, one can see ahead unnumbered years of prosperity, in which new members will carry on the advancement of Philo, adding to her activities and accomplishments,—years in which the high ideal of those who established our Society, will find its fulfillment, and in which we shall see by the development among our members that "Speech is the Image of the Mind."

CALLIE LITERARY SOCIETY

Callie opened the year with all the old members working earnestly. One result of this was a great many new members, who have been filled with the Callie spirit of working for the welfare of the Society.

The Callie meetings are now opened by repeating "The American's Creed."

"The American's Creed."

"I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a Republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign States; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity, for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

"I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Callie is just beginning a study of the Opera which will extend through several weeks. The story of the operas selected for study will be read and the study will be assisted by means of the Victrola.

Y. W. C. A.

With strengthened bodies, invigorated minds and cheerful spirits we returned to Bloomsburg Normal. After attending Eight Week Club meetings during the Spring Term several of the girls conducted clubs in their home towns during the summer.

The membership committee sent letters to the new girls, thus making the girls feel welcome; and now we are reaping our harvest for a number of new members have joined the Association.

The teacher training work has started under the leadership of Professor Bakeless.

The date of "The Big Pay Day" is Nov. 1. Posters are up to remind the girls of this day.

On Oct. 5 an interesting talk was given by Miss Louise Brown. She presented the war work program of the Y. W. C. A.

On Oct. 7 Miss May Fleming, Student Volunteer Secretary for Foreign Missions, spoke to us, the subject of her theme being "Foreign Missions."

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is making a very good start this year. All the new students are enrolled as members and the prayer meetings are well attended. Last June we sent six delegates to the annual conference at Blairs-town, N. J. Three of them are now in the S. A. T. C. and we miss them on account of the successful work they did in all school activities.

The Latin-American boys are showing this year more interest in the activities of the Association, which is of great importance for the expansion of the Y. M. C. A. in their respective countries.

We are planning to carry forward the Deputation Work which was a great success last Spring due to the leading spirit of some of our members.

Alumni

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203

John R. Townsend, died at his home on Normal Hill June 16, 1918. A stroke of paralysis was the direct cause of his death. For years he had been a prominent figure in the town's business and civic life. For nine years he was a member of Bloomsburg's School Board and from 1902 to 1916 was a trustee of the Normal School. He was mayor of the town of Bloomsburg for three terms. One of the promoters of the Bloomsburg Public Library, he was president of the board of directors. He was interested in every movement made in the interest of Bloomsburg.

John M. Clark died on the morning of the 17th of August 1918 at his home in Bloomsburg of pneumonia. He was Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School from 1892 to 1916. He was frequently at the business office of the Normal School and his form will be familiarly remembered by the students of those years. His death removes the last of the lawyers who were associated in the prosecution of the "Mollie Maguires" for Mr. Clark at the time of their trial was district attorney of Columbia county.

Mary Alice Port who was preceptress at the Normal School from 1907 to 1910 is now living at 1832 Baltimore St., Washington, D. C., where she is engaged in government war work. She says: "It has been interesting but much less satisfying to me than teaching." She feels the call of the work. She was recently greatly bereaved in the death of her mother and sister.

Miss Madelia H. Waterbury who for a short time was preceptress at the Normal has now recovered her health and is again in the work. The students of her day at the Normal will be pleased to get this information.

Miss Anna S. Van Wyck, critic teacher in the Normal School for several years—has been selected principal of the Opportunity school recently established in Oswego, N. Y.

Paul L. Cressman has charge of Manual Training and Mechanical Drawing in the public schools of Uniontown, Pa. He is well pleased with his new location. His address is 234 Evans street, Uniontown, Pa.

Prof. William Noetling died at his home in Selinsgrove, Pa., Monday, June 17. He had been in failing health for some years, but was bed fast for only three or four months preceding his death. The Morning Press in speaking of his death says: "There passed away one who for many years as head of the department of pedagogy at the Bloomsburg State Normal School not only had much to do with the school's success but one who was a big factor in moulding the lives of hundreds of Normal graduates. Word of his death reached the school yesterday, and it soon was on everybody's lips, for few men who have been 'connected with the school have been more honored and revered than he."

Prof. Noetling came to the school in 1877 and remained as head of the department of Theory and Practice of teaching until 1900 when on account of failing health he retired. He was back at the commencement exercises of the school two years ago when the Alumni Association, who could never forget the wonderful influence he had over their lives, presented him with a purse of gold and an Edison Diamond Disc. He was buried Wednesday, June 19, at Selinsgrove. Profs. Cope, Albert and Bakeless attended the funeral.

'70 Bittenbender, Harry C. (Coll. prep.) died at his home, Lincoln, Nebraska, Tuesday, May 28th. Word was received the week before that he was seriously ill at his home in Lincoln, Nebraska. He was in a critical condition from the first, and did not rally. He was aged sixty-seven years.

He prepared for college at the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and graduated from Princeton University in 1874. He then took up the study of law with Col. Samuel Knorr, and was admitted to the bar in Bloomsburg.

He left here for Osceola, Nebraska, forty years ago to engage in the practice of law, and a few years later moved to Lincoln, Nebraska where he has resided ever since. He is survived by a wife, one brother, J. K. Bittenbender, Washington, D. C., and a sister, Mrs. F. H. Jenkins, Bloomsburg.

Mr. Bittenbender was one of the prohibition leaders of Nebraska and his reputation reached beyond its borders. His funeral was largely attended, interment in Wyuka cemetery, Lincoln, Neb.

'75 Lantz, Prof. David Ernest. We clip the following from the Washington, D. C., Star, of Oct. 9:

Prof. David Ernest Lantz, assistant biologist in the biological survey since 1904, died of pneumonia at his home 1443 Belmont street, Monday evening, after an illness of only a week.

Prof. Lantz was sixty-three years of age. He was born at Thompsonstown, Pa., March 1, 1855.

Funeral services will be held at the chapel of John R. Wright, 1337 10th street, at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Prof. Lantz received appointment in the Department of Agriculture in 1904. During the last fourteen years he had devoted his attention mainly to investigations of mammals of economic importance. He was author of twenty farmers' bulletins and a number of other reports and special papers.

Prof. Lantz was an associate member of the American Ornithologists' Union, a life member of the Kansas State Horticultural Society, and a member of the Biological Society of Washington, of which he was secretary for five years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Deen Lantz, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank S. Evans of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. J. N. Simmons of Victor, Col.

'73 Mendanhall, Charles R. (sp. c.) died at his home on Normal Hill, Bloomsburg, Thursday, May 16, of a complication of diseases. He was aged 61 years. He is survived by his wife and one brother Harry.

'77 Krum, John E., (sp. c.) died June 1, at his home, Turbotville, Pa., following an attack of heart failure. The funeral took place Wednesday, June 4. Mr. Krum was aged 69 years.

'78 Witman, Rev. E. H. (sp. c.) died at his home in Marion, Franklin Co. Pa., Tuesday, Oct. 22, in his sixty-fourth year. He was a member of the Central Pennsylvania Conf. in the M. E. Church and very creditably occupied several of the important charges, his last one being St. Paul's, Danville, Pa. He retired from the ministry at the conference held last March. Eleanor (Reily) Witman '05 and Mary (Ryder) Witman '06 are daughters.

'82 Bierman, Dr. Henry. From Morning Press, April 29: The many friends of Dr. H. Bierman will be glad to learn that he has been recommended for a captaincy.

He was commissioned as first lieutenant August 4, 1917, and began active duties January 3, 1918, being stationed at the base hospital at Camp Sheridan, Alabama, and in the eye department. For some time he has been head of the section of surgery under the direction of Major G. W. Jean.

'82 Beebe (Hemstrought) Emorilla, was found dead, together with Mrs. Laura A. Beebe, in the kitchen of the home of the latter, Binghamton, N. Y. Mrs. Hemstrought had gone there to make a call. They are supposed to have been asphyxiated as the result of partially burned illuminating gas which may have escaped from a hot water heater. At an investigation the doors of the kitchen were closed to assume a condition as nearly like that under which the women were found as possible. The gas heater was then turned on, the same as it was found when the bodies were discovered and after about fifteen minutes the officials ascertained that the room was filling with a gas of a pungent odor which apparently was caused by imperfect combustion in the gas stove and which resulted in the formation of carbon monoxide gas. The clipping sent to the Quarterly had no date on it, but it was undoubtedly of recent occurrence.

'83 Richards (Daniels) Sarah E. writes The Quarterly as follows: "In a recent issue of the Quarterly the honor of being the only girl valedictorian is given to Miss Nicely of '83. An investigation of the School records will show you, I think that there have been others. Mrs. Margaret N. Richards (Lamb) of '77 was the first young woman valedictorian. She had the unique distinction in this unprecedented honor of not only being selected by the faculty but also by the unanimous vote of her class. In '82 the first and second honors were given to young women Mrs. Mate Lott (Nuss) and Mrs. Carrie Rogers (Peck). These three were from Susquehanna county. '83 were very proud of Miss Nicely and do, individually and collectively, I know, extend to her their heart felt wishes for long life and much happiness. THE QUARTERLY to me is just like a letter from a dear friend. Thank you very much for it." Mrs. Daniels' address is 176 E. 150th St., Harvey, Ill.

'85 Dechant, C. Ernest announces his association with the Monroe Calculating Machine Company, Woolworth Building, New York City, as local manager, office 507 Baer Building, Reading, Pennsylvania.

Hagenbuch (Holmes) Cora was captain of the First Ward team (Bloomsburg) of the Liberty Loan campaign, and right well did she perform the duties thereof. Cora is patriotic through and through. She has three boys in the service. Two of them Lieut. Olmstead and Fred (the youngest) are "over there," and Delroy in a cantonment on this side. Olmstead and Fred have been wounded. We have thousands and thousands of Spartan mothers.

'86 McReynolds. M a t h e w (sp. c.) died at his home in Benton, Pa., Sunday, Oct. 27, of pneumonia. He was taken ill of typhoid fever Oct. 5, a week or ten days thereafter pneumonia developed, his condition soon became critical with practically no hopes of his recovery. He was aged 51 years, 6 months and is survived by his wife. He is interred in Rosemont cemetery, Bloomsburg.

'87 Johnston, W. C. and wife spent last winter and summer in California and are still there, enjoying greatly the climate and scenery. They took the trip for Mr. Johnston's health. They experienced the earthquake in April. The following is from a letter of Mr. Johnston:

"We had quite a scare this afternoon about 3:30. Mrs. Johnston was downstairs writing letters and I was upstairs, and all at once the chairs commenced to jump around and the windows shake and the house sway as if it would go down. I caught hold of something to keep on my feet, and finally got downstairs and out. Mrs. Johnston had run out. Everybody in the neighborhood was out. Earthquake—and as much of one as I ever want to experience. It was just a half hour ago and we have no reports as yet. Peculiar sensation. You simply feel that everything around you and under you is giving away and going. I wasn't frightened in the least until I got to Mrs. Johnston standing in the front yard, white and trembling."

'90 Herman, J. O., has been supervising principal in Edwardsville twenty-five years, and has been re-elected for three years with an increase in salary of $200. He is worth it.

'93 One of the exceptionally fine reunions of commencement week was that of '93, their 25th. We take the following from the Morning Press:

The big hit at the reunion of the Class of 1893 was the following poem, written by Mrs. Mary Horn Yarnall, a member of the class:

My friends and class-mates gathered 'round to celebrate the year

When we were only boys and girls—just Bloomsburg students here.

For it is five and twenty years since we, as seniors, stood

Upon yon platform—graduates—where we had all “made good.”

We felt that all the world was ours, the heights had all been scaled;

For we had mastered all our tasks, nor knew such word as “failed.”

Dear Prof. Noetling and his clan were men of high degree
With women equaling the men,
—all teaching you and me.

Professor Wilbur's sage remark, when looking o'er the class,
“You are one hundred thirteen now, but not again, alas,
In all the days and years beyond will such a number come
And gather under just one roof
As you today have done.”

Ambition fired our very souls on that tremendous day

We'd climbed the pinnacle of fame and none could “say us nay.”

Yes, we were young, courageous folks and, oh, so full of fight

No abstacles could e'er loom up our dearest hopes to blight.

We're older now and sober down,
nor reached that hall of fame;
But yet that lure still fascinates and we, today, are game,

We cannot always measured be by yard-sticks made by man
For God knows best, as measurer

He has a better plan
And so while not in Washington
As Senator or Judge

We may be climbing higher yet as we our journeys trudge.

Old Normal hill still faces us but not the hill of yore

For, many changes do we see that ne'er were here before
The field of sports, a novelty to us, who'd never seen

Athletics made so permanent
As this upon our green

Commencing just a year or two since we had left the school;
While now 'tis grown so fashionable 'tis but, you see, the rule.

And then we find, in Science
Hall, another novelty; Though students of these modern dates will claim 'tis old, you see.

“Infirmary!” another word
that's quite in vogue today
My Friends, when we were students here ills were made naught in play.

Domestic Science,—modern too
—why, when all of us were young

We simply cooked—or—grabbed a broom and out the dust we flung.

In new curriculums we find
French—German—new to us
While type writers and all sech things help make this modern muss.

And now, when coming back to “Bloom”—you know we’ve “Bloomed” before—

Our hearts are filled with joyousness because, upon this floor,

We warmly greet our dear, old friend whom, on the honor roll,

Will never from our memory be blotted from that scroll.

Professor Wilbur first in line, oh how we loved him then!

And, now he’s here we’ll whisper
this—just write it with our pen—

“Ycur guidance and your sympathy, in those long years ago,
Have proved your worth on Normal Hill as students come and go.

A famous Pedagogic man who held us tightly reined

Would, from our work in trial class, find just how much we’d gained.

“Professor Noetling” did you say? “most critical of men.”

“Yes, boys and girls, we know it now just as we knew it then.”

Professor Cope, another good and philosophic man

Who figured well, in all our eyes, by most electric plan

But pause,—the Caesar of our day—had Gallic wars to fight.

A fine and stalwart leader, too,
our Bakeless kept us right.

Professor Albert held us down with double entry books Or had us roaming ’round the world from here to farthest nooks.

Another—true and good was he,
of him we stood in awe

When Hartline led us to his class with hatchet, plane and saw.

The man who used to punctuate, or dessicate a noun

Is now on guard to punch you “late”—as Register in town.

The grammar that we tried to learn Professor Jenkins knew

Time changes all for, now, he fills another place most true

In Classics, such as “Snowbound” or “Lady of the Lake”

Our Mrs. Welsh just labored hard that scholars we might make.

Oh, those were days of happiness and irksome seemed the rule

Which held in check our youthful pranks in dear old Normal School.

Then to our minds tradit̄ional seemed such a thing as war

For was the world not civilized?
—there’d be none any more.

But now a sense of sadness comes for hov’ring in the air

We feel the awful gloom of war around us everywhere.

We all love peace but we must stand for principle and right

And so “safe for democcracy” will crown this righteous fight

A brotherhood of nations then will bind all men of earth

 And God our loving Father shall direct this newest birth
 And as all of our nations are in sack cloth for their sons
 Our own dear Alma Mater mourn for all her missing ones.

But let us have no weeping now, just joyously await
 The gentle, loving, guiding hand of God, to emulate
 And when, in five and twenty years, we'll gather here once more,
 Prepared for future gatherings upon the farther shore.

'93 Kline, Reuben, became superintendent of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Mt. Carmel this summer. Mr.
 Kline goes into the office splendidly equipped for the position, for more than 20 years he has given fine service as Secretary for the corporation and has acted as assistant superintendent.
 His many friends consider this a deserved promotion.

'94 Pfahler, Dr. Geo. E., was married in Brantford, Ontario, Wednesday, July 10th, 1918, to Miss Muriel Wilkes Bennett.
 They are at home 6463 Drexel
 Road, Overbrook, Pa.

'94 Patten, Frank. We find the following in a local paper, August 19: Bloomsburg friends have received word that Frank Patten, formerly of town, and now traveling for a western milling company, is engaged to an attractive French-Canadian girl. The name of the fortunate young girl is not, however, known to his town friends.

'96 Barton, Harry S. The Morning Press of Oct. 3 has the following: It's major H. S. Barton now. For months the former captain of old Company I has been acting as adjutant at Camp Hancock, Ga., and only recently received a well merited promotion to major. Letters of congratulation have already been forwarded to him by his many friends here.

'96 Swartz, Myrtle A. THE QUARTERLY has received the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. Eugene Swartz announce the marriage of their daughter Myrtle Adaline to Reverend Frank Elias Van Wie on Thursday, the nineteenth of September one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, Hallstead, Pennsylvania.

At home Presbyterian Manse, McGraw, New York.

'96 McAlarney, Maude, died at the family home 63 Gaylord Avenue, Plymouth, May 17, 1918 of complications. Miss McAlarney was for many years a teacher in the public schools and later a book-keeper for insurance firms at both Scranton and Wilkes-Barre. Last year's season she was head bookkeeper at the Grand Atlantic Hotel, Atlantic City. Although of frail constitution she gave of her time and strength to both church and civic duties. Funeral was held Monday, May 19.
 Interment in Shawnee cemetery.

'98 The class of 1898 held its 20th reunion in class room E.
 The class has been in feeble health ever since its fifth birthday and at present date its lamp of life is almost extinguished.

B. S. N. S. QUARTERLY

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

The only members of the family present at the bedside on this date were Dr. Oliver Parfitt and wife, Misses Alberta Nichols, Margaret Collins, Mrs. John Mac Guffie, Gertrude Rinker. The representatives of the class thoroughly enjoyed the courtesy and also the entertainment provided by the faculty. It was with deep regret they learned of the death of Prof. Wm. Noetling, and wish to extend their heartfelt sympathy to the family. They have always felt the deepest respect and love for Prof. Noetling, and feel that their life at B. S. N. S. would have missed a great deal if they had not come under the instruction and influence of this grand old man.

'98 Balliet, Blanche P., is teaching in Trenton, N. J., in their new Junior High School as the head of the Science Department. Her address is 39 Colonial Ap.

'98 Williams, Watkin H., is Farm Agent for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Co., with offices at Scranton, Pa.

'98 Brennan, Eugene H. From the Wilkes-Barre Record, Monday, Oct. 7, 1918: Attorney Eugene A. Brennan died early Saturday morning at his home in Edwardsville after a short illness of pneumonia. The suddenness of his death was a decided shock to many friends and associates in this city, who had predicted a brilliant future for the able young lawyer. Attorney Brennan not only possessed a thorough education but was a deep thinker as well.

He was born in Edwardsville, receiving his preliminary schooling in the borough schools and later prepared for college at Wyoming Seminary and Bloomsburg Normal. He was prominently identified with athletics while at Wyoming Seminary, being manager of the foot ball team. He graduated with honors at Bloomsburg State Normal School. He took leading parts in Greek plays at Princeton, graduating from that university in 1908. In 1911 he completed a three-year course in the Harvard University law school. He was a member of the Elks lodge of Wilkes-Barre, the Luzerne Law and Library Association and the American Bar Association. He is survived by three sisters, Julia and Nellie both teachers in the schools, and Catherine, all at home, and two brothers, John of Scranton and Peter, a member of the medical reserve corps in France.

The funeral will be held from the family home, 99 Short St., Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Ignatius Church, Kingston, at 9:30 and interment in St. Ignatius Cemetery. The funeral will be private.

'99 Fetterolf, Rose (sp. c.) of Mifflinville, a well known girl of that place, has left for Chicago where she will be wedded this week to Dr. William M. Baird, of Pyeng Yang, Korea, a missionary to that country, who is spending some time in America.

Miss Fetterolf is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute and spent one year as a member of the Billy Sunday evangelistic party. While at the Moody school she met Dr. Baird.

The couple will spend a month's honeymoon in Wisconsin and will then return to Mifflinville to visit for a short time before sailing for Korea, where Dr. Baird will resume his work. It is expected they will sail about the tenth of October.—Morning Press, Aug. 6, 1918.

'00 Williams, David—Captain David Williams died recently of pneumonia in an army training camp in Minnesota. Captain Williams was none other than "Dave" Williams of Normal fame the strongest pitcher that has ever worn a Normal uniform. Little of "Dave's" recent activities have been heard of but the fact that he had won a captain's commission indicates the stuff that all his friends always knew was in him.

'00 Cope, A. P. has been made Superintendent of the public schools in the borough of Ashley, Pa.

'01 Appleman, Bertha, is a trained nurse and at last report was at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Alabama, doing cantonment work preparatory to going over seas.

'01 Collis, Regina, is not satisfied with her scholastic attainments and is looking forward with eagerness to the obtaining a college degree.

'02 Knelly, Sue M., in a card says: "I have been in the service six months—very busy but well and happy and thankful that I have the rare privilege of caring for our own boys." Her address is U. S. A. Base Hospital No. T, Vichy, France.

'03 Morgans, Thomas, is supervising principal of the Plymouth Township Schools and is doing good and successful work.

'03 Hagenbuch, Rae I.—Word was received late in October, that Rae, in the aviation service on the Belgian front had been taken prisoner. He is in good health and at an unknown detention camp.

'05 Demaree, Joseph P. (sp. c.) At the last word from him, Oct. 20, was in the evacuation hospital in France. In a letter he tells very interestingly of the recent drive in which his division, the 77th, played a prominent part.

Their order to go "over the top" came at 5:30 in the morning. Only 40 men of his company were selected to go, and of them he was one. A few hours later a hand grenade called by the boys a "potato mash-er" exploded at his left knee, causing a wound in the leg, one under the arm and two minor wounds. He writes descriptively of crawling to safety through the barbed wire and blackberry bushes on his hands and knees. He received the first aid, and was then transferred to an evacuation hospital, where he was etherized and operated on and sent on to another evacuation hospital. He wrote that he expected to be transferred to a base hospital for further treatment. Before the last drive 100 men were added to this company and now he says very few of the men in the company who sailed from Camp Upton in March are alive. His division has seen active service since August 6th and he claims he is one of the luckiest men in the company.

His letter is full of praise for the efficiency of the Red Cross, both in the transportation trains and in the hospital. He says he has received "some eats,"—oatmeal with real cream, etc. Unsurpassed cleanliness along all lines he found in connection with the Red Cross work, and the wonderful comforts of clean sheets and real mattresses after sleeping in dugouts for three months.

'06 Masten, Christella, is one of the popular and successful teachers in Binghamton, N. Y. Her address now is No. 10, Jay St.

'06 Osuna, Jose, was greatly bereaved in August by the death of his wife at their home in Porto Rico. He brought her body to the States for interment. Mr. Osuna is a Presbyterian Minister engaged in missionary work in his old home, Porto Rico.

'06 Bohan, Anna, was married June 27 to Prof. James E. Harton, principal of the Carey Avenue School, Wilkes-Barer. The marriage was solemnized in St. Aloysius Church, Kingston, at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed with a solemn high nuptial mass by Rev. Philip Bohan, rector of St. Patrick's church at Johnstown and an uncle of the bride. A local paper says: "Charming and popular, the bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Normal school and for several years taught in Custer street school, and for the past several years she has been a teacher in the Henry Hoyt school. Prof. Harton is a graduate of Stroudsburg State Normal school and is principal of Carey avenue school."

'06 Longenberger (Messersmith) Myrtle, of Fayville, Ill., have recently been spending some time with Mrs. Messersmith's parents at Mainville, Pa. They will soon leave for home where Mr. Messersmith, a Bloomsburg Normal boy who has gone far, is superintendent of the Aetna Explosive Company. Incidentally, he is a candidate for county commissioner in his home county on a good roads platform, and all his many friends here will be glad to get the news of his election.

'07 Maxey, Mae R., died at the home of her parents in Forest City, Saturday, June 29th. The Forest City News says:

"Deceased was a life long resident of this place and was born here on May 1, 1889. She graduated from the Forest City high school in 1905 and two years later from the state Normal school at Bloomsburg. After her graduation she became a teacher in the Forest City schools, a position she held until two years ago, when declining health compelled her to resign. On April 17, of this year she was united in marriage to John W. O'Hara, a prominent young man of Rochester, N. Y., and intended to locate in that city the first of September had she been spared. Fraternally she was affiliated with Ruby chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star and a Past Matron of that organization. She was active in religious circles, being connected with the Methodist Episcopal church and her removal will be keenly felt by her co-workers. Deceased was one of the most prominent young ladies of the town and was universally esteemed in the community. The sympathy of our people will go out to the bereaved young husband and the parents of the deceased. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from her late home. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Interment was made in the family plot in Brookside cemetery below Carbondale."

'08 Morris, Mary E.—On Saturday evening, Sept. 15, 1917 at 6:30 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Mary Evans Morris of 96 Washington St., Edwardsville, to Edward P. Thomas, of Arch St., also of Edwardsville. To the strains of the wedding march played by John E. Morris, a brother of the bride, the wedding party entered the back parlor, where in the bay window, which was banked with palms, Rev. Dr. T. C. Edwards performed the ceremony.

Dinner was served by Mrs. Hochreiter and later in the evening the young people left for New York City. Mr. Thomas graduated from State College and was a mining engineer for the D. & H. Coal Co. and is now in the service and is located somewhere in France.

'09 Creasy (Wright) Ethel—A local paper June 18 says: "A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis D. Wright '11 of East Fifth St. Mrs. Wright was formerly Miss Ethel Creasy.

'09 Ikeler, Kenneth C.—Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McBride, of Cedar Rapids, Nebraska, announcing the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth McBride to Captain Kenneth Cole Ikeler, United States Army on Saturday, Sept. 14, at Charleston, S. C.

'09 Shuman-Edwards. The following from the Wilkes-Barre Times-Leader will be read with interest by the many friends of the bride and groom, both of whom are very well known in Bloomsburg and Catawissa:

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Edwards, of Maple street, Kingston, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary J., to Dr. George A. Shuman, of Catawissa. The ceremony was performed at Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 12, by Rev. Dr. E. E. Wiley, D. D., in the First Methodist Church at that city.

The ceremony was witnessed only by a few immediate friends. The bride wore a blue traveling suit with hat to match. Mrs. Shuman is an accomplished and popular young woman of the West Side. She is a graduate of Bloomsburg State Normal School and was a teacher in the public schools of Kingston. The bridegroom is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal School and of Jefferson Medical College. For the last year he has been an interne at City Hospital and is now serving as a lieutenant in the Medical Corps at Camp Greenleaf.

'09 Fisher, Scott, is now a major and is serving in an American hospital in England. He went to Syracuse University and after graduating practiced medicine there for three years. Enlisted in the Medical Corps last fall with a commission as lieutenant, he was made captain, before he left Camp Upton and shortly after his arrival in England was promoted to major.

'10 Gearhart, Helen (sp. c.) died at the Geisinger Hospital, Danville, Pa., Tuesday, Oct. 29th following a few days illness of influenza. She was admitted to the hospital the day before.

'10 Smith, Ida. The Morning Press of Sept. 20th has the following: Twin girls have been born to Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Conrey, of Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia. Mrs. Conrey was formerly Miss Ida Smith of town.

'10 Keeler, Charles W., is now principal of the Asa Packer School at Mauch Chunk. The fact that he is making good will be shown by the following which appeared in the Mauch Chunk Daily in June: "The salary of Mr. Keeler, principal of the Asa Packer School, who is demonstrating exceptional ability and efficiency, was increased from $95 to $115 per month."

'11 Phillips, Meryl (sp. c.) As a shock to her legion of friends in Bloomsburg came the announcement, May 19th that Meryl Phillips had died that morning in the United States General Hospital, New York City, of pneumonia. She was taken sick in New York while awaiting transportation for the Red Cross service abroad with the Jefferson Hospital unit. Although she never got to see service abroad she nevertheless died in the service of her country. The Board of managers of the Bloomsburg Hospital took the following action:

"Miss Meryl Grace Phillips died in the U. S. General Hospital No. 1, New York City on Sunday, May 19th, 1918. It was this announcement that startled our community, and awakened a universal and profound sympathy for the stricken father and sisters. Miss Phillips possessed in a marked degree the Christian graces which qualified her in a special manner for her life work. Her services as Assistant Superintendent of the Bloomsburg Hospital for nearly two years were rendered in a faithful and conscientious manner, and it was indeed a loss to the Hospital when she heard and heeded the call of her country to a broader field of activity and resigned her position on April 1st last. With her ac-at Sunbury, Pa., to Mr. William C. S. Rinehard. They live at Sunbury, Pa.

'12 Fortner, Helen M. (sp. c.) died at the Jefferson Medical Hospital, of Philadelphia, Saturday, Oct. 26, only a few days before she would have graduated as a nurse from the institution. She was a victim of influenza which she contracted while nursing epidemic patients. She was ill only one week. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Bloomsburg and a teacher in the infant department of the Sunday school prior to leaving town. She was aged 26 years. She was buried in Rosemont cemetery, Bloomsburg, Pa.

'13 The class of 1913 gave an additional $300.00 to their class memorial, when they met here on their 5th anniversary at the commencement in June. The $300 represents the balance in the treasury which has been carried since 1913. The memorial to the school at the time of graduation was a stage curtain and rug.

'13 Hess, Charles L., lately supervising principal of public schools in Monroe Township, Wyoming Co. has retired from the teaching profession and entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church and has a charge at Eatonville, two miles from Tunkhannock, Pa. He recently refused an offer of $110 per month for a nine month term in a second class high school.

'13 Rivinston, Mae, is principal of the Great Bend Schools.

'12 Smith, Margaret H., died at her home in Pottsville, Oct. 16, after an illness of only a week. She was one of the teachers of the Pottsville public schools. The Pottsville Evening Chronicle says: "As a musician she had remarkable talent and was a pianist of ability. Many friends of Miss Smith will deeply regret her untimely death. She had an amiable disposition and was a splendid conversationalist endearing herself to all with whom she came in contact."

'13 Dillon, Charles H. (sp. c.) was married June 19th to Miss Marian Judith Kistler daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Kistler, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The wedding was solemnized at the bride's home, 419 South Franklin street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Hanagan, pastor of Dana Street Evangelical church in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Mrs. Dillon is a graduate of Wilkes-Barre High School and Drexel Institute. The couple are at home at Bloomsburg in the Dillon home, Light Street Road.

'13 Bakeless, John, is now Lieutenant John Bakeless and upon his graduation this year from Williams College he received the degree "cum laude" with Phi Beta Kappa rank as well as prizes—the Van Vechten prize, Lathers prize and medal and Graves prize.

'13 Simpson, Emerson D., died Oct. 14, at his home on Fair street, Bloomsburg, Pa., following an illness of less than two weeks of pneumonia which followed an attack of influenza. For the last five years he has been bookkeeper for Low Brothers at Lime Ridge.

'13 Karns, Helen C. (Coll. p.) received a special senior scholarship of $100 at Bryn Mawr College and her sister, Miss Ruth received a special Sophomore scholarship of $200.

'13 Titman, Frank E., was appointed second lieutenant of infantry in the United States Army from the fourth central infantry officers' training school at Camp Gordon, Georgia.

'14 Watters, Florence L., and G. Lee Hassert, formerly of town, but now of Edgewater, N. J., were married Saturday afternoon, Aug. 31, at the Lutheran parsonage, Baltimore, Md., by Rev. J. E. Byers, former pastor of the bride. Following the ceremony the newly wedded couple went to Washington and following a sojourn in Philadelphia and New York they went to Grantwood, N. J., where they make their home. The bride for several years past has taught school at New Foundland, Wayne Co., Pa.

'15 Milnes, Paul P. (Coll. p.) was married July 15 in Petersburg, Pa., to Miss Odela Noyes, of Kenwood, N. Y. Paul is a first lieutenant in the army and at the time of his marriage was stationed at Camp Lee, Va., but has since been transferred to Camp Sheridan, Ala. His bride is with him.

'15 Shuman, Jennie. was married Friday, July 19th, at Detroit, Mich., to Lewis A.

Whitenight, of Rupert, Pa. The groom is employed by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Co.

'15 Parks, Helen M., was married Friday, July 12, 1918, to Captain Conrad Hutchison, of Tuskegee Institute, Ala. Rev. Dr. A. L. Miller, pastor of the M. E. Church officiated. The wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brooks, Catawissa, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Following a short wedding tour the couple returned to Tuskegee to resume their duties at that place. Helen for the last three years has been a teacher at Tuskegee.

'15 Krum, Howard E. (com. c.) died at Camp Lee, Va., Monday, Oct. 21, of pneumonia following an illness for two weeks of influenza. He was buried at Grovania, Pa., his former home. He was twenty-two years old last September.

'15 Straub, Max, died in a hospital in France, July 21st. He was wounded July 14 by a German aviator. He was buried with military honors. His coffin was draped with the American flag and his war crosses were pinned on the flag. These crosses were sent to his parents at Herndon, Pa. He was awarded all the honors the French army could give anyone.

'15 Yerkes, Elizabeth Helene was married Friday, April 19th, 1918, to Corporal Spencer C. Noble at Milanville, Wayne Co., Pa., her home. We have no further particulars.

'15 Robbins, Earl, a sergeant in the service, died at Camp Meade, September 29th, of pneumonia. He was formerly principal of the Millville High School and was well and favorably known throughout the county. His funeral was held at Eyersgrove, Col. Co. Pa., Oct. 2nd and was very largely attended. Interment was made in the McHenry cemetery.

'15 Andres, Martha, became the bride of Edward Delroy Holmes, April 30, 1918, at the home of the bride in Bloomsburg. Rev. Dr. A. Lawrence Miller, officiating. The beautiful ring service of the Methodist church was used. The ceremony took place at 5 o'clock p. m. The bride and groom left on the 7:25 Penna. train for Philadelphia where the latter reports for duty to the Navy authorities. Mrs. Holmes will reside with her husband as long as he is on duty. The gifts to the bride were many and beautiful and included cut glass, linen, silver and money.

Both bride and groom are among the town's most highly esteemed young people. Both are graduates of the Bloomsburg High School, and for a number of years, until he resigned his position there to enter the Navy, the groom has been employed as book-keeper for the First National Bank. The bride, who is also a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, taught last year in the Mensch school in Montour township.

'15 Hassert, Marie, died at her home in Bloomsburg, Wednesday, Oct. 9, 1918, of pneumonia, following the influenza. She was taken ill at Shickshinny where she was engaged teaching in the Shickshinny schools. Funeral services were held Saturday, Oct. 12. Interment was made in Rosemont cemetery.

'16 Siegel, Mary and Hobart Tyson, of Allentown, were married early in July at the home of the bride in Hazleton.

'16 Seren, Owen M. The casualty list of August 21st, contained the name of Mr. Serene as being seriously wounded. We have no other particulars.

'16 Reed, Kathryn Marie, became the bride of Raymond C. Kase, Wednesday, May 15, at the home of the bride's parents, Elysburg, Pa., Rev. J. W. Shannon officiating. The groom is a graduate of State College, and is employed by the Ridgway Motor Company, of Ridgway, Pa., where they make their home.

'16 Schlauch, Ivan R., has been made Production Clerk for the United States Government at the plant in Berwick, Pa.

'16 Hall, Lee Roy — THE QUARTERLY has received the cards of Miss Anita Murdock Johnston and Lee Roy Hall bound together with a white ribbon. "Further deponent saith not."

'16 Musgrave, Mary, is in Philadelphia taking special work at Temple University.

'16 Hartman, Earl, has been teacher in the Grammar School Riverside. We take a few excerpts from a letter of one the directors: "Two years ago I wrote you for a teacher for our Grammar School and you sent us Mr. Earl B. Hartman. At that time our school was in a terrible condition, no order at all. Mr. Hartman has been with us two years and our school is now one of the model schools in Northumberland county, both in discipline and scholarship and in the two years Mr. Hartman has never once used corporal punishment. Mr. Hartman has now been drafted into the army and we need another teacher. We do not expect another teacher as good as Mr. Hartman has been as I don't think you have his equal in your school, but I do believe you have some good material."

'17 Page, Walter, (sp. c.) who had many friends in town was a student at the school in the Spring of 1917 and it was in June of last year that he quit school to enlist in the regular army. In the casualty list officially reported by General Pershing, Aug. 12, 1918, he is marked as "missing in action." We have no later news.

'17 Lord, Helen. The Morning Press of Aug. 8, has the following:

When the news was flashed to Bloomsburg that Harold Bulla was missing in action, it came like a thunderclap out of a clear sky to his young wife, who had that very day received two letters from him in which he stated that he was then in active service and added: "There's a chance I won't come home, but I believe I will."

And there is none but will hope that his belief may prove true.

It was only last night that the fact became known that before he sailed for overseas he took as his bride Miss Helen Lord, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Lord, of East Seventh street, and one of Bloomsburg's most highly esteemed young ladies.

For six years or more they had been close friends and so on the 23rd of February, 1918, Mr. Bulla came up from Camp Meade and Miss Lord came from Snyderstown and they met at Sunbury, and there the Rev. Mr. Dougherty, pastor of the Sunbury Methodist Church, officiated at their wedding, using the ring ceremony.

That was on a Saturday and on the following Monday the groom returned to camp and the bride to her school, and they pledged to keep their marriage a secret until after the war.

At the completion of her term at Snyderstown, her first year following her graduation at Bloomsburg Normal, Miss Lord went to Lambertville, New Jersey, where she taught for three months, and where she will teach again in the Fall.

While no one will more closely follow the reports that indicate her husband's possible whereabouts than she, she will be joined by a sympathetic community many of whom long since came to know her husband as one of the town's best and most promising young men—a young man whose future was assured, and a young man any town can ill afford to lose.

The Red Cross received information about two weeks ago that Mr. Bulla is a prisoner in a German camp.

'17 Joyce, Walter L., has enlisted in the navy as yeoman, and was stationed in September in Washington, D. C. He was then hoping to take an examination for Assistant Paymaster. His address was Pope Building 817—14 street, N. W.

'17 Brink, Jay Frank, is in the army and early in September wrote an interesting letter to Dr. Waller for the school. He is a sergeant and was in the officers Training School working for a commission. There is very much in army life that appeals to him. His letter was well received by the school.

'17 Dieffenbacher, Mary Louise, teacher in the Jersey-town High School, died at the home of her mother, Monday, Oct. 14, of pneumonia following influenza. She was ill about ten days. She was aged 21 years. Funeral services were held Wednesday, Oct. 16, interment in Dutch Hill cemetery.

'17 Smith, Ted. P. From the Morning Press of May 6th:

Mrs. T. L. Smith has just received a letter from her son, Corporal Ted P. Smith, in which he wrote: "We had a little more than the usual excitement in camp today. Two German planes came over the line near us and they evidently expected to meet with only the French anti-aircraft guns. One American went up to meet them and I had the pleasure of seeing both German planes brought down by him."

'17. Row, M. Kathryn, was married Saturday, Aug. 17, 1918 to Leo. C. MacNamee, of Berwick. The ceremony was performed at the bride's home, Bloomsburg, Pa., by the Rev. P. H. Hoover, pastor of the Reformed church in Bloomsburg. The groom is one of Berwick's best known young men and is a graduate of Drexel Institute. For the present he is engaged as inspector for the American Car and Foundry Company.

'18 Simpson, Venus (sp. c.) and Chester Kahler, of Bloomsburg, were married July 4, 1918, at the Lutheran parsonage on Market street, Bloomsburg, Pa., by the Rev. Norman S. Wolf. Mr. Kahler is bookkeeper at the Bloomsburg plant of Barger, Bain and Munn Hosiery Mills.

'18 Eves, Winifred (sp. c.) and Roy Ikeler, of Millville, Pa., were married Wednesday, Oct. 9th, at Hagerstown, Md. They reside at Millville.

BLOOMSBURG STATE NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENTS IN THE NATIONAL SERVICE Fourth Instalment.

The following pages contain a roster of Bloomsburg State Normal School students in the service, according to the records of the Committee on War Records, Oct. 26th, 1918.

The Committee realize that there are errors and omissions in this list, and it hopes that the readers of the roster will send to the Committee at once any additions or corrections which should be made.

It is the intention of the Normal School to establish a complete, authentic, and permanent record of all students in the service.

To do this the Committee needs and asks the cooperation of the Alumni, and the Patrons of the School.

QUARTERLY

"Entered as second-class matter July 1, 1909, at the post office at Bloomsburg, Pa., under the Act of July 16, 1894.

VOL. XXIV

FEBRUARY, 1919

NO. 2

Again The Quarterly Greets The Alumni

The war and the influenza have made serious inroads upon all schools. Thus far this one has continued its sessions, but with diminished attendance. The sudden signing of the armistice led to the mustering out of the members of the T. A. T. C's and a few of our men who had been thus enlisted resumed their places and work here. Basket ball thus aroused new interest, and hope for a strong base ball team is justified. No case of influenza has developed since October 2nd, just before the last number of the Quarterly was issued, but many of the families represented here have been severely afflicted. Some have been bereaved.

A detailed statement of our Summer Session will be found elsewhere in this issue. The alumni are requested to direct the attention of their friends to it. It is hoped that by this means many will discover the great opportunities here for laying in solid foundations for successful careers in the profession of teaching.

One of the war activities by which the school has benefited is the singing. Miss Rich, the instructor in Vocal Music, is precentor. Her enthusiasm in collecting the best patriotic songs and in having the whole body of students sing them accurately, is irresistible, and, carried also into the devotional music, has put all chapel singing upon a high plane. It is better than at any previous time in the last thirteen years.

An invitation to a dinner and luncheon on Saturday, February 15th has been extended to all the school superintendents and high school principals in the Sixth State Normal School district including the counties of Columbia, Montour, Union, Northumberland, Snyder, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry and Dauphin, and the counties lying immediately to the North and East of the school. It is hoped that the guests will thus become better acquainted with the school, the school will profit by conference with the guests, and that the mutual results will promote the interests of education in the part of the Commonwealth represented. Superintendent L. E. McGinnes formerly a trustee of the school, now a member of the State Board of Education has been invited to preside.

Account of this Conference is given later in this number of The Quarterly.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

Philo.

Philo is certainly having a most successful year. The old members started work in earnest and many new members have joined our ranks. These new members have imbibed a true Philo spirit. They are always willing to take an active part in carrying forward any work of the society.

Philo. holds its meeting on Saturday evening of each week, in Philo Hall. After the regular business meeting, a program is rendered. Only members of this society truly know the enjoyment and benefit which can be obtained from these programs.

May Philo. enjoy many years as pleasant and advantageous as this one.

Callieplan.

The Service Flag which we presented to the School last year proved to be too small for the needs of the School.

We have remedied this matter by replacing the former flag by one of increased size and beauty.

The new flag is of the form which is coming into national use and we are glad that Callie has secured it for the School.

Callie contributed one of the Memorial Windows recently placed in the Model School stairway. The efforts of the members are now directed toward the paying of the remaining debt. This aim has stimulated our efforts to present a public program soon.

We are now facing our Reunion Day which will be Saturday, February 22nd. Arrangements are now under way and we hope to make this the best Reunion ever held.

The Drama to be given in the evening is by a modern French Dramatist, Edmond Rostand. Miss Butler has selected the cast and has begun the training.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. is growing and improving this year more than ever before. The boys that attend the prayer meetings are earnest workers, and co-operate to keep up the standing of the Association.

At the end of last year we elected a committee, which consists of five men, to supervise the activities of the Association, one member being Prof. Brill who is always ready to help in our prayer meetings.

The plans for the Mission Work for this Winter are laid out and we expect to have very good results.

The event of the season is the "Y. M. C. A. Basketball Team" which is helping to keep the school spirit of previous years.

Y. W. C. A.

One new phase of the work this year in the Young Women's Christian Association is the organization of discussion groups of ten each for the purpose of studying about Missions. These groups are planning to have a joint meeting in the near future.

The Social Service Work is not only confined to the school but it is a far reaching and great work. Before Christmas this committee visited the poor of Bloomsburg and then sent donations to the needy. Only those who visit the homes of the distressed know how much this work is appreciated.

On January 12, the representatives of B. S. N. S. having attended the memorable conference at Eagles Mere presented their reports and told of the delightful fellowship which characterized the conference, the plans for constructive work, and the great inspiration to become more efficient in our efforts to do good.

Alumni

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 208.

'75 Cleaver, Wesley M. (sci. course '78) died at his home in Locust township, Columbia County, Pa., Dec. 15, 1918. A local paper in speaking of him says: "One of the best known men in that end of the county, and a man with a brilliant education." He was a graduate of John Hopkins University where he was later an instructor. With his health failing from overwork his physician directed that he live on a farm, and for the last ten or twelve years he has been farming. He is survived by three sons aged 12, 14 and 16 years.

'79 Allen, Ella. On Wednesday, November 27th, Miss Allen became the bride of Wilson C. Bond, of Berwick. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride, 907 Front St., Berwick. Rev. D. M. Harrison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiated. They make their home in Berwick where the groom holds a responsible position in the Berwick plant of the American Car & Foundry Company.

'79 Breece, Hannah E., is teaching in McMinnville, Oregon. She had the misfortune to break the ankle bones and sprain the ligaments of her right foot and leg. The doctor thought that the severe climate of Alaska might cause rheumatism—so she went to Oregon where she is pleasantly situated in her school and greatly enjoys her work. Her address is McMinnville, Oregon.

'82 Boone, J. Edward, (sp. c.) died at the home of his sister Mrs. J. E. Pague at Almedia, January 17th of pneumonia following an attack of influenza.

'91 Yetter, Clyde C. (sp. c.) died at his home in Bloomsburg, Nov. 3rd. His death was due to a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health for a year or more. He was a member of the Col. Co. bar and identified with many of the town's interests. He was President of the town of Bloomsburg for several terms and was president of the Bloomsburg Chamber of Commerce. He is survived by his widow, Mary Adams '00 and three children Clyde, Mary and Frances.

'94 Patten, Frank E., was married Nov. 23rd in Minneapolis, Minn., to Miss Gwendolyn Presho of that City. They reside at Stevens Court apartments, Minneapolis.

'94 Young, Robert D. (sp. c.) for some years safety expert for the State Department of Labor and Industry has resigned his position to accept one as head of the safety department of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia.

'96 Omalley (Mrs. E. F. Smith) May S. died at her home 1733 Wyoming avenue, Scranton. A clipping from a paper announcing her death was sent to the Quarterly but nothing indicates the date.

'99 Thomas, David T., formerly principal of Lafayette School, Scranton, resigned his position in November to accept a position in industrial lines. The Scranton Republican of Nov. 19 says: "He received his education in the Phillips-Exeter Academy and the Bloomsburg Normal school and is considered one of the most able of the principals in the whole city. His work in educational lines has been of the most progressive character, and it is a distinct loss to the teaching profession that he has found it necessary to leave the work where he has rendered such efficient service during the past twelve years. His many friends wish him success in his new sphere of labor."

'00 Wilson (Tucker) Frances E. In the Canonsburg notes Dec. 14, 1918 is the following: "Death came suddenly last night to Mrs. Frances Wilson Tucker, wife of Hiram Tucker, chief clerk at the Pennsylvania Training School, at the family home, 325 West College street. Mrs. Tucker yesterday attended to her household duties as usual. At night she was seized with acute indigestion and died about 11:30. Her death was a shock to her family and friends. Mrs. Tucker has resided in Canonsburg since her marriage, June 19, 1907. Mrs. Tucker after her graduation became an instructor in the Morganza Training School. She was an estimable woman and devoted to her home. She was a member of the Greenside Avenue Presbyterian church.

'02 Cobleigh, Edwin E., died at his home 41 Charles St., Wilkes-Barre, on May 6th, 1918. The Quarterly did not learn of his death until November 1918, and now has no particulars of his illness and death.

'03 Hagenbuch, Rea. I. is visiting his mother and friends in Bloomsburg. He was an aviator in his country's service, and achieved distinction by his skill and daring. Not only was he the only town aviator who actually had the experience of fighting in the air but he is the first county boy who was taken prisoner to return home.

'04 Millard (Hopkins) Hannah E., died in December at her home in Tacoma, Washington. She is survived by her husband and three children.

'05 Hemingway, Rowland (coll. p.) A local paper of December 27, 1918 says: "A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Hemingway."

'06 Turner, Thomas (Coll. p.) lost his life when the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Princess Sophia foundered late in October off Skagway, Alaska. He was employed as a mining engineer by the Guggenheim interests.

'07 Cogswell (Taylor) Bessie. This note was received by The Quarterly: "Born to Rev. and Mrs. P. N. Taylor of Randolph, N. Y., August 30, 1918. a son—Paul Irwin."

'09 West, Karl G., (sp. c.) was an aviator in the U. S. Army. He died November 5, 1918 while in the line of his duty. He was greatly praised for his work.

'09 Edwards, Mary J.—Dr. Geo. A. Shuman. We take the following from the Wilkes-Barre Times-Leader: Mr. and Mrs. James D. Edwards, of Maple street, Kingston, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary J., to Dr. George A. Shuman, of Catawissa. The ceremony was performed at Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 12, by Rev. Dr. E. E. Wiley, D. D., in the First Methodist church at that city.

'11 Bush, Matilda, was married Jan. 2, 1919 to Mr. Herman Nicholas Bianche White, of New York City. The wedding was solemnized in St. Columba's Catholic church, Bloomsburg by Rev. H. B. Gies, pastor of the church, assisted by Father Murphy, a former pastor of the church. They will reside at Indiana, Pa., where the groom is manager of a large wholesale grocery business.

'11 Sharadin, A. J., is Director of Physical Culture, etc., in the schools of Altoona, Pa. In a note written November 13, 1918, he says: "Brand new eight pound girl came to our house on Monday at 9:10 a. m. (Victory Day.) Both mother and Catherine are coming along O. K." Mrs. Sharadin was Georgena McHenry '10.

'12 Cool, Harold N., is in the army and in December was doing laboratory work in the hospital centre around Nantes, France.

'13 MacAlpine, Dorothy (sp. c.) is living at Shumway, Arizona. She expects to take a course in the Flagstaff State Normal School of that State.

'13 Holmes, Olmstead (sp. c.) won a promotion from second to first lieutenant for gallantry in action was the news that came to his home folks in November. He has been in command of his company, company I, 110th Infantry ever since his return from the hospital.

'18 Kaiser, Ruth C. (sp. c.) died Tuesday, November 5th. The Quarterly has no particulars concerning her illness and death.

Bloomsburg's Summer School.

The authorities in control of the Normal School have long realized the economic waste of having so much school capital and equipment lying idle for ten or twelve weeks of the year. We believe that there are many students eager to avail themselves of the advantages of an institution of this kind, if an opportunity for Summer work were offered.

The resolution passed last June by the Alumni Association calling upon the school to offer a Summer term has brought the plans to a focus.

It is now definitely settled that a term of six weeks will be opened on Monday, June 30th. School sessions will be held five days in the week. The heads of departments of the regular school faculty will teach.

The courses offered will be practical and helpful.

In addition to most of the branches of the first three years of the Teachers' Course, the school will offer, through its Commercial Department, opportunities for thorough training in Stenography, Typewriting and Bookkeeping.

Prof. Black will devote his entire time to the classes in penmanship. The opportunity of securing training under an expert of his standing and the possibility of earning the Palmer Certificate should be incentives to any grade teachers who desire advancement.

Drawing, Vocal Music, Domestic Science, Domestic Art and Manual Training will be taught by specialists in these arts.

The pedagogical work will be one of the strong features of the course. Psychology, Child Study and Methods of teaching will be a part of the course. It is proposed to have kindergarten and beginners classes in attendance in the Model School. This will give an opportunity not only for observation in the regular work of these grades, but with the facilities of the gymnasium, an opportunity for demonstration in organized play. Play-ground instruction and control will also be given.

The opportunities for nature study and kindred work will be of the best. Trips for the study of the flora and fauna of the surrounding country will be a regular part of the work.

Practical courses in the common branches with special emphasis upon the methods of teaching them will be a fundamental part of the course. The aim will be to meet the needs and requirements of those attending the school.

B. S. N. S. QUARTERLY

It is hoped soon to have a conference of schoolmen, principals and superintendents to aid us in outlining a practical course of study to meet the needs of their teachers or pupils.

Students contemplating entering the Junior class in the Fall may find it of advantage to attend this session if the class of their high school does not meet the state requirements. We hope to be especially helpful to those about to be examined for teacher's certificates.

Then with all of the hard work we expect to have a good time. The gymnasium, tennis courts and athletic field will be freely offered to all who may enjoy their advantages.

Hikes and the attendant fun of an evening lunch out of doors are in prospect. The vicinity of Bloomsburg offers all the variety of beauty of hill and dale, mountain and valley.

The dormitory and boarding department of the school will be open during the term.

An opportunity for private lessons in Voice, Piano and Violin will be offered. In brief the facilities of the school, in so far as possible, will be placed at the command of the students.

May we hear from you as to your opinion of the project?

What do you want us to teach?

Remember the dates—June 30th to August 9th.

At the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association held in the Normal Auditorium Class Day, Tuesday, June 16, 1918, Miss Helen Carpenter made a motion that announcement be published in the School Quarterly of the decision to conduct a Summer School here and that the Alumni be urged in this announcement to give their support by doing all they can to send students.

Penmanship.

"So far as my investigations have gone the penmanship in the Bloomsburg State Normal School, Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania, ranks the highest of any similar institution in the United States." From an address on Normal School Penmanship, delivered by J. A. Stryker of the Kearney, Nebraska, State Normal School, at the National Penmanship Teacher's Association in Chicago, Christmas week, 1915. Mr. Stryker is a penman and penmanship teacher of National reputation.

Palmer Method Penmanship.

This course will be a training school for Teachers, Supervisors, and Special Teachers of Penmanship.

Probably no other reform in a branch of elementary education has ever in so short a time aroused greater and more wide spread interest among public educators than muscular movement writing. Fifteen years ago it was almost unknown in elementary schools. Up to that time writing had been a subject of various and disastrous experiments whenever it received any attention at all.

Previous to the advent of the Palmer Method, it was that learning to write was merely a process of copying from type forms without regard to the method of execution. No definite method of development in movement and application was understood; in fact, school authorities had no technical knowledge of the subject, and but little, if any, interest in it. A wonderful change has taken place in sentiment among school officials and teachers, and the requirements are becoming definite and rigid. The almost spontaneous acceptance of the Palmer Method in the public schools of America found teachers and principals unprepared to handle the subject rightly. This condition has created a demand for supervision of the work by specialists, and emphasizes the necessity for thoro technical training of teachers in the principles of muscular movement writing and effective methods of teaching the subject.

In this course we will not only teach you how to write well, but how to teach penmanship well, and Palmer Method Teacher's Certificates will be awarded by the A. N. Palmer Company of New York City to all bringing their work up to the required standard.

Special.

A course in lettering will also be given to those desiring to take it up. Text lettering is both fascinating and practical. Skill in this branch can readily be turned to very satisfactory profit from lettering diplomas, certificates, etc. Students should be able to acquire skill enough in the use of the text pen during this course to do creditable diploma work.

Commercial Department.

This Department has developed rapidly in recent years, and its graduates are appreciative and its best advertisers. During war times its success in preparing students for the United States Civil Service has added materially to the prestige of the Department.

In conjunction with a thorough training in stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping and penmanship, under experienced teachers, the students of this department have the benefit of the excellent departments of English and Mathematics for thorough courses in English Grammar, Rhetoric and Arithmetic. They are also required to take special work in orthography, composition and punctuation in connection with their practice work in transcribing shorthand notes.

Students may enter the commercial work at any time of the school year and be graduated as soon as they can meet the requirements, irrespective of the time of the year. The opportunity to continue their studies for the additional six weeks of the summer session, and hasten the time of completing the course, should prove attractive.

THERE IS A GREAT DEMAND FOR TEACHERS OF COMMERCIAL BRANCHES FOR HIGH SCHOOL WORK, and the summer session gives the opportunity to grade teachers and others to prepare for these high school positions. The school wishes to give teachers every possible opportunity to make the necessary preparation, and will conduct special classes during the spring term, should there be sufficient demand to justify it. Teachers whose school terms end in March, April and May may enter such classes and continue during the summer session. Teachers interested in this spring term work should write to the department at an early date for information regarding the organization of the classes.

The present great demand for competent stenographers for all lines of service will unquestionably continue for many years. The Department gives special attention to the development of thoroughly trained stenographers, and would be glad to have your influence in securing students. The time required for this work is from one to two years, depending upon the ability and education of the student.

Rates for Summer School.

The charge for tuition and registration for the six weeks' summer term will total twelve dollars. This will include the privilege of attending all regular classes, including penmanship, the use of the gymnasium, tennis court, athletic field, etc.

The dormitory will be open for those desiring to secure board and room. The charge will be $5.00 per week and will include board, room, lighting and laundry work.

The use of the library will be freely extended to all students.

Conference of Superintendents and Principals Feb. 15th.

The assurance of closer co-operation between the superintendents and principals of schools in Central and Northeastern Pennsylvania and the Bloomsburg State Normal School and hearty endorsement of the proposed summer school were among the direct results of the meeting at Normal Saturday of the superintendents and principals with the faculty.

Visitors began arriving at eight o'clock. The morning was spent in visiting classes and inspecting buildings and plant, chapel services being held at the close of the morning session. In addition to the regular exercises, special musical features were given under direction of Miss M. H. Rich, including "Kipling's Recessional," "The Unfurling of the Flag" and the "Pennsylvania State Song." The entire school joined in the Americans' Creed and the Salute to the Flag.

Dinner was served to the guests and faculty at 12:30 o'clock, in the small dining room. As the guests passed through the large dining room, the students rose and sang their Alma Mater.

At the conclusion of the dinner, the conference was inaugurated, Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr., introducing the chairman, Superintendent L. E. McGinnes, of Steelton, Pa., member of the State Board of Education. In opening the conference, Superintendent McGinnes outlined the purposes of the gathering, calling attention to the fact that this conference was unique in the annals of Pennsylvania educational history. He then went on to state that the purpose of the conference was to bring about closer co-operation between the public school system, as represented by the superintendents and principals, and the normal schools. The meeting was then thrown open, the following gentlemen being called upon for informal expressions of their views: Superintendent I. H. Mauser, Northumberland County; Superintendent, Wm. W. Spigelmyer, Union County; Superintendent Joseph Howarth, Shamokin; Superintendent H. U. Nyhart, Newport township; Superintendent Fred W. Diehl, Montour County; Superintendent L. P. Bierly, West Pittston; Superintendent J. O. Herman, Edwardsville; Superintendent W. W. Evans, Columbia County. The following members of the Normal School Faculty also spoke: Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr., Prof. C. H. Albert, Prof. W. B. Sutliff, Prof. O. H. Bakeless. James Brown, Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Normal School, spoke of the policy of the Board in retaining teachers of experience.

At first the discussion centered around the imperative need of competent teachers in the public school system of the Commonwealth, and the difficulty encountered, because of comparatively low wages, in inducing young people to enter the teaching profession. Heretofore it has devolved upon the normal schools, very largely, to persuade young people to prepare for the profession, but the sentiment of the conference was that the superintendents and principals should feel a greater sense of responsibility in this respect.

The matter of a summer session at the normal school then came under discussion. It was felt that the summer session would be of great value in that it would give public school teachers an opportunity to improve their pedagogical training, and thus help to solve the problems encountered both in rural and town systems. It was also felt that the summer session would give an opportunity to a class of students who were unable to pursue studies through the entire school year.

Charles Miller, trustee of the normal school, offered a resolution to the effect that the superintendents and principals of this Normal School District organize to forward this work of closer co-operation. The resolution was unanimously adopted and it was decided that there should be an annual meeting, the following officers being elected for the ensuing year: President, Superintendent L. E. McGinnes; secretary, W. B. Sutliff, Superintendent Evans was elected chairman of a committee of school superintendents to co-operate with the normal school in preparing a course of study for the Summer School.

At four o'clock there was a demonstration of school room gymnastics by the Senior girls under the direction of Miss Schools.

The guests of the day were: S. H. Dean, Northumberland; county superintendent F. W. Diehl, Danville; J. C. Carey, Danville; Supt. H. U. Nyhart, Glen Lyon; E. G. Jacobs, Nescopeck; L. P. Bierly, West Pittston; M. C. Carter, Duryea; Miss Florence Dobbie, Duryea; Supervising Principal J. O. (Harman, Edwards-ville; Superintendent L. P. Sterner, Bloomsburg; High School Principal W. C. Mauser, Bloomsburg; H. R. Snyder, Catawissa; Supt. W. W. Spigelmeyer, Mifflinburg; Supt. L. H. Mauser, Sunbury; G. L. Swank, Sunbury; Supt. J. N. Howert, Shamokin; J. A. Shovelin, Kulpmont; Superintendent D. N. Dieffenbacher, Danville; Supt. J. Y. Shambach, Berwick; Miss Bernice Beishline, Orangeville; Thomas Morgan, Plymouth; L. E. McGinness, Steelton; Miss Elizabeth Welsh, Orangeville; Miss Ida M. Walter, Catawissa; Miss Mercy E. Gotshall, Aristes; Supt. William W. Evans, Bloomsburg; L. R. Appleman, Benton.

Additional Alumni Notes

'78 Strauss, I. Hess. After making arrangements for his burial, even to the design of his grave, the death of Isaac Hess Strauss, a former resident of Columbia county, occurred at the West Penn hospital at Pittsburgh Tuesday. Some time before his death Mr. Strauss had forwarded the instructions for his burial, with a design of the grave attached, to his cousin, Nevin T. Englehart, of town.

He was born in Montour county October 4, 1857, and was aged 61 years. When a young man he resided with his parents for a number of years in Centre township. He was a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, class of 1878. Following his graduation he entered the service of the D., L. & W. railroad as telegraph operator and extra agent. Four years later he became agent for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Creasy and later served in that capacity at Mocanaqua, Nanticoke and Wilkes-Barre. He was then made superintendent and agent of the Pittsburgh Transfer Station at Pitcairn, Pa., and on December 1, 1912, he was made a freight agent at Pittsburg, where he served until his death. He was a member of the St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, Landmark Lodge 442 F. & A. M., of Wilkes-Barre and the Wilkesburg Automobile Club. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Catherine Rooker, of Muncy, Pa.

The body will arrive in Bloomsburg on the 7.23 Pennsylvania train Friday morning and will be taken to the undertaking establishment of G. G. Baker. Brief services will be conducted at the grave at 11 o'clock Friday morning with interment in the Almedia cemetery. Rev. F. O. Musser, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will officiate.—Morning Press, Feb. 20.

The War Activities of the School

The great war is ended (at least we are indulging the hope that it is ended, in spite of the fumings and frothings of the beaten Huns,) the nation has celebrated the event by oversubscribing a great Victory Loan, and the boys are coming home. The part played by the school in the great struggle has won so much official recognition and commendation, has won, to drop for a moment into army language, so many "citations," that we all take a just pride in the record made. Now that the record is complete, we owe it to our Alumni to present a report of our activities in the great war, that they may know what their Alma Mater has done, and thus be able to share with faculty and undergraduates the honor and pride in which all may justly indulge. Here is the record. Let us begin with the Red Cross work. We have a membership of 135 in the adult class, and 392 in the junior class. These various Red Cross Drives contributed jointly in money the respectable sum of $625.42. In addition, the ladies of the school, faculty and the students, during a period of fourteen months, by assiduous plying of needles, knitted 139 sweaters, 67 pairs of socks, 21 helmets, 5 scarfs, 31 pairs of wristlets, 31 surgical wipes, and 12 washclothes, while the children of the Model School made 50 comfort pillows.

The school took an active and enthusiastic part in the War Savings and Thrift Stamps Campaign. Six War Savings societies flourished in the school. The first was organized by the faculty. Each of the two literary societies constituted one, while the other three were composed of children of the Model School, thus enrolling the entire membership of the school. The school office was made a station for the sale of stamps, and reported total sales of $293.50 in Thrift Stamps, and $3292.24 in War Saving Stamps.

In the Y. M. C. A. war drive the school was apportioned a quota of $200 and subscribed $290.00.

In the United War Work Campaign of last year the school's quota was $250.00. The incidents of this campaign were quite spectacular. The Senior Class gave us the first sensation by pledging itself for the entire amount, thus putting the school "over the top" in the initial rush. The Junior and Second Year classes followed up the good work of the Seniors by subscribing substantial amounts, while the rest of us came up with the reserves and closed the campaign by more than quadrupling our quota, carrying the total to $1062.05.

But it was in the several Liberty Loan drives that the school won its greatest honors. In the first and second loan drives the school did not figure as an organization, but in the third campaign the Liberty Loan Committee of Columbia County honored the school by constituting it a separate district and assigning it a quota of $3500. The school responded by almost quadrupling its quota, subscribing $12,000.00, thus winning a flag with two stars, a star for every quota oversubscribed.

In the fourth Liberty Loan drive we were apportioned the same amount and subscribed $12,300.00, again winning a flag with five stars in it, a star for every half quota oversubscribed.

In the Victory Loan drive recently completed we were assigned a quota of $2750. Long before the close of the campaign we had subscribed $8700.00, an oversubscription of $5950. For every half quota oversubscribed we earned a star in our flag, so we won a flag with four stars.

Even this record is not exhaustive. In addition to the above the school contributed money and clothing for Belgium and Serbia relief, and for the Library War Service it contributed $16.50 in cash and 238 books, prepared for circulation, a fact greatly appreciated by the Commission.

As a special token of appreciation of the fine work done by the school Mr. G. Edward Elwell, Jr., County Chairman, recently presented to the school as a trophy a Prussian parade helmet, never worn, made in 1916, to be worn on the occasion of the Huns' triumphal entry into Paris. It is unnecessary to explain why the helmet was never worn.

Such is the splendid civilian record made by your Alma Mater in the great war against the enemies of civilization, a record we hope not unworthy to stand beside the noble military record made on the battlefields of Europe by her brave sons whose privilege it was to serve with the colors.

The Summer School

The prospects for a successful summer session of the Normal School are excellent. As our readers know, the project is a new one here and has been looked upon in the nature of a venture. We feel that we are safely beyond that point of view.

Several thousand circulars have been sent out and many replies are being received. Application for rooms in the dormitory are coming in and reservations are being made.

Mrs. Kendall will be in charge of the dining hall as usual, thus insuring the excellent management of that department.

The dormitory regulations will be in the hands of the several teachers living there.

The aim will be to make the dormitory life of the students as pleasant and free as is consistent with the purpose of the school to do effective work.

The faculty will consist of at least sixteen members. They are as follows :

W. B. Sutliff, Dean Math.

C. H. Albert, Geog. and Sch. Mgt.

O. H. Bakeless, Psychology, Methods.

Wm. Brill, History, Civics.

A. B. Black, Penmanship.

J. C. Foote, English, Manual Training.

J. T. Goodwin, Stenog. Type-writing, Bookkeeping.

D. S. Hartline, Botany, Zool., Agri.

Fanny M. Mitchel, Do Sci., Do. Art

Mabel Moyer, Observation School.

Mabel Rich, Pub. Sch. Music, Voice.

Leah Robins, Public Speaking, County Poem requirements.

Bertha Schools, Physical Culture, Playground Instruction.

H. G. Teel, Latin, French.

C. L. Werntz, Math.

Arrangements have been made to provide instruction for any pupils who may desire private lessons upon the piano. Miss Rich will give private lessons in voice training.

We regret to announce that Mrs. Herman will be unable to take up the work in Spanish during the summer term. This language will probably not be offered this summer.

If any prospective student desires information regarding special lines of work he may feel at liberty to correspond with any member of the faculty in whose department this work is offered. It must be born in mind however, that the offering of special work must be conditioned upon there being a sufficient number of students desiring to take the work to warrant the formation of a class.

A careful record will be kept of all work done by each student and proper credit given. Students may thus gain permanent credit for work done, such credits being available at any future time.

The credit will be given upon the basis of work done rather than by the number of weeks. That is, if intensive work is done in any line more credit may be earned than would be possible in six weeks of regular school work. We believe this plan is fair to both the pupil and the institution.

As an example of how credits may be earned for future use in completing the Teacher's Course we will quote from work offered by Prof. Brill.

"In the work of the First Year: the history of the Eastern Nations and Greece covering about one-half of the work required."

"In the work of the Second Year: the first half of the course in Modern History, the first half of the course in English History, covering together one-half the work required for the second year; and the first half of the course in Civics."

"In the work of the Junior Year: one half of the regular term's work in United States History, beginning with the Discovery."

At the suggestion of the Superintendents of Columbia and Montour Counties special courses are being outlined for teachers from these schools. If these students so prefer they will be classified together. In this way many special features of work adapted to plans already in force or being planned for these counties can be handled to best advantage. We expect to have the cooperation and help of the County Farm Agent and of the Director of Vocational School work of this district.

In this way uniform plans for the various contests and exhibits to be held during the coming school year can be effectively presented.

The summer school faculty will appreciate the cooperation of farmer student and friends in making the advantages offered here as widely known as possible. We shall be pleased to have you visit us and note the progress we may have made in the "Old Normal" of wider usefulness.

Remain the dates, June 30th to Aug 9th

State Aid in the Summer School.

Tuition will be paid by the Commonwealth for all students pursuing the regular Normal School Course. This includes those taking the branches of the first year of the course, who will receive credit toward graduation for such work ; it includes also those working off branches to enable them to enter higher classes of the Normal Course.

Those are not entitled to such aid who are taking work in order to get the State Permanent Certificate, those graduates who are preparing to get additional subjects endorsed upon their diplomas, those preparing for college or working off college conditions, and those specializing in Music, Drawing, Domestic Science or Commercial Work.

The Alumni will be interested to know that the class reunions to be held regularly this year are those of the classes of 1874-79-84-89-94-99-1904-09-14-17. The classes of 1894 and of 1909 are the classes that will hold their 25th and 10th anniversaries respectively, and will be the special guests of the school. The members of these classes will please regard this announcement as having the force of a personal invitation by the school to become its guests at their reunion to be held on Tuesday, June 24th, next. All those accepting this invitation are requested to notify the school by the 21st of June, in order that they may be properly provided for. All those who have participated in such reunions here will appreciate the enjoyment that awaits the members of these classes. The refreshments for them will all be served at the same time in the dining room on Tuesday. This arrangement has been found to be in every way more satisfactory than the previous one, and it takes the place, as well, of the annual commencement dinner formerly held at the close of the commencement activities on Wednesday. The school alumni will have special rooms for the reunions of the several classes as usual.

By action of the board of trustees the Registration Fee will be $9.00 per year or $3.00 per term. This increase will entitle those registered to all of the regular entertainments of the lecture course and all the athletic events conducted by the school.

Alumni.

The QUARTERLY desires to hear from all Alumni of the institution. Please consider this a personal invitation to let us know all about yourself and all you can tell us concerning your classmates. Address all communications for this department to G. E. Wilbur, Lock Box No. 203.

'18 Miller, Clyde has purchased the confectionery and ice cream parlor of George Lahr in Danville, Pa., and took possession the first of April.

'18 Davenport, Edna, was married to Mr. Rutter Ohl, of Bloomsburg Sunday, March 16, 1919, at Elkton, Md.

Meeting of the Alumni Association of New York City and Vicinity

The Bloomsburg State Normal School Alumni Association of New York City and Vicinity held its annual meeting at Hotel McAlpine, Saturday, May 24.

It was a delightful and enthusiastic gathering, sixty-three students including some wives and husbands of graduates, whom the school most cheerfully appropriate as worthy additions to their alumni force, were present. F. H. Jenkins and O. Wakeless were present as guests from the school.

Mr. C. W. Fisher, '05 presided most effectively, and to his enthusiastic leadership of the success of these meetings are due.

An hour of social converse and renewal of acquaintance preceded the luncheon, which was followed by a short business meeting, closing about five o'clock.

The surprising fact was noted that upward of four hundred alumni and former students of the school are on the list of this live, active B. S. N. S. unit.

Addresses were made by Clyde Fisher, presiding; Prof. Arthur Crossly '97, F. H. Jenkins '76, O. H. Bakeless '79, and a number of others. The spirit of loyalty and affection for the "Old Normal" was marked and inspiring.

We regret that the "write up" of the meeting by the secretary of the association failed to reach us before going to press, which makes it impossible for us to publish a fuller account of the meeting and the names of those who were present.

We hope all these alumni will see that their correct address will be reported to the school office from time to time to insure their getting the school publications regularly.

Athletics

The weather-man has dealt most unkindly with our very laudable desire to embark upon a successful baseball season. Quite by chance we have used the right word. To look at the field at this writing, embark is fitting. Four games shifted and but one played is a record.

It is but fair to the management to say that this accounts for the fact that our team was compelled to play, as its very first game, one of the hardest of the schedule.

One of the features of Commencement Week will be a game with a team composed of former students who have been in the army. A strong team is already being listed and this game promises to be the game of the season.

We invite you to mark this event upon your calendar and be on hand to welcome the boys.

NORMAL LOST TO WYOMING

SEM.—4--2.

Morning Press :

In the opening game of the Normal 1919 base ball season Saturday afternoon the strong Wyoming Seminary team bested the Normal aggregation on Normal field by the score of 4--2. Fisher, Normal's slab artist, held the visitors to five hits and deserved a victory, but his support at critical stages was ragged.

The Normal nine showed signs of developing into a fast team, however, and for their first game of the season made a creditable showing. Wyoming Seminary, their time honored rivals, came to Bloomsburg with a team composed largely of last year's players and their game here Saturday made the fourth of season, while it was the first appearance of the locals. The Normal team has had scarcely more than a week's practice and the first two games on the schedule were postponed because of rain and cold weather. Then, too, the Spring vacation occurred just at a time when the players should have been on the field daily.

Wyoming threatened in the first inning when Sudnick, first man up, hit safely and promptly stole second. He was stranded, however, when Adams and Harris flied out to left field and Davis to first base.

Normal in their half drew first blood, when Dunbar, first man up, was hit by a pitched ball. Smith made an effort to sacrifice Dunbar to second but hit into the hands of the Wyoming pitcher and Dunbar was out at second with Smith landing on first. Berger slammed the pill for two bases, with Smith taking third on the hit. Felker knocked a long fly to the right fielder with Smith scoring after the catch. Kirkhuff ended the inning by fanning.

It was in the second inning that Normal went wild and allowed three men to score on one hit. Hudson, first man up, was given a base on balls. He stole second and Tee was out on a fly to left field. Bori connected with one for two bases, with Hudson scoring. Shephard knocked an easy grounder to short, but Felker at first missed the throw and before the ball could be relayed Bori scored and Shephard landed on third. He scored on Williams out to deep left. Sudnick ended the inning by the strikeout route.

Wyoming scored another in their half of the third, when after two men were out, Davis was safe on Felker's error. Second to first, taking second on the error. Hudson's single scored him. Bori struck out.

Both teams tightened up at the end of the third inning and not another run was scored. Wyoming succeeded in getting a man on third on two different occasions but Fisher tightened while Normal got several men as far as second and one to third but the batters were unable to connect when hits meant runs. The score :

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its election and the following officers have been installed for the coming year:

Pres. Ethlyn Gamble
V. Pres. Helen White
Sec. Marion Agnew
Treas. Evelyn Wagner

Bible Study, Gertrude Martin

Missionary, Mrs. Miller

Devotional, Clara Santee

Music, Alice Cocklin

Information, Hilda Wendell

Social Service, Miss Hinckley

The new officers started work in earnest and the members are taking an active part in carrying forward the work of the society.

The Missionary spirit of the school seems to have been revived and next year we expect to go over the top for Missions.

The "Eight Week Club" training class has begun its series of meetings with a good attendance and there are bright prospects of many delightful and beneficial gatherings.

The election of delegates to the annual Eaglesmere Conference June 27—July 7, has been held with the result that ten members have been chosen to go as representatives of our Y. W. C. A.

In order to enlarge our Conference budget, we are working up an interesting play which will be given in the near future.

Philologist

Tho handicapped by the war and later by the influenza, Philo began the year with the determination to make this another successful year along literary lines. As we come to the close and look back we can indeed say that Philo has succeeded well.

The Reunion on Thanksgiving day with the drama in the evening brot many former students back to Normal. A delightful and memorable day was enjoyed by all those present.

Our public program given in February was well attended, and demonstrated the ability of Philo to produce a favorable entertainment.

Many excellent programs have been presented at the close of our business meetings Saturday nights in which the talent of the society has been displayed to good advantage. A debate was held one evening which aroused the interest of the society in argumentation.

The society has almost completed the payment of the window purchased last fall and placed in the hall of the Model School building. Philo is now contemplating the securing of a memorial to the members who were in the United States service. The character of this memorial has not as yet been fully decided upon.

As a whole Philo has enjoyed a prosperous year. We sincerely hope the society will have many more as successful years.

Callie

The members of Callie feel that they have improved fairly well the opportunities the Society affords for cultural training. In addition to the regular Saturday evening programs, the Society has given two very successful public programs this year, and the drama, given at the time of the annual reunion was creditably presented.

In the line of visible accomplishments the Society has to its credit (1) a new service flag suited to the school's needs; (2) A beautiful art window; (3) An excellent bronze portrait of Lincoln.

In order that the work of the Society may be more successfully planned and carried to fulfillment, the members have selected Prof. Bakeless, beloved of all, and who is always working for the upbuilding of the school.

Y. M. C. A.

The association, as ever, is trying to make student life worth as much as possible. It is keeping up the weekly prayer-meetings. The attendance is fair considering the time of the year and the small number of young men residing in the dormitory. Reputation work is getting under way and several trips are being planned. Several baseball games are anticipated between High School and the Y. M. C. A. Election of conference delegates to Blairstown, N. J. was held and seven chosen. The number is limited to seven by the Advisory Committee of the Interscholastic Conference. This gathering promises to be one of the finest that has ever been held at Blairstown.

The election of new Y. M. C. A. officers took place in March. The officers are as follows: President, Lawrence Baker; Vice Pres., Carl Berger; Secretary, Robert Anthony; Treas., Ralph Anthony.

Arbor Day Observance and 1919 War Hero Memorial Pinery

After reading in Faculty meeting Governor Sproul's proclamation of Arbor Day, Principal Waller appointed Professor Hartline, of the Biological Department, to prepare appropriate activities for its observance by the school in the spirit of the proclamation.

Following is the record of the features of the observance.

Arbor Day Observance at the Bloomsburg State Normal School annually results in very material addition to the tree-life of the school grounds. Last year 300 white and red pine seedlings and 60 American sweet chestnut were planted in nursery form by the Senior School Agricultural Class as a regular part of their work. A large percentage of these survived the winter and are now doing well.

The correlation of this work this year with the regular activities of the school are somewhat unusual in extent and quality.

The Senior Class raised from nuts 100 chestnut seedlings. These they have now planted in nursery form. After about two years, the Senior Agricultural Class then will continue the work by setting on the stock of the seedlings, scions of the Sober-Paragon - Chestnut which are now being raised. After two years these ought to be along far enough to plant into an orchard which the school may find place for on the Campus. This will again furnish Arbor Day planting for the School Agricultural Class. If the school does not wish to make room for these, the grafted trees have a market value of $2.00 each. Finding a market and ministering to it is a part of the School Agricultural Study.

This same class have planted 50 White Pine and 50 Red Pine Seedlings furnished by the State Forestry Department thru Forest Commissioner Robert Conklin. These are now planted in nursery form to be transplanted later by the class of that time as a windbreak against the strong northwest blasts against parts of the building which frequently interrupt our school work.

In each case the life history of the tree, enemies, and their economics are studied by the Agricultural Class as well as certain features of these Botany and Zoology Classes. For these trees this involves study of the Chestnut Blight, the June Beetle, the White Pine Blister Rust and the secondary host—the wild goose berry.

Arbor Day furnishes opportunity for taking advantage of the nation wide movement to place trees as Memorials to our fallen Heroes of the Hun war. As a part of the Senior work in the Department of Pedagogy the following program was prepared, involving the Model School, giving the Seniors valuable training for preparing such schedules of work in the schools to which they go.

The school has 15 Heroes who have given the last full measure of devotion to our Country in this terrible war. The program shows that out of these each class and the Model School chooses one, and plants a tree dedicated to his memory. A suitable marker, temporary, properly inscribed, will be placed with each tree till large enough and then a bronze plate with appropriate inscription will be fastened to the tree itself.

PROGRAM.

Invocation, Dr. Waller.

Flag Salute, by School.

Music, "America."

Proclamation, Miss Muriel Griffiths.

Scripture Reading, Miss Alma Bachman.

Essay, "The Origin of Arbor Day," Frank Wilson.

Recitation, "Who Loves the Trees Best," five children from second grade.

Song, Third and Fourth Grades.

Recitation from William Cullen Bryant's Forest Hymn, Robert Sutliff.

Recitation, "Hiawatha's Canoe," John Shuman.

Planting of trees and dedication by the model school.

Song, fifth and sixth grades.

Recitation, "Father We Thank Thee," Third and Fourth Grades. Song, Pennsylvania.

Planting and dedication by various classes of Normal school.

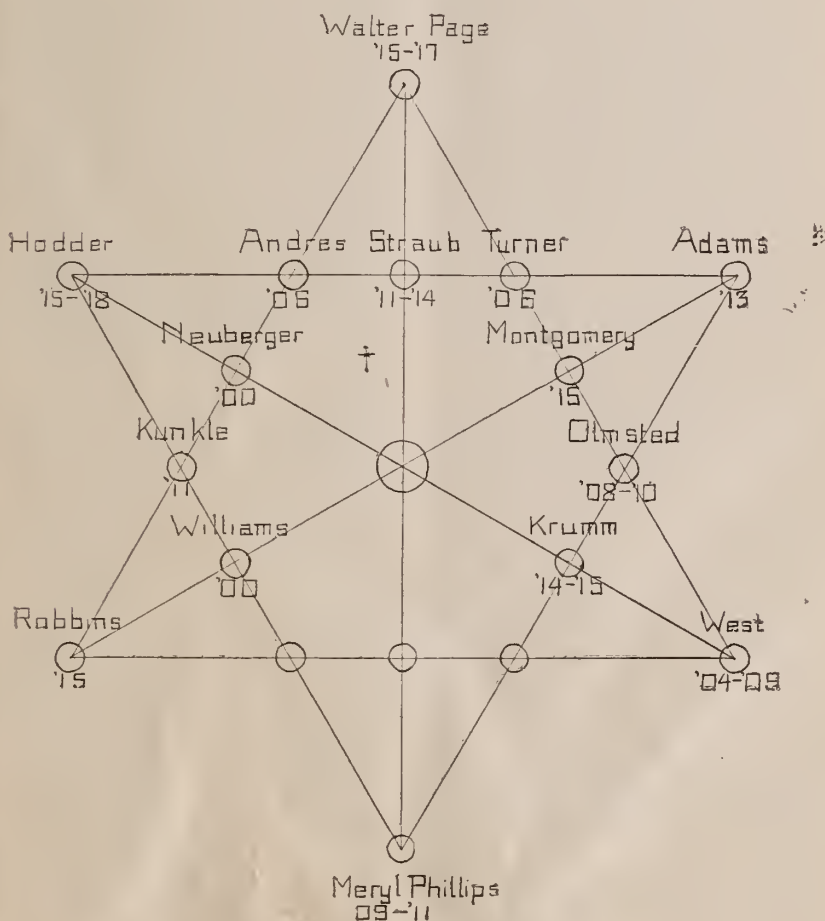

The program reached its climax in the deeply impressive recitation of the prayer, "Father We Thank Thee," by the children of the third and fourth grades, and the beautiful formation and dedication ceremonial by the Senior class in memory of their classmate, Walter R. Page, under the direction of their classman, Peter Castellani, a hero of Chateau-Thierry, who is now finishing his course with the class. Under his leadership the class marched to the tree site and formed a square about the spot; the war record and death of Page were given by Castellani; the tree planted by nine khaki-clad classmen, recently discharged from the service and now finishing their courses, and dedicated by Castellani. Prof. Brill closed this feature of the program by earnest prayer.

The program was prepared by Seniors—Miss Helen C. Hill, Miss Muriel Griffiths, Miss Alma Bachman and Miss Florence Sutton, in the regular course of their work under the direction of the critic teacher, Miss Edith Maize.

The details of the parts, the conception of the pictures and their articulation into a unified scheme is credited to Miss Rich of the Music Department.

By long established custom the graduating class of each year leaves a Memorial to the school. This year's class chose to bring Arbor Day into correlation with this custom. The class will erect the School's Memorial to its Heroes by planting a grove of White Pine trees to be placed as a wind break, supplementing and replacing the going wind break of Cedars and Hemlocks placed a generation ago by the fore-sighted founders of the school. The grove is to be called 1919 War Hero Pinery. It has the star form shown in the cut. Each tree is dedicated to a Hero and the tree designating each one is indicated on a bronze plate placed at the base of a 75 foot Walworth Steel Flag Pole placed in the centre of the star.

Grow thou and flourish well,
Ever thy story tell
Of our hero ;
Long may thy branches wave
To heaven our grateful praise,
Waft them on sunlight rays
To God away.

TREES

BY JOYCE KILMER

WHO GAVE HIS LIFE IN FRANCE

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest Against the earth's sweet flowering breast.

A tree that looks at God all day
And lifts her leafy arms to pray.

A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair.

Upon whose bosom snow has lain ;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

I think I shall never scan
A tree as lovely as a man.

A tree depicts divinest plan
But God Himself lives in a man.

To the passing generations of Mental Arithmetic School Days the form of the grove has interest in being the solution of the old Mental Arithmetic puzzle of both Stod-dard's and Brook's Mental Arithmetic, which ran—

"I am constrained to plant a grove
To please the lady that I love
This ample grove is to compose 19 trees in 9 straight rows,
Five trees in each row I must place
Or I shall never see her face "

Each of the school's 15 heroes then has a tree. The remaining four places are occupied by the flag pole in the center, a red rose at one side and a white rose at the other, and a bed of the sweet blue Forget-me-nots between—the Country's Colors and the Forget-me-not—a Memorial surely that these Heroes might gladly choose.

The trees were planted and dedicated by class-mates of the Heroes who were invited by the school to come here to perform this sweet, sad rite. The members of the families of the Heroes were also invited to attend the dedication.

The handsome shape of White Pine Trees, the star shape of the grove and the magnificent steel flag pole flying high and proudly Old Glory, greatly enhance the beauty of our lovely Campus.

The third feature of the observance was a very delightful lecture by Hon. Gifford Pinchot on the evening of May 21st.

The entire scheme is Prof. Hartline's. The training for the parts and management of details must be credited to the class officers and to Peter Castellani, himself a wounded hero of the fearful fight of Dead Man's Hill, and to Miss Rich of the Music Department.

D. J. WALLER, JR.

Dr. B. F. Gardner of Bloomsburg, presented two articulated human skeletons that he has used for many years for demonstration in his office to the Biological Department where they will continue to be used for study by the Biological classes.

Mr. Thomas Williams, founder of the Bloomsburg Worsted Spinning Mill, an expert spinner who learned the art as a boy in Bradford, England, recently gave a demonstration and lecture in the Biological Department Lecture Room to the Senior Class in Agriculture on the woolen industry, after they had accepted an invitation to visit his mill, where the operation of the complex machinery and the details of the completed process were shown and explained by him.

He showed the wool in its various phases beginning with the fleece as it appears directly after cut from the sheep's back to the finished product—a handsome knit ladies' jacket.

The lecture and demonstration were much appreciated. Mr. Williams's generosity did not stop there. At the close of the lecture he presented his entire outfit of demonstrated material to the Biological Department.

Mr. J. Stewart of the Biological Department was generously awarded a fellowship for the Summer School of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science.

Both he and Mr. Hinckly of the Department will attend the Summer School during summer.

The calendar for the coming year will differ somewhat from that of previous years. Owing to the establishment of a Summer School it is desirable that the school year begin as early as possible and close in time to allow the following session of the Summer School to expire before August.

FOREWORD

The Quarterly again asks for a few minutes of your time and, as you glance over its pages, for a little reverie upon the good features of your school life spent in the institution which it represents. Note some of the special items this number contains. Twenty-five or more weddings are announced to say nothing of those ye editor hath not been invited to. (He means invited to report.) Note the changes in the faculty, the summer school, the enlarged junior class, the foot-ball team, and above all, that we are still on the job to maintain the high standard of teaching ability which we have reason to claim for our graduates.

NEW PRECEPTRESS AT NORMAL SCHOOL

EXPERIENCE, ARRIVES TO TAKE UP HER WORK

Miss Anna G. Kingman, of Vergennes, Vermont, who accepted the position of Preceptress at the Normal School, arrived to take up her new work at the school.

Miss Kingman is a teacher of extended experience and is a graduate of many institutions of learning among them the Vermont Academy and Emerson College of Boston. She was previously engaged at the Allentown College for Women and at one time conducted a private studio at Middleburg, Vermont.

FIRST AID COURSE AT SUMMER SCHOOL

One of the most interesting features of the Summer School was a course of lessons in "First Aid to the Injured" given by Major Shields of the National Red Cross Society, Washington, D. C.

Major Shields remained with us for two weeks, giving two hours daily to lecturing and demonstration. Over one hundred students elected to take the course. They were divided into two classes.

At the close of the course an examination was held and ninety-eight qualified, the successful candidates receiving a certificate of proficiency. This certificate is issued by the National Red Cross and we are proud of the fact that the Bloomsburg Normal School is the first school in the state to have these certificates granted to its students.

The final event of the course was a contest held upon the school campus. Six teams of five each took part. They were given several problems in first aid, one of the members of the team taking the part of the patient. Very quick and excellent work was done in bandaging, applying splints etc. The final event was upon a case of supposed drowning. The team work upon these cases was pronounced the best work Major Shields has seen done by any team he has drilled.

The judges were Dr. J. W. Bruner and Mr. Wiedenman, of the Bell Telephone Co.

The team captained by Miss Leah Robbins and composed of Pauline Harrington, Elsie Wolfe, Marie Fritz and Harry Slagle, won the contest.

The students presented Major Shields with a leather case as a mark of their appreciation of the excellent course of instruction given by him.

We hope to have the Major with us again.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The 1919 session of the State Normal Summer School at Bloomsburg was a thoroughly satisfactory six weeks of hard work and pleasant association with a large group of earnest Pennsylvania teachers.

The enrollment of three hundred and fifty-seven ran far beyond the estimates of the most optimistic. Quick adjustments to unforeseen conditions and requests were made. Members of the faculty found themselves teaching six or seven periods per day when they had fondly hoped for four. In a remarkably short time the new enterprise was organized and moved off in an orderly manner. This was due not only to the experienced corps of teachers at the helm but also to the earnest spirit of co-operation in the pupils themselves.

The work was planned to care for the needs of teachers desiring to be examined for Provisional, Professional or Permanent certificates. Provision was also made for those who desired work in certain branches which they expected to teach or for which they asked credits at the school.

The desire to meet these latter requests led to the formation of several classes having so few members that a rule must be adopted requiring a minimum number for such classes. It is obviously uneconomic to maintain a class in Vergil, for example, for one pupil.

Eleven counties of the state were represented by pupils in attendance. They are, Carbon, Center, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Mifflin, Montour, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Snyder and Union.

The following list will give a fair idea of the general character and scope of the program.

There were upon the daily schedule six classes in Arithmetic, four in Algebra, one in Pl. Geometry, seven in Pedagogy, five in Geography, three in Civics and Pennsylvania History, one in English History, three in U. S. History, one in Ancient History, one in Medieval History, two periods in Botany, two in Physiology, four in English Grammar, four in Literature, one in Rhetoric, one in Physics, one in French, one in Cæsar, one in Cicero and Vergil; two in Elementary Latin, four in Drawing, two in Domestic Science, two in Domestic Art, six in Penmanship, one in Orthography, two in Vocal Music, one in Primary Methods and two in Physical Education.

The first grade in the Model School was taught by Miss Moyer while Miss Schools had a large class of girls from eight to twelve years of age in organized play and domestic art.

Private lessons in voice were given by Miss Rich, and Piano by Mrs. Sutliff.

The faculty consisted of Prots. Albert, Bakeless, Black, Brill, Foote, Goodwin, Hartline, Sutliff, Teel, Werntz, Misses Fry, Good, Moyer, Rich, Robins, Schools, Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Sutliff.

Miss Good was the Preceptress and Mr. Sutliff the Dean of the Summer School.

At the close of the session examinations were held for those who expected to teach in Columbia or Montour counties. It is hoped for the convenience of the students that similar arrangements can be made with other county superintendents.

We believe that by next year arrangements will have been made by which candidates for State Permanent Certificates may be examined in Bloomsburg.

June 21st, 1920 is the date set for opening the next session.

ATTENTION, COUNTY OFFICERS!

This is the season for County Institutes and for Bloomsburg Reunions. Let us get together and renew old friendship. The war is over and we may now eat, drink water, and be merry.

Your attention is called to the following dates. Can we be of assistance to you?

Luzerne Co., week of Oct. 27th.

Lackawanna Co., in April, see next Quarterly.

Susquehanna Co., week of Oct. 13th.

Schuylkill Co., week of Oct. 13th

Dauphin Co., week of Oct. 13th.

Wayne Co., week of Nov. 10th.

Mifflin Co., week of Nov. 24th.

Snyder Co., week of Dec. 1st.

Lycoming Co., week of Dec. 15th.

Wyoming Co., week of Nov. 17th.

Northumberland Co., week of Dec. 15th.

Union Co., week of Dec. 15th.

Montour Co., week of Dec. 15th.

Carbon Co., week of Oct. 20th.

New York and vicinity date to be determined.

LOOKING FORWARD.

Nineteen-twenty commencement must be the biggest and best in the history of the school. Fifty classes to help make it so; surely it will be.

Let the officers and members of the following classes remember that they are to be the honored guests of the school, '70, '75, '80, '85, '90, '95, '00, '05, '10, '15, and '18.

Commencement will be early this year. Cancel all other engagements for June 8th and 9th and make Bloomsburg the Mecca of the month. Stir up your class-mates and keep the event in mind as a red letter date.

ALUMNI.

BRIDES — TO SAY NOTHING OF THE GROOMS.

'06. Frank L. Klase and Miss Mary Butt, well known Benton couple, were married Sept. 4, at the Methodist parsonage with the Rev. Dr. A. Lawrence Miller officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. John F. Watson, the latter a sister of the groom.

Mr. Klase for a number of years has been Bloomsburg and Sullivan station agent at Benton while his bride was a former teacher in the Benton public schools. They will reside at Benton.

'19. When the presentations were made on Senior Class Night at the Bloomsburg State Normal School, those in charge of that part of the program didn't realize that one of their class was a bride, or they would never have overlooked the fact.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Linville, of town. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Shuman, of Catawissa. He was a member of the graduating class of Wyoming Seminary in 1917.

The young couple left for Pittsburg that evening on a postponed wedding trip, returning to Catawissa about July 15th, after which they will be at home on Shuman street. The groom will assist his father in the management of the Catawissa Water Company.

'16-'17. Ivan R. Schlauch and Ruth Irene Bower were married at 8:30 p. m., in the Augsburg Lutheran church at Harrisburg by the Rev. A. M. Stannetts, D. D.

The bride and groom are well known young people of Berwick, and both are graduates of the West Berwick high school and of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

The groom is employed by the U. S. government as production clerk under Capt. R. G. Nichols. The bride for two years has been an efficient teacher in the Berwick schools. After a brief stay in Harrisburg they will spend their honeymoon in the Poconos.

Mr. and Mrs. Schlauch will reside in Berwick.

'13-'06. In the presence of only the immediate families the wedding of Miss Helen Karns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Karns, of Benton, and Carrol D. Champlin, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Champlin, of Towanda, was solemnized yesterday at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride last year graduated from Bryn Mawr and also holds diplomas from the Benton High School, the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and the groom who is a former Bloomsburg boy, is a graduate of the Normal School and of Haverford college. For several years he was principal of the Benton high school but is now on the faculty at the University of Pittsburgh.

'03. Miss Lucy C. Baldy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Baldy became the bride at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the home of her parents, of Gary Rody, of Hazleton. The bride and groom left on an extended wedding trip to New York City.

Upon their return they will reside at Hazleton, where the groom is supervisor of manual training of the Hazleton schools. The bride, one of Catawissa's most highly esteemed young ladies, has for some years been a teacher in the Hazleton schools.

'13 Announcement of a wedding that will come as a surprise to the many friends of the groom was that at York, March 10, of Miss Ruth Naomi Keffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard U. Keffer, of York, to Lieutenant James Kerchner Wagenseller, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagenseller, of town.

Lieutenant Wagenseller is a graduate of Bloomsburg High, Bloomsburg State Normal School and Jefferson Medical College and was an interne in a Pittsburgh Hospital before entering service. He is one of Bloomsburg's best known young men.

'17. At the Reformed parsonage Orangeville, Pa., yesterday afternoon, by Rev. A. M. Schaffner, Samuel Dayton Beishline and Miss Maude Wenner, both of Fishingcreek township, were united in marriage. These young people are well and favorably known in church educational and social life. The groom is the son of Nathan Beishline, a graduate of the Bloomsburg Normal School and for the last two years has been the successful teacher of the Fishingcreek township high school.

'19. Miss Cora Naomi Faust, daughter of Harry Faust, of town, and Arthur E. Hoffman, son of Mrs. Reuben Hoffman, of Glen Lyon, were married Saturday evening at the Lutheran parsonage at Nanticoke by Rev. J. J. Neudoerfer. The ring ceremony was used.

Mr. Hoffman is a very highly esteemed young man, of Glen Lyon, being very well known in town where he graduated from the B. S. N. S. in the class of 1919. Miss Faust is a highly esteemed young lady of town. They will go to housekeeping in Glen Lyon where Mr. Hoffman will be engaged in teaching.

'09. A former well known Bloomsburg boy and now of Passaic, New Jersey, took a Passaic girl as his bride, last Thursday, according to word that has just been received by town relatives and friends, when LeRoy White, son of W. L. White, of town, took as his bride Miss Wilhelmine Myer. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Myer, Passaic, New Jersey. The groom is a graduate of the Bloomsburg High School, Bloomsburg State Normal and of State College and for some time has been employed in a rubber plant at Passaic, where Miss Myer was employed as stenographer in the office of the same plant. Their furnished home awaits them upon their return from their wedding trip.

'18. Miss Martha E. O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. O'Brien, of Benton, was married to Irvin F. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thomas, of Forks, yesterday afternoon at the Reformed parsonage by the Rev. P. H. Hoover. The beautiful ring ceremony was used.

The bride is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal School and the groom is employed at the A. C. & F. plant at Berwick.

'12. Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock a quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Davis when their daughter, Harriet Eleanor, became the bride of James Davidson.

Mrs. Davidson, who is a graduate of the Central High school and the Bloomsburg Normal school, has since her graduation been a teacher in the eighth grade of the Lincoln school. Mr. Davidson who is very well known, is employed as assistant mine foreman by the Hudson Coal Company at Leggett's Creek Colliery.

They will be at home after July 16, at 2217 Capouse avenue.

'06. As a surprise to her many friends will come the announcement of the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Stiner, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Stiner, of N. Iron street, to Henry Middledorf, of Elizabeth, N. J., which took place on Wednesday last in the Grace Episcopal church, in Elizabeth.

The bride is well known in town being a graduate of the high school and also of the Normal school. For the past eleven years she has been teaching in Chrome, N. J. The groom is a young business man, of Elizabeth.

'13. Fay Daley, of Erie, formerly a teacher in the manual training department of the city schools and Miss Messina Patterson, of Peace street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson, were married at 8:30 this morning at St. Paul's M. E. church, of Hazleton.

Ellsworth Miller and Miss Margaret Simmons were the attendants. The bride is a graduate of the Hazleton High School and of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. For the past several years she was a teacher at the Locust street building. The groom is a graduate of the Edinboro State Normal School and at present is a first sergeant in the medical department of the army, stationed at U. S. General Hospital No. 6, Fort McPherson, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Daley will reside at Wilkinsburg, Pa., where Mr. Daley has been elected a teacher in the public schools.

'13. Beneath a canopy of peonies spruce and palms on the lawn at the home of the bride's mother in Frosty Valley, Kenneth Mausteller of Dutch Hill, and Miss Renna Pearl Crossley, of Frosty Valley, were married at noon yesterday in a June wedding of exceptional beauty. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John White and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mausteller of Dutch Hill.

'16. As a surprise to her many friends in Bloomsburg and throughout the county will come the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Wagenseller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wagenseller, of East Main street, to Harry Louis Runge, of Boston, Mass. The ceremony was performed Thursday, July 3. They will reside in Boston, where the groom holds a responsible position.

Back from France where he served throughout the war, is Leroy Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benson Anderson, formerly residents of Market street, and now of Sweet Valley, and with him is his pretty French bride. The couple are now spending several days with his brother at Forty Fort.

The young man is extremely well known in town, and is a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School. He was a member of the first contingent of men to leave this district under the selective service act and served with the 35th engineers for some months, participating in the fighting during the closing months of the war.

'17. With the groom attired in his soldier's uniform and the best man wearing his ensign's uniform, there was a decided military touch in the wedding yesterday morning of Miss Hester Pearl Faus and Sergt. Wilbur T. Fogle, of Larue, Ohio, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faus, on East First street.

'12. Another of the many romances of the Bloomsburg State Normal School was consummated in the First Baptist church, Bloomsburg, at nine o'clock yesterday when, in a wedding that was beautiful in its simplicity, Miss Ruth Nuss, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Nuss, of Bloomsburg, became the bride of Howard F. Fenstemaker, son of George Fenstemaker, of Fifth street Berwick.

Both bride and groom are graduates of the class of 1912 of the Normal School. They will reside in Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.

'16. As a complete surprise to their many friends in Bloomsburg and throughout the entire county comes the announcement of the marriage at 6 o'clock last night of Miss Elsie R. Hagenbuch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hagenbuch, of West Main street, and Irvin A. Robison, son of Mrs. J. B. Robison, of West and Third streets.

Mr. Robison was only recently discharged from the service. He was first sergeant in the 584th ambulance section and spent 18 months overseas.

In the St. James Reformed church, Allentown, at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with the bride's pastor, Rev. Joseph S. Peters, officiating, there was solemnized the marriage of Miss Esther Meitzler, daughter of Mrs. V. C. Meitzler, of Allentown, to James T. Goodwin, of Bloomsburg.

The bride and groom are now at Ocean Grove, New Jersey, on a wedding trip and upon their return will reside at the Normal.

The bride has been the very successful art teacher at the Bloomsburg State Normal School, and has won many friends during her residence there. The groom has been for the last seventeen years the very successful head of the Commercial department of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

'14. Beautiful in its simplicity was the wedding which united Howard N. Gunther and Ethel Pearl Hughes, at the Reformed parsonage, at Orangeville.

The bride is the daughter of Charles Hughes, of Locust township, is a graduate of Locust township high school, also of B. S. N. S., 1914, and for several years has been assistant principal in Locust township high school.

The groom has just recently returned from over seas and resumed his duties at the Catawissa garage.

'11. Pearl M. Green is now Mrs. Denton E. Brome. The wedding took place Sept. 7th, 1919, and the young couple are now at home at the U. S. Powder Depot, Dover, New Jersey.

'14. In the presence of only the immediate families and the intimate friends of the bride and groom, Miss Pauline Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Hyde, of West Fourth street, became the bride at six o'clock Saturday evening of O. E. Decker, of Philadelphia, in a pretty home ceremony.

Mr. Decker is a graduate of the Lansdowne high school and is now superintendent of the Paul S. Reeves Brass Foundry at Philadelphia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Decker.

'14. In the Zion Lutheran church at Harrisburg, Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, there took place the marriage of Miss Bessie Lebo, of Shamokin, a graduate of the Bloomsburg State Normal School, a former teacher in the Berwick and Shamokin schools, to Henry F. Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Vincent, of Danville. The newly wedded couple will make their home in Danville, where the groom is associated with his father in the milk and grocery business.

'16. The announcement of the wedding of Miss Esther Pegg, of Scranton, formerly of town, on July 20 last to Theodore Shaffer, of Berwick, will come as a surprise to her many friends here. The wedding was solemnized in Scranton with the Rev. O'Donnell, pastor of the United Evangelical church officiating.

It was not until Sunday night that the nuptials were announced by the groom prior to his departure for Sunbury where he has accepted a position. They expect to make their home in Sunbury in the near future.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Pegg. She is a graduate of the Normal school, class of 1916. Following her graduation she taught at Berwick for one term. The groom is one of Berwick's best known young men and a son of the late Rev. T. B. Shaffer, a pastor of the Christian church. He is a returned overseas soldier.

Bradbury, Fred, rupturing a blood vessel in his brain during a fit of sneezing, Fred Bradbury, a former resident of Espy, and a well known Bloomsburg Normal athlete of several years ago, died Sunday at his home in Boston where he had been located for the past year. The sneezing was caused by a severe attack of hay fever.

Mr. Bradbury was aged about 30 years and leaves to survive him a bride of only a year. He enjoyed a very wide acquaintance throughout this section having been a star on the Normal foot ball, base ball and basket ball teams. He attended Normal about seven years ago and graduated in the commercial course.

'86. White, Charles E., died at his home in Wood Co., Ohio, August 22nd. His death followed a lengthy illness with heart disease. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. White and formerly lived near Orangeville. His wife who survives him was Miss Lucetta Moyer, '86, daughter of Mrs. Albert Moyer of Bloomsburg. Mr. White taught school for some years after going to Ohio, but failing health caused him to seek out-door employment and for some years he has been engaged in farming. He was a leader in church and community welfare work in the section where he resided.

'10. Fausel, H. J. is now a full fledged M. D. He is a graduate of Temple College, Phila., of the University of Penn. Physical Education Department and has taken his medical course in Chicago. He is now the Physical Director at the Northern Normal and Industrial School, Aberdeen, South Dakota.

'18. McDonnell, Mary E. says she has fallen heir to the school formerly taught by Martha Andres Annie Reaser, Ruth Mausteller and Mabel Sheets. What better recommendation can you find for Bloomsburg girls than that? The school is located near Millville, New Jersey.

'05. Farnsworth, Wm. J. and Miss Bessie DeHaas were recently married and will reside in Milton, Pa.

'13. Ensign Bernard J. Keiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kelley, of Wyoming avenue, Exeter, graduated last week from the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis. He stands well up in his class which numbers about 470 members, the largest class ever graduated from Annapolis.

After completing his course at St. Cecelia's high school at an early age he entered Bloomsburg Normal School from which he graduated two years later. He taught school in Exeter Borough for two terms, pursuing an evening course of the Wharton School of Accounts and Finance.

His appointment to the Naval Academy in 1916, by Congressman John J. Casey came as the result of a competitive examination. He has been assigned to duty aboard the U. S. S. New Mexico, the flagship of Vice-Admiral Wilson.

'17. Hodgson, Ruth taught a grade school in Porto Rico last year. This year she will teach English in the high school at Fajardo, Porto Rico.

'19. Doyle, Ruth is assistant principal and teacher of English and History in the high school at Matamoras, Pa.

'94. Sutliff, Fred, M. D. has added a fifty-five acre farm to his possession. During the summer the doctor finds time to run out to the farm between office hours to visit his family. They enjoy the country life so thoroughly that only the approach of winter will bring them back to stay at 1901 Cayuga street where the doctor has his Philadelphia home and office.

Morrill, Dorothy is spending her second year at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.

Ritchie, Ella C. whom many will recall as our very efficient librarian for eight years, is now located in Washington, D. C. and expects to continue working for Uncle Sam for some time.

Horblit, Sarah has resigned her position here after six years of very efficient service and has opened a studio at 30 Washington Avenue, Boston, Mass. The Quarterly extends its best wishes for a very successful career to Miss Horblit.

'18. Monahan, Rose has begun her work as teacher of the eighth grade in Port Allegheny and is very much pleased with her position.

'18—Martin, Alice C. is now teaching in the town of Woodbury, N. J.

Fiester, Zella P. is teaching Drawing and Physical Training in the schools of Pensauken township, Camden Co., N. J.

'16—Benson, Allen is rapidly recovering from a nervous breakdown due to the strenuous army experience through which he has passed. He is now principal of the high school at Saltillo, Pa.

'13—Born, May 20th, 1919 to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McLaughlin, a son. Mrs. McLaughlin will be remembered as Esther Knaefer, of Plymouth.

'16—Ford, Bernard, of Nanticoke, Pa., was graduated last June from the University of Pennsylvania with the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery.

'11—Dr. James A. Corrigan, 1911, and Mrs. Corrigan (Anna Monahan, 1910) are entertaining and being entertained by a young lady named Mary who arrived at their home June 25, 1919. Dr. Corrigan may be found at 336, West Broad St., Hazleton, Pa.

'13—Gleason, Nellie; born to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. White, of Olyphant R. D. 1, a son, Christy Gleason on August 1st.

'13—Sheard, Nellie and Bessie Kimble, '14, are employed at Washington. They recently spent a fifteen day vacation at their homes in Honesdale.

'17—Mr. Hugh E. Boyle is principal of the Andenried schools and says that he is enjoying the work. Like many of our other boys Hugh stepped from the army into the school room.

'17—Ramage, Russel, Allentown, did the proper thing by holding the position of supervisor of Manual Training open for our friend Russell until he was ready to doff Uncle Sam's uniform and take up his work where he had left it when the call to arms came. He and Coach Weimer will no doubt have many a pleasant hour talking over "Bloomsburg days."

'13—Kuster, Kimber C., is now Dean of the Normal and Industrial School at Morristown, Tennessee. More than three hundred pupils are enrolled. He says the school is doing a splendid service for the colored race and for the Nation. The standard of work ranks with that of our first class high schools in the North.

'91—Williams, Mary B. has had a varied and interesting experience in teaching in Penna., New York, Idaho, Porto Rico, and is now teaching in Pleasantville, New Jersey. She believes however that a call to come back to Pennsylvania would not fall upon deaf ears.

'03—Berkensstock, F. A., is now supervisory principal of the Renova schools.

'16—Drinker, Dorothy (Porter) found time while her husband was in France to teach her second year and thus secure her State Diploma. She was located at Moylan, Pa.

Smith, Roxie H. is still teaching in the Nutmeg State. While she likes Connecticut she still looks to Pennsylvania as "the" state.

'19—Evans, Mildred E. has accepted a position in the schools of Northumberland.

'19—Ferguson, Eva H. is teaching in Merchantville, N. J.

'18—Andres, Helen is another Bloomsburg girl who listened to the call from New Jersey and is now located at Midvale in that state.

'18—Edwards, Vida can be found teaching at Succasunna, New Jersey.

'19—McDonnell, Sadie is teaching in Merchantville, New Jersey.

'14—Keller, Russell D. has been for the past two years employed in the Military Intelligence Branch of the War Department at Washington, D. C. He is attending evening classes at the George Washington University, studying law.

Wood, Anna J. is teaching at Caldwell, N. J. She is also working for a degree in the New York University.

Prof. A. E. Kegerreis has been mustered out of the service after spending his last year in France at the University of Aix Marseilles. He has been elected to a position, and is now teaching in the California Normal School Pennsylvania.

'17—Jones, Freda E. is now in charge of the commercial department of the Edwardsville High School.

'12—Womeldorf, Paul D. has taken up his work as supervisory principal of the Port Alleghany Schools. He has secured several Bloomsburg graduates for his schools.

'96—Quick, Eleanor L. is principal of the high school at Gallup, N. M. She has a faculty of six other teachers whose work is under her supervision.

'15—Reynolds, Helen while teaching in the Forest City schools succumbed to an attack of influenza. She died on her 23rd birthday, Oct. 14, 1918.

'16—Atterbury, Florence Kline on November 19, 1918, a daughter, Adah Gael, was born.

'12—Weaver, Eva is now principal of the Fairview high school. All of the teachers in the town are Bloomsburg graduates; Edith Wardlaw, '14, being the assistant in the high school; Abbie Whitebread '12, seventh and eight grades; Margaret Zearfoss '15, fifth and sixth grades; Dunlap '17, third and fourth, and Elsie Thomas '15, the first and second grades.

'09—Captain Kenneth C. Ikeler, of Ames, Iowa, arrived in town last night to spend the evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ikeler, of East Fourth street. He leaves this morning to visit his sister in Towanda, where he will be joined by his wife, who, during his services overseas has studied music at the University of Nebraska.

'99—Dr. Joseph P. Echternach announces his removal to Suite 1207-1208 Medical Arts Building, Walnut street, Philadelphia. The mere mention of his location places the stamp of high attainment in his profession upon our friend "Joe".

'10—Miss Sara Bond, of near Harvey's Lake, a graduate of the class of '10 at the Normal, is spending several days at the Kirk Side farm, at Cabin Hun. Miss Bond expects to leave in a few days for the state of Washington where she will teach. For five years she was a teacher in Washington but came east a year ago and last term taught in Scranton.

'08—Dr. James R. Montgomery, Jr., the first Columbia county physician to get under shell fire, and who saw more of the war than any physician in this section of the state—he was brigaded with the British during their retreat of last Spring—was yesterday named as county medical officer, and takes charge of the work at once.

'00—J. B. Reighard and wife, of Wichita Falls, Tex., spent a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. Tillie Reighard, of Light Street. Mr. Reighard—better known as "Jo'nnie" was a former Normal base ball and basket ball player, is now located in Texas, having the agency for the Dalton Adding Machine Firm, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

'17—A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo MacNamee of town. Mrs. MacNamee was formerly Miss Katherine Row, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Row.

'98—At the meeting of the board of directors of Plymouth National Bank, William H. Hayward, teller, was elected cashier Mr. Hayward is a graduate of Bloomsburg Normal School, following which he taught school serving as principal of Franklin street building for ten years. He resigned in 1910 to accept a position in the bank and worked his way to the front.

'09—Samuel J. Steiner, a former Bloomsburg boy, with his family will spend a year in the state of Washington. For the past two years Mr. Steiner has been principal of the Peckville High School, teaching commercial branches and Spanish. He expects to return to same position in September, 1920. During his stay in Washington he will attend the University of Washington.

'11—Dr. Jay Brobst, who recently returned to Bloomsburg after spending several years in the service and who spent about a year on the west front, resumed his practice in Bloomsburg and has opened his office in the Dentler building.

ATHLETICS.

The return of peace has brought more boys, more interest in athletics and renewed hope for some of the old-time success in sports.

A new coach has taken hold of the work and has created a very favorable impression.

The first game of the season was won by our boys by a score of 13-0. The opponents were a husky lot of boys from Centralia and put up a very good game.

The second game was at Bucknell University. The Normal School boys found themselves on the losing end of a 45-0 score. Bucknell used thirty men in the game and every man was fighting for a place on the varsity team. Our boys played well, took a lot of punishment like men and acquitted themselves with credit. The line-up for the first game with Centralia follows:

Centralia.	Normal
Stutz	L. E. Strange
Rooney	L. T. Anthony
Kean	L. G. Kahler
Dormer	C. Davies
McGinley	R. G. Reichard
O'Brein	R. T. Dormac
Leachgo	R. E. Sweetwood
Ruchnar	Q. B. Sweeney
Chapman	L. H. B. Hess
Rarrell	R. H. B. Fish
McDonald	F. B. Schell

Touchdowns, Sweeney 2. Substitutions—Anthony for Reichard; Cuff for Chapman. Time of quarters—8 and 10 minutes. Referee, McCrea. Umpire, Herbine.

1919 Schedule.

- Oct 4—Centralia Ex-High, home.
 Oct. 11—Bucknell University, Lewisburg.
 Oct. 18—Plymouth A. C., home.
 Oct 25—Dickinson Sem., home.
 Nov. 1—Shippensburg S. N. S., Shippensburg.
 Nov 8—Millersville S. N. S., home.
 Nov. 15—Wyo. Sem. at Kingston.

The Young Women's Christian Association.

Normal School life is a busy life as every student of B. S. N. S. can testify. Fun and frolics hold their own and, together with the common interests of the class room, help very materially in preserving the friendly atmosphere that exists among the students.

But, far and above all this, there is something that binds us together—something deeper, something quieter something infinitely more compelling in its power and influence. It goes hand in hand with the spirit of helpfulness and Love of Service. It enters lives and makes them purer, broader, more splendid. It is the Christ Spirit—and because it has entered hearts here at school, we have our Y. W. C. A. organization.

This year the members of our cabinet are: Ethlyn Gamble, president; Helen White, vice president; Marion Agnew, secretary; Evalyn Wagner, treasurer; Clara Santee, chairman of Devotional committee; Gertrude Martin, chairman of Bible Study Committee; Hilda Wendell, chairman of Information committee; Mrs Miller, chairman of Missionary committee; Alice Cocklin, chairman of music committee; Miss Hinckley chairman of Social Service committee; Margaret Ferree, chairman of Social committee.

On Saturday evening September twentieth the annual Y. M. and Y. W. reception was given to the new students.

Sunday evening the Eagles Mere delegation gave their report which was enjoyed by all.

Since school opened our membership has been steadily growing, due to the energetic work of our membership committee.

It is earnestly hoped that another year will find still more of a general interest in the Association, and that, in all the school, there will be no passive listeners, only active workers, for the glory of the "Name that is above every name."

Y. M. C. A.

The Association began its work this year with Lawrence Keefer, president; Karl Berger, vice president; Robert Anthony, secretary, and the office of treasure unfilled as it is at present.

A large number of young men have been enrolled, and more are still being added. There are indications that there will be more members than last year.

A reception was held jointly by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. for the incoming students. This was a success. Everybody had a good time.

Meetings are poorly attended, owing to the fact that students are allowed to go down town when meetings are held.

At the close of last spring term six young men attended a conference at Blairstown, N. J. It was one of the aims of the Association during the past year to have a number of delegates present at that place the results of which we hope to reap in the future.

PHILO.

The first meeting of the Philo. for 1920 school year was held in Philo. Hall, Sept. 6, 1919, with Mr. Bednarch, presiding.

The fact that Philo. is still progressing holds true since over one hundred and twenty-five members were initiated the first evening. About one hundred and fifty were present to conduct a very good business program. Our treasurer's report shows nearly $200 in the treasury.

On Sept. 13, 1919, a reception was held by the society in honor of its new members. Regular business was completed and a short program rendered, after which a very sociable evening was spent by all present. Refreshments were served.

At present the Public Program Committee is zealously striving to present a Public Program, Saturday, Oct. 11, 1919. This promises to be a big event; one that will surpass those of previous years.

The Philo. annual reunion will take place Saturday, November 29, 1919. Dancing and social activities will be indulged in during the afternoon, and as usual refreshments will be served; while in the evening a modern play will be presented by a carefully selected cast.

Philo. has not only improved in as far as membership is concerned, but also in respect to faithful and vigorous workers.

We make a special request of our Alumni to join with us November the 29th, and make this reunion one that will be remembered by us all.

CALLIE.

The Calliepian Literary Society convened in Callie Hall at 7:00 P. M., September 6, 1919 with Mr. Karl Berger presiding.

The usual form of admitting new members and initiating them was duly executed and carried on by the person in charge of the initiation. The invincible spirit of Callie moved her members to action and the result can be readily realized by the number of new members admitted.

Realizing that "Custom is Law," a reception was given in honor of Callie's new members on the evening of September 16, 1919. However, this was not Callie's real spirit for all the old members wished to show their fellowship toward the new Calliepians, and this means was the only way of showing their prompt realization of the spirit of the newly elected Calliepians. An enjoyable evening was spent, the goal and purpose of the Society having been attained.

The private program committee assisted by our mentor, Prof. Bakeless, has arranged some very excellent programs that are being carried out by the members of Callie.

Ours is truly a Literary Society, for with patience our mentor has succeeded in getting the services of every Calliepian in respect to contributing to the Society Journal.

The prospects for Callie are indeed very brilliant and it is the sincere wish of every Calliepian that Callie may exist in the future as a guide for every Bloomsburg student interested in Literary accomplishments.

Changes in the Membership of the Faculty

Miss McBride, a graduate of the most famous Normal School in the State of New York, (Oswego), after an extended experience as a teacher, came to us in 1912 from the Shippensburg, Pa., State Normal School with a very high reputation. She here held the position of teacher of methods, Critic and Model School teacher, until the position of Preceptress became vacant to which she was elected by the Board of Trustees. In this position her fidelity, her ideals of womanhood and sympathetic interest in girls were of greatest service. In her retirement from the school she bears with her cordial good wishes from her co-workers and the love of many of her students.

About a decade since, the Trustees reorganized the Model School under four teachers. The H. C. L., the war and the pestilence last year necessitated retrenchment, in the process of which the work of Miss Edith Maize was transferred to the remaining teachers. In her withdrawal the school has lost the services of a critic teacher whose extended experience and professional ability are of great worth as the letters of many of her students testify.

Miss Adele E. McQuiston has the spirit of the true librarian. She devotes her energies to the library as her chosen field, and endeavors to awaken the students to an appreciation of the riches hidden there, as well as of the volumes specially related to their studies. The charm of her personality contributes much to her success. The University of Illinois, however, discovered her. She has accepted a more attractive position there.

Miss Emily Robison, a member of one of the old and highly respected families of Bloomsburg, a graduate of the class of 1904, who is also a graduate of Temple University and of the Library School of the University of Illinois, has been elected Miss McQuiston's successor. Miss Robison has been engaged as a trained librarian in a number of well known libraries, among which are those of New Castle, Pa., Temple University, Philadelphia, and the New York Times.

Readers of the catalog may not immediately recognize the fact that while our department of drawing is in charge of a lady bearing a different name it has not changed hands. Professor J. T. Goodwin is responsible for the illusion.

Altho we were resting in the comfortable assurance that Physical Director John W. Weimer would continue to be in charge of his department, and he himself was expecting to return, the citizens of Allentown determined to secure him for their High School, and being one of the richest cities in our commonwealth, they held out such inducements that a State Normal School could not compete with them. The game was theirs.

Our new Director is Mr. T. W. Pownall, a graduate of Ursinus College, who would be recognized by all friends of the Susquehanna League as the incomparable sprinter, and unvarying gentleman, if he were spoken of as Billy, the name given by his innumerable admirers. Since those days he has been overseas in service of his country.

His wife, Mrs. T. W. Pownall, a trained nurse who held a high position in the Atlantic City hospital consented to accept the position here vacated by Mrs. Holmes, whose work had been under the observation of the physicians practicing in the school. The natural result to Mrs. Holmes was a unanimous and irresistible call by them to the Bloomsburg Hospital.

Miss Mitchell who has conducted the Department of Domestic Science and Domestic Art with great success during seven years, having decided to enter upon another profession, the Board of Trustees secured the services of Miss Gertrude Cruttenden of Scranton, a graduate of the Technical High School of that city, and of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. Besides teaching in Philadelphia, Miss Cruttenden for two years had charge of the Domestic Art department of the Ariel Vocational School.

Miss Katharine Knedler, a student in Goucher College accepted an invitation from the school to assist in the teaching of French, particularly, tho she also taught English, with the understanding that she had yet a year before her in college. She was highly commended as an instructor. Her successor, Miss Christine E. Carter, was graduated from the Mansfield, Pa., State Normal School at the top of her class, and subsequently from Lebanon Valley College. She has had a varied and successful career as a teacher.

Miss Charlotte Butler was re-elected to the department of Reading and Public Speaking but resigned to enter upon a very attractive enterprise. Her successor, Miss Edith M. Perry, is a graduate of the Delaware, Ohio, High School, of Ohio Wesleyan University, and of the Department of Oratory in that University, and was for two years a teacher in that institution.

Miss Horblit, to the regret of those here interested in the Science, History and Art of Music, resigned to enter upon work mentioned elsewhere in this issue. Miss Helen M. Stackhouse consented to accept the vacated position in Piano Forte and Theory. Miss Stackhouse is a graduate of Dickinson Seminary, and Peabody Institute. While a student in Peabody Miss Stackhouse taught in the Elementary Department. Following her graduation she taught in Dickinson Seminary.

School life was constantly manifesting the energy, enthusiasm and cordial helpfulness of Miss Mabel Rich during her tenure of the position of teacher in Voice and Public School music. She was discovered by the Victor Machine Co., who placed a tempting offer before her that she could not decline. Miss Ruth Lowman Myers succeeds her. Miss Myers is a graduate of Ithaca Conservatory in Voice and Public School Music. She also studied music under Eric Dudley of Ithaca. She taught Voice for two years in Ithaca Conservatory, and taught Voice and Public School Music three and a half years at Winthrop Normal and Industrial College, Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Could the alumni and other former students be consulted they would recognize the loss sustained by the school in the withdrawal of those to whom many of them owe much in the formation of their characters thru personal friendship, thru valuable instruction and in some cases, even thru discipline. The school, by this agency, the QUARTERLY, expresses high appreciation of them and of their valuable services, and extends most cordial wishes for the success and happiness of each.

The banquet of the Luzerne County Alumni will be held at the Sterling Hotel, October 30th at 6:30 P. M. Dancing in the hotel ballroom will begin at 8:30. Harris' orchestra will play for the banquet and dancing

OPEN LETTER

To the Alumni Association of the Bloomsburg State Normal School.

The graduation of the Class of 1920 will mark your Alma Mater's fiftieth anniversary. This Commencement will therefore be her semi-centennial. It is the conviction of a number of her alumni that on this occasion something unique in the career of the school should be done, something that will in a measure show to the world the loyalty and faith of the former students of this institution in her work, and set an ideal toward which her teachers of the future may aspire. The past of the school is secure. The future we would have pledged to the wisest and best in education.

It is proposed to place in the two large arches and the space about the central doorway forming the main entrance to the Boys' Dormitory and Library Building, a group of Tiffany windows of exquisite color and design, with the subject and legend, "TRUTH AND VIRTUE."

It is the purpose of the committee to make this project an alumni gift to the school, commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary and a suggestion of the aesthetic, spiritual, and intellectual ideals towards which her pupils will ever work. B. S. N. S. has stood persistently for the best and finest things. This was the deep and abiding purpose of her founders. Her alumni would perpetuate her ideals as nearly as can be in beauty of color and form, a constant reminder to the boys and girls who in the future will throng her halls, of the wonderful possibilities of life.

An executive Committee has been formed, the work organized by classes, and plans will be sent to each class and to each individual member. WHERE ALL JOIN IN JOYOUS LOYALTY TO DO FOR THE SCHOOL WHICH HAS DONE SO MUCH FOR EACH, THE PRIVILEGE WILL BE GREAT: THE TASK EASY. AND THE WORK OF ART WILL STAND A MONUMENT OF REFINING AND SUBTLE INFLUENCES UPLIFTING AND STIMULATING GENERATIONS OF STUDENTS YET TO COME.

We know that YOU are with us. All who have seen the designs are enthusiastic over them and the project. Effort on your part will make sure the fulfillment of the plans. Report your contribution at once to Professor F. H. Jenkins, Treasurer of the Fund, and to your class treasurer. The contract has been placed in order that the memorial gift may be ready for unveiling Commencement Day of 1920, at which time we trust all our boys and girls will troop back in honor of the occasion to pay their respects to the school that has unselfishly done her part toward making their lives useful and efficient. Report promptly. Don't wait. A year is a short time to do well a work of this magnitude.

Respectfully,
EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,

In addition to the above Executive Committee, a committee of one from each class has been appointed to guide the work of the classes. This makes a committee of one hundred having the work in charge. Enthusiasm and effort that characterize everything our people do, will stamp success on this movement, and make our FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION an event to be remembered for a hundred years. FALL IN LINE.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL MEMORIAL PLEDGE OF B. S. N. S. ALUMNI 1870-1920.

In consideration of the undertaking of the Alumni of the B. S. N. S. to place as a semi-centennial memorial a series of Tiffany windows, legend "Truth and Virtue," cost $3,500, and a suitable hallway setting for the same in the Boys' Dormitory and Library Building, at a cost of $1,000, as a fitting Alumni offering in commemoration of the fifty years of efficient service of the school, and

In consideration of my interest in, and love for my Alma Mater, I, the undersigned, pledge and promise to pay toward said memorial, the sum of $....., to be paid as follows: one half by November 1st, 1919, and one half by May 1st, 1920.

Entire subscription may be paid by November 1st, when first payment on the windows is due. The memorial must be in place for unveiling Commencement, June 1920, and paid for when placed.

THE OUTLOOK

After a most severe winter, spring is a welcome visitor. Busy days are ahead for both students and teachers.

With Commencement early this year, the preparation for the annual visit of the State Board and for the Fiftieth Anniversary must be pushed vigorously. On June fifth the unveiling of the memorial to Prof. Noetling and the dedication of the beautiful windows at the entrance to the Boys' Dormitory will be followed by the annual game of base ball with Wyoming Seminary on Normal Field.

After Commencement on June 9th, ten days of housecleaning and preparation for the Summer School will follow. June twenty-first is the date for the opening of the Summer School. Prospects are promising for a large enrollment.

July 31st will bring the close of the session and then August for vacation for some, and for others, days of planning for putting into successful operation the new Teacher's Course of Study.

A NEW COURSE OF STUDY

The State Normal Schools of Pennsylvania have adopted a radically new course of study which will go into effect in September next. It is divided into four semesters, named First, Second, Third and Fourth, and is open to graduates of high schools of the first grade and to those who can present an equivalent of work.

All branches will be taught from the pedagogical point of view, strictly, and students found to be insufficiently acquainted with the academic side of the subject will be required to prepare more thoroly before being permitted to be on the roll of those in the regular course.

All students will be divided into four groups by the end of the first semester. Group one will include those preferring to teach in schools of the grade I, II, or III.

Group two will include those aiming to teach in grades IV, V, and VI.

Group three will include those aiming to teach in grades VII, VIII, and IX which will constitute the Junior High School.

Group four will include those aiming to teach in rural schools.

The training in all branches will be specifically adapted to each group and the State Normal Certificate will indicate the group in which the holder has been trained.

This certificate will, however, continue to be a license to teach in any grade. It will help directors and superintendents to know for what grades the candidate has been especially trained.

Thus each recitation will be a recitation in Methods rather than in subject matter, but a clear knowledge of the subject matter will be a pre-requisite to success in recitation.

The course will be set forth in detail in the forth coming catalog.

It is confidently expected that this course of study taken in connection with the marked increase in salaries will attract a much larger attendance, particularly of young men, and that the effect upon the public schools will place them among the best in the Union.

Graduates entitled to receive diplomas this year should send their applications here, to the school, early, as all diplomas will be filled out at the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. Be sure to have your name given as you want it upon the diploma, and to have mentioned any extra branches to which you may be entitled. As there will be more than two thousand issued to the alumni of the thirteen schools, the early applications may be considered earlier than others.

New students should make early application, as the arrangement of the schedule of recitations in the new course of study will depend upon the number entering, to a greater degree than formerly and it is important that recitations shall begin promptly. Early applicants also have some advantage in choice of rooms.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

There has never been a time when the demand for well trained office assistants and stenographers has been so great as at present. Business fairly clamors for girls of intelligence and education. The government service also opens a very attractive field of service for competent stenographers.

This demand for trained office help has stimulated interest in commercial education. Our own Commercial Department has enjoyed a splendid patronage during the last few years. Our graduates have been very successful in securing and retaining excellent positions. In the days of 1917 and 1918, when the government was in great need of help, the Department supplied its quota of stenographers and typists, and several of our graduates of 1918 still remain in the Departmental Service at Washington.

The Summer Term has been of advantage to this Department. Commercial students are graduated when they meet the requirements for graduation, and the summer term enables students to hasten the date when they may qualify.

There has been a big demand for teachers of commercial branches for high school work, and the difficulty of securing such teachers seems to be increasing rather than diminishing. This is a fine field of work, and the Summer Term gives teachers an excellent opportunity to prepare for the work of teaching stenography, typewriting, book-keeping, penmanship, etc.

Semi-centennial Memorial Fund Again

The Memorial Fund, like a snowball on a side hill, is gaining momentum and size with every move. It is daily increasing, we are delighted to report the amount in cash now is $2581.01. The half-way mark of the $4500 asked for has been passed.

If YOU have not yet sent in your subscription, we know you mean to do so. Please do it NOW, and thus make sure that the amount be raised before the day of unveiling. We want that to be a day free from care, a day of joy, reminiscence and good fellowship. We hope all will plan to be back.

The gradual but continuous growth of the fund without noisy solicitation, a free generous giving, with kindly words of appreciation and encouragement to the school has been a great inspiration to the workers, and the authorities of the school.

Following is a list of all, by classes, having sent in contributions, or subscriptions, since the inception of the movement.

Send your checks, we know you mean to do so, and we want the entire amount before June 5th.

LETTER FROM ARIZONA

Editor B. S. N. S. QUARTERLY

Dear Sir:— I have at hand two of your recent QUARTERLIES, and I have certainly enjoyed them very much and especially as I am an ex-student of 1912-1913. I have been in Arizona for the past three years.

We are situated in the heart of the Sitgrave National Forest Reserve, and 50 miles from the nearest railroad. However the West in some parts has advanced towards civilization, other parts have still retained a breath of the primitive, and this part where I am has retained that breath.

Indians are not infrequent visitors at our stores and often arrayed in all colors attainable. Their mode of life is very simple indeed, and housekeeping does not bother them in the least. Some years ago the Government built houses for them and the Indians showed their appreciation in the fact that they sheltered their horses in them and took to the open and great outdoors.

Two large Indian Reservations namely Navajo and Apache are not far from us. It is worth one's while to make a trip down there.

You follow the trails only wide enough for one horse and look down deep canyons. Wild grapes, walnuts and all kinds of vegetation grow in abundance.

In various parts of the country one can discover deserted caves of past Indians, often finding pottery and sometimes tracks of wild animals.

I certainly wish that you Easterners could enjoy this free and open life. Even our mail is carried by horse every other day and sometimes we do not receive it at all in bad weather.

Sincerely yours,

DOROTHY MAC ALPINE

PERSONALS.

'13. On July 7, 1919, occurred the marriage of Miss Arline Tidd and Mr. Milton M. Evans. They now reside at 125 Peterboro St., Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Evans has charge of the Purchasing Department of the Signal Truck Co.

'90. Miss Adda Hayman is now a member of the Senior Class at Bucknell University and will be graduated in June.

'13. Miss Lela J. Aston died at her home in Kingston, March 3, 1920. She has been a very successful teacher in the Kingston schools during the past six years, beloved alike by pupils and co-workers. She was active in church and Sunday school, being a teacher in the primary department of the Kingston Presbyterian Church.

'95. Miss Caroline Lewis recently passed away at the home of her sister on North River St., Wilkes-Barre. For six years Miss Lewis was assistant superintendent of the City Hospital and later became the first superintendent of the Nanticoke State Hospital. She has been in ill health for several years.

Mrs. Ferree, widow of the former Professor Ferre, died at the home of her son on Jan 23rd, at Paynesville, Minn. She is buried there by the side of her husband who preceded her by 24 years

'08. Prof. Thomas Francis, Supervisor of Night Schools in Scranton may well feel proud of the recent initial graduation from the Americanization school for non-English speaking students. One hundred and thirty received diplomas on March 9th.

The United States Department of Labor has been co operating with the Scranton schools in this work. Dr. S. E. Webber, Supt., arranged an elaborate program for the event. Many prominent speakers lent their aid to make the graduation a notable event in the scheme of Americanization. Ten hundred and thirty-six foreigners enrolled in the classes under the supervision of Prof. Francis.

'17. Miss Julia Kelly is now a teacher in the schools of Vineland, N. J.

'09, '12. From Shanghai, China, comes a substantial check for the Memorial windows. The sender is R. F. Wilner, M. D., '09, and his wife Alfa Stark Wilner, '12.

In 1921 their first furlough will be due and they hope to visit us at that time. They may be very sure of a cordial welcome at the Bloomsburg Normal School.

'15. Miss Hilda A. Reider died at the Geisinger Hospital on Feb. 21. She had been a successful teacher in the Treverton schools from the time of her graduation until her death.

'82. Dr. E. J. Moore spent some months during the war in England and upon the Continent representing the interests of the Anti-Saloon League. He was entertained upon one occasion by Lord and Lady Astor. Lady Astor who was recently elected to Parliament does not seem to give her unqualified support to Prohibition.

'10. Ethel Andrews was married on Nov. 22 and may now be addressed as Mrs. W. A. Rutland, 602 W. 157th St., New York City. Before her marriage she had taught at Lansford, Pa., in Brooklyn and in the Bronx Home and School for girls.

'83. F. R. Hight is now president of a bank in Hanford, California.

'91. Charles C. Major. If any of our readers can tell us of our old friend C. C. it will be greatly appreciated. Inquiry among his classmates has found no response.

'87. M. W. Kratz is now Chief Yeoman aboard the U. S. S. Poto-mac. He left the school room in Miami, Florida to enlist in the navy ten days before war was declared upon Germany.

'12. Miss Abbie Whitebread was married to Mr. Ralph Leh, last February. She was teaching at Mountain Top, Pa., before her marriage.

'08. Chas. L. Maurer is in charge of the department of Social Science and History in the Camden H. S. He is also at the head of the New Jersey Teacher's Agency.

'12. White, A. Leerea was recently married to Miss Alberta Weaver, of Montoursville. The young couple will reside in Scranton where Mr. White holds a responsible position in one of the leading furniture stores of the city.

'86. Miss Katherine McNiff, for years teacher of Latin in the Harrisburg High School, died at her home, 605 North Second street, after an illness of five days of double pneumonia.

Miss McNiff began her career as a teacher in the old Penn School in 1886. In September, 1889, she was transferred to the old Boys' High School and went to the Central High School when it was first opened in September, 1892, and continued there until the time of her death. She was the oldest teacher in the High School in point of service. Thousands of pupils passed through her classes and not only admired her for her knowledge of Latin but loved her for her gentleness of spirit, her womanly kindness to students in distress and her unfailing interest in their welfare. Hundreds of men now prominent in the affairs of the city and the State she knew and called by their first names. They were "her boys."

Miss McNiff, who was a native of Harrisburg, was the daughter of the late Patrick McNiff, a pioneer of the West End and long prominent as a contractor. She was a graduate of the Harrisburg High School, Bloomsburg State Normal School and earned her degree at Columbia University, completing her studies there in summer vacation periods. Since 1889 she has been a teacher in the High School, specializing in Latin.

'15. Dr. A. Bruce Whitesell graduated from the Uni. of Penna. in 1918. He took the course in Dentistry and is now located in Taylor, Pa., where he has already built up a large practice. His address is 122 South Main St.

'11. Sperling, Ida, recently became the bride of Herman J. Nathan of Harrisburg. The wedding ceremony was performed in Hotel Redington, Wilkes-Barre. Following the ceremony the large company of guests were entertained at dinner. The young couple will reside in Harrisburg.

'16. Brown, Mary, will be graduated from Goucher College this spring. She was elected to membership in the National Phi. Beta Kappa Society. Mary has simply fulfilled the expectations of all of her many friends by capturing one of the highest honors of her class.

'18. Anna McKeon has been teaching at Thornhurst, Lacka. Co. during the past year.

'16. Richardson, Emily. In a recent prize contest for the best poster for the Bryn Mawr College May Fete, sixty designs by various artists were submitted. Miss Richardson was second in the contest.

'10. Adams, F. R. and Chas. W. Potter wish to notify all members of the class of 1910 to be on hand for the reunion this year. The day is June 8th, but Saturday June 5th will be a big day for all who can come.

In connection with this we wish to remind the following classes that your classmates and school will be looking for you upon the campus, June 5th to 9th: '70, '75, '80, '85, '90, '95, '00, '05, '10, '15 and '18.

Base Ball

As we go to press, two games have been played. One was lost, the other won.

The game at Susquehanna University was played during a continuous rain. The score was 4-2 in favor of Susquehanna University.

For the first game the boys did about all that a good team can be expected to do with a cold rain falling. The game was remarkably free from errors.

The second game was won at home, playing the Pennsylvania R. R., Sunbury Division team. It was a close and exciting game until the eighth, when our boys began hitting the ball to all parts of the field unoccupied by an opponent. When the dust settled, twelve hits and eleven runs had been tallied.

The score:

Normal - 0 2 3 0 0 0 2 11 x-18
Penna. R. R. - 0 0 2 0 0 1 3 0 0-6
